Church Preference Reported To Be 93 Per Cent In Canvass

39 Per Cent Catholic; 33 Per Cent Protestant; 21 Per Cent Are Jewish

At least 93 out of every 100 persons in Newton have a preference for some religious faith, it is indicated from a tabulation of the figures assembled in last Sunday's city-wide religious census.

Of the 93 percent who reported a preference for some religion, 39 percent are Catholic, 33 percent Protestant and 21 percent Jewish.

Reports tabulated thus far disclose that only 2 percent of the residents of the city indicated no religious preference whatever when they were queried by the census-takers.

An army of close to 1700 volunteer workers from 22 Newton churches and four temples visited almost 19,000 homes in the city last Sunday to gather the vast amount of data now being distributed to the various churches and temples.

For the most part they were received courteously and were given the information they sought.

Reports have not yet been submitted by the census-takers on approximately 5 percent of Newton's residents which explains why the figures cited earlier in the article do not total 100 percent.

Publicity chairmen and officers of clubs and organizations, who desire advance notices in The Graphic on events their groups are to hold, should endeavor to see that they reach us not later than Monday of the week in which it is desired they be published.

Police Seek Rifle Expert Peppering Cars in Highlands

Police are seeking a phantom rifleman—probably a boy with mischief in his heart and a deadly eye when automobiles are his target. The search got under way after three motorists complained their car windows had been damaged by BB shots on Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

Edwin A. Fisher of Ridgewood avenue, Groton, reported that the front and rear windows of his car were broken when the machine was at Lakewood road near Walnut street.

Robert Cunningham of 41 Waldorf road, Newton Highlands, complained that nearly $50 damage was inflicted on glass in his car about the same time and place.

A third automobile owner, Kate Jacobs of 994 Walnut street, told police that a rear window of her car was broken by a pellet at Walnut and Hyde streets.

Tigers Retain Class A Crown By Point; Deckwith Brilliant, Pushes Thomas to Record

After a rhubarb and a stellar showing by Martin Beckwith as he forced Rindge's fabulous John Thomas to a new schoolboy high jump record, Newton High's track team, emerged with the Class A title in the annual State meet.

The crown was retained by the Tigers at Boston Garden by the margin of a single point. Depending on balance to beat off a determined bid by Rindge, Newton accumulated 23 3/5 points to 22 3/5 by Rindge. Boston English was third with 19 1/10 to the 19 even points added up by Weymouth which finished fourth.

John Thomas of Rindge sailed over the cross bar at 6 feet 5¼ inches to establish the new high jump record. He also set up another meet record by taking the hurdles with a 5.8s mark. That showing was a bit on the sensational side.

However, in the high jump competition Beckwith proved a very fine challenger for the incomparable Thomas. Marty stayed with Thomas for a long time as the bar kept moving upward. The Newton jumper went over at 6 feet 4⅝ inches which was better than the old record held by Phil Reavis.

When the bar went up to 6 feet 5¼ inches, Thomas made

Drive Safely Sign Casualty in Auto Crash; 3 Injured

"Drive safely," the sign urged.

Three persons in the automobile which struck the sign and a utility pole near 149 California street, Newton, landed at Newton Wellesley Hospital.

They were Richard Greenwood, 889 Watertown street, West Newton, who suffered injuries to the head and face; Eleanine Greenwood of the same address, whose left leg was injured; Judy Vahon, 81 Los Angeles street, Newton, who also suffered leg injuries.

Police say Greenwood was driving. A street department crew put the sign back in place.

Mystery Blasts That Shook City Still Unexplained

It wasn't an earthquake. Nor an explosion. Nor a clap of thunder. Nor did a jet plane out of Bedford's Hanscom Air Base break the sound barrier.

However, some 100,000 or more people in the Newton and in surrounding communities can't be wrong and they heard it.

For a time 'round 5:30 p.m. the other night the police switchboard was deluged with anxious or curious callers. So were the telephone facilities of police in surrounding communities. The police didn't have any answers. They were just as anxious and just as curious as the callers.

They contacted the Boston College Observatory at Weston,

Girl Scouts Challenge Elders at 40th Meeting

Nine Newton Girl Scouts, crisply uniformed, sparked their elders with new enthusiasm for the "endlessly beneficial" Scouting program, at the 40th Annual Meeting of the Newton Girl Scout Council Monday evening, January 27. The girls, represented 3,000 members of Newton's 190 troops.

A lively panel discussion, "Together We Plan," featured the girls challenging four adult leaders. Some 200 adult members of the Council attended the dinner and business meeting at the Church of Our Lady, Newtonville, despite a heavy downpour. Chairman of the conclave was Miss Adelaide Ball, former Newton alderman, with Council President Mrs. Thomas S. Derr presiding.

Among their proposals, the girls called for: a center for Scout, co-ed and Scout-parent activities; a wider community troop sponsorship, and an en-

You'll Tote Your Own Mail If Fido Nips the Carrier

By RICHARD W. DAVIS

If you own a dog—introduce him to the letter carrier who stops at your home.

Then sit down and have a heart-to-heart talk with the pet. Explain that no matter how tempting the trouser leg of a postman may be, it's verboten to the entire canine kingdom of those here United States.

Tell him that a cabinet member down in Washington is taking a dim view of the time honored custom by which some dogs just can't resist a nip now and then when the letter carrier comes sauntering down the street.

In fact, the Postmaster General is incensed over the popularity the custom has attained among the dogs of the nation. He has sent out an official order by which he hopes to put the crusher on the practice — forever.

If your pet doesn't seem to understand, put your plea on a personal basis. Tell him that just one more bite of an official postoffice leg and you'll be confronted with the task of going to the postoffice to pick up your own mail every day. That can become tiresome.

If the darling asks, "Howza 'bout meter readers — telephone

Norman E. MacCuspic, 10 Larch road, Waban, caused a stir among vacationists along the Miami, Fla., waterfront recently when he brought in a 36 pound 8 ounce dolphin from a fishing trip. Two Local Men Nabbed in T-Men Gaming Drive in Defense Plants

Robert G. Sylvester, 32, of 459 Auburn street, Auburndale, and Julius Poiselli, 30, of 45 William street, West Newton, were among six men arrested by federal agents in a bookie crackdown carried out by the U. S. Treasury Department.

With the four others taken in simultaneous raids, the two Newton men were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Peter J. Nelligan in the Federal Building in Boston charged with evading the federal wagering tax.

Sylvester and Poiselli were picked up in an Auburndale cafe.

The raids and subsequent arrests followed a long investigation by the agents. The probe was directed at illegal gambling carried out in plants of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company in Waltham and Lowell.

Fred Pastore of the Internal Revenue Intelligence division said that since December some 440 T-men were on the payroll of the Raytheon plants. The investigation, he said, was the largest of its kind since the

Eight Rockets Successfully Launched by Fifth Graders

You don't have to go to Cape Canaveral, Fla., to get the low-down on just how this interplanetary missile and rocket business works out.

Buttonhole any fifth-grader at the Horace Mann School in Newtonville and he (or she) will straighten you out in a few minutes. Without all that scientific gobbledegook language, too.

It's old stuff now to the Mann School fifth-graders.

They did a bit of rocket firing themselves the other day. Not one. No sir, they sent eight up there. Every launching was a success, too.

If you happened by their playground around 10:30 a.m. you would have been able to see the demonstration. The rockets were of wood, some two feet long. Their fuel was compressed carbon dioxide.

The rockets got up into the atmosphere some 15 to 20 feet. You see the young scientists weren't shooting for the moon on this occasion. They were just proving for their own sat-

POLITICAL OVERTONES

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor

U. S. Senate Seat Furcolo's Top Political Goal For Years

Some of the political observers on Beacon Hill expressed surprise the other day when Governor Furcolo indicated that he is planning to run for the United States Senate in 1960.

Except for the timing of Furcolo's remarks, there was no reason for the raising of a single eyebrow.

A seat in the Senate has been his political objective ever since he served in Washington as a young freshman Congressman. The Governorship is really an unscheduled detour in the political road he mapped for himself eight or nine years ago.

Had Furcolo been able to achieve his goal by emerging a victor over Senator Leverett Saltonstall in 1954, he probably never would have sought the Governorship, and certainly he would not have been a candidate for it in 1956.

He became a gubernatorial candidate in 1956 because his path to the Senate was blocked at least until 1960. Actually, it was about the only thing he could do.

At that time Furcolo had three courses open to him. 1. He could have remained out of politics and bided his time for his return fight with Saltonstall in 1960. 2. He could have run for the Governorship and risked the danger of coping with the headaches and problems of that office. 3. He could have stood for a lesser office.

Had Furcolo followed the first course, he would have taken the calculated risk of being forgotten by the public in a six-year span and of having new faces forge to the front in the Democratic party, one of whom might have Senatorial ambitions. The third course would have meant a step back, something a politician is invariably reluctant to take, and a drop in prestige.

West Newton Woman's Will Provides B. C. Scholarships

Scholarships for needy students at Boston College will be provided under the will of Mrs. Margaret S. Murray, widow of Thomas W. Murray, former president of the Union Savings Bank.

The Murray home was at 26 Dartmouth street, West Newton. Mr. Murray died in 1941. Mrs. Murray died last Dec. 27.

Miss Nellie J. Murray who lived at the Dartmouth street address was left a diamond wrist watch, a diamond bracelet and $25,000, under terms of Mrs. Murray's will.

Another bequest of $25,000 went to Mrs. Charles J. Fay of Medford, whose husband, a Boston real estate dealer, was named an executor of the document. The other executor is the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company.

The bequest to Boston College consists of the residue of the estate. The scholarships will be in memory of Mr. Murray and James M. Anderson and John A. Morgan, who were not further identified in the will.

Anna and Catherine Foley, also of 26 Dartmouth street, West Newton, were willed $3000 each. There was no estimate of the value of the estate.

Bequests of $5000 each were made to the Little Sisters of the Poor, Boston; the Holy Ghost Hospital, Cambridge; the Industrial School for Crippled Children, Boston; Mrs. John Murray, Bellamy road, Brighton, and Martha R. Doonan, South Hadley Falls.

Gifts of $2000 each went to two cousins, Katherine Holland of Brighton and Mrs. Theresa Gilligan of Brighton.

4 More Women Teachers Than Men In N.H.S.

Women teachers out-number men pedagogues in Newton High School by the margin of 66 to 62, according to a breakdown of interesting statistics gathered by the Newton public school system's publication, "Newton School Age."

In the junior high schools the number is even—86 of each sex. In the elementary schools there are 21 men out of a total of 337 teachers.

Serving as principals and assistant principals are 16 men and 15 women. In the Technical School which provides vocational training in six basic trades, all 25 instructors are men.

During the last school year there were 12 retirements from the teaching staff, with years of service averaging 24. There were 107 resignations, three deaths and 16 leaves of absence granted.

In addition to 166 new teachers, there are five who returned to Newton posts from leaves of absence.

Completes 25 Years of Service

Arnold E. Worth, vice-treasures and mortgage officer of the Newton Savings Bank, completed 25 years of service with the Bank last Friday. He started his Newton Savings Bank career Feb. 1, 1933, was elected assistant treasurer Jan. 5, 1943, and was advanced to his present positions on May 31, 1957. He was elected a Corporator at the same time.

His anniversary was observed by his fellow-workers Friday afternoon, Jan. 31, at an officer gathering at the main office of the bank. Joseph Earl Perry, president og the bank, presented him with a check as a token of appreciation from the Bank for his faithful and efficient service.

Mr. Worth is a past chairman of the Middlesex "E" Savings Bank Forum; a member of the Boston and Newton Real Estate Boards; a past vice-president of the Boston Kiwanis Club; and, a member of the Society of Residential Appraisers. As Mortgage Officer of the Bank he is in charge of over 5,000 mortgages, totalling nearly $53,000,000.

Atomic Plant Law Asked By Rawson

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton is one legislator who is not content to consider only the past and the present in the making of laws. He has introduced a bill which would provide for State inspection of plants powered by atomic energy.

He points out that with the coming of the atomic age there will be new menaces connected with radiation. He likewise directs attention to the fact that the atomic age is not some place in the far distant future.

Funeral Mass Held Saturday For A. A. Caruso

A mass of requiem was celebrated Saturday morning at St. Bernard's Church for Anthony A. Caruso, 76, of 25 Mague avenue, West Newton. He died last Wednesday at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a short illness.

A native of Italy, he came to this country as a young boy and had made his home in Newton for 50 years. He was married to Lucretia Carvelli, who died 16 years ago.

Surviving are two sons, Seby J. of Auburndale, treasurer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co., and William J. of Fitchburg, an engineer for the General Electric Co.; a daughter, Theresa, who lived with him, a teacher at the All Newton Music School; two sisters, Mrs. Miga Carvelli of Dorchester and Mrs. Mary Barletto of Jamaica Plain; a brother and several sisters in Italy; and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Feb. 13 Not Lucky For One Motorist

Feb. 13 doesn't fall on a Friday this year but that doesn't mean that it's stripped of all its untoward implications. Not for Miss Lila Topolis of Newton, at any rate.

She's got a couple of dates in Connecticut on that day. She'd be just as pleased they were never made. A Nutmeg State trooper claims he halted her car while it was doing 80 m.p.h. on the Wilbur Cross highway. She posted a bond of $30 for an appearance Feb. 13.

Hours later another trooper said he stopped the same car and same driver for exceeding the speed limit on the Wilbur Cross highway in Vernon, Conn. The bond was the same $30. The date for appearance on this charge was also the same—Feb. 13.

"SHOPPING AROUND WITH RITA"

You can say "I love you" in hundreds of different ways . . . Look over the Valentine displays at the B. S. Edward Store . . . You know that is the store in West Newton that has just about everything . . . You will find cards that are hilarious like the cute little skunk that is "Scent" . . . imental over you . . . or the downright frilly and lovely ones that say "I love you more than words can say" . . . You will find penny valentines for school friends and special ones for sweethearts and members of the family including "That sweet guy I married" . . . and kids . . . Mom would love a little potted plant as a gift, and they have a wonderful assortment of house plants for you to choose from . . .

A gift from Allets would be a "sweetheart" of an idea, whether it is for your valentine or for a wedding or shower party . . . And Mom . . . how about a huge "man sized" ash tray to let him know you love him too. Have you seen that lovely new bone china that just arrived . . . It's simply gorgeous . . .

Here is a gift for Mom and Dad that would show loving thought . . . I'll bet they have a favorite old picture tucked away, and even though it is faded and torn it still reminds them of their own romancing days . . . Wouldn't they be pleased if you took it to Atwood's Camera Shop to have it restored . . . They would be so happy . . . You know you will find Atwood's on Pelham Street just in between the two municipal parking lots in Newton Centre . . .

Say Mom . . . you are his own "Valentine" and you will want to be at your charming and most attractive best, just for him . . . Visit Anthony's Beauty Salon for your share of glamour . . . By the way, have you tried the fabulous new hair dryers yet . . . I believe Anthony's is the only Beauty Shop in the Newton's that is fully equipped with them, and you really must try them to believe the difference . . . You will never want to . . . melt away . . . for beauty's sake, after you have experienced this pleasant and refreshing air cooled way to beauty with emphasis on comfort . . .

Thinking of Spring? . . . A visit to Clapper's will put you in the mood . . . You would be surprised how many folks are dropping in to look over the displays of garden seeds . . . It is like taking a double quick step into spring, to see racks of flower garden seeds and merry little packets with pictures of lettuce, beets and even corn . . . Even a brief visit into spring is exciting . . . try it . . . start planning your garden and visit Clapper's today . . .

The New England Sportsmen's Show will give you a preview of the boating, fishing and camping days that aren't too far away . . . Be sure and visit Booth #19 to meet Mr. and Mrs. Huberman from the Newton Sports Center . . . Chances are that you will find the "slugger" himself chatting with them between performances . . . He is an enthusiastic booster for their famous line of sports jackets and rainwear and has personally endorsed these clothes for the "outdoors" man . . .

Something to think about . . . Tomorrow is never so far away that we cannot wait . . . but while you are waiting . . . do not waste today . . .

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

● Chest Pain

Q. Can you have chest pain without having heart disease.

A. Yes, lots of people become frightened when they get a sharp, stabbing pain somewhere in the chest. In many cases it doesn't mean a thing. According to one prominent doctor, short stabbing chest pains are never due to heart disease. Many people think that any pain that starts in the chest and runs down the arm must be due to heart disease. This isn't true at all. But to play safe, and not worry yourself into thinking you have a bad ticker, see your doctor if you have any kind of chest pain. He can rule out a bad heart in a hurry.

Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

Norumbega Council Ready For Scouts 48th Birthday

Newton Boy Scouts of the Norumbega Council are ready for the annual observance of Boy Scout Week in this area.

In addition to the many Pack, Troop and Explorer activities, there will be three Council-wide events to help in proclaiming the 48th anniversary of the movement in the United States.

Saturday the actual birthday of the Scouts in this country, will see a gathering of Cubs, Scouts and Explorers of the Norumbega Council taking a recommital of the Scout Oath. The time will be 7:45 p.m. All registered members of the Norumbega Council and their leaders have been requested to gather at Newton City Hall, where they will be administered the oath in a recommital exercise which will be carried on simultaneously with other scouts through the nation.

Norumbega's Annual Recognition Dinner will be held next Tuesday during Boy Scout Week. The scene will be the Normandy Room at Norumbega Park. Silver Beaver and Veteran Awards will be presented and awards will be made for outstanding service to the Council. Dr. E. Urner Goodman, past director of the program division of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the speaker.

The National Safety Good Turn which is being sponsored by the national organization in '58 will have its kick-off in Norumbega Council on Saturday, Feb. 15. This will take place at Newton High School and all Packs, Troops and Explorer units of the Council are requested to attend between 2 and 5 p.m.

There will be displays and live demonstrations put on by the various police, fire, health and registry departments.

Tote Your Mail-

repairmen — milk men, and the like?" point out their big bosses don't hold cabinet rank. Point out, too, that they are nice fellows like the postman. Just try to get the pet interested in some other form of sport — cat-chasing, for instance, or plain, old-fashioned bone-burying.

In effect, the Postmaster General lays down the principle that dog-owners will have to carry their own mail if their pets persist in mistaking his men for walking hamburgs.

He told the carriers in about as many words that they can go right on braving snow, rain, heat and the gloom o' night (well, it's poetic, and sometimes special deliveries ares distributed after dark).

Nothing else need stay them from the swift completion of their rounds. Nothing but a dog with a yen for their legs.

This is how it will work out. Suppose your dog gets out of the wrong side of his bed some morning. Suppose he spots the mail man. Suppose he takes his feeling out on the carrier.

Maybe, it's only intended as a little work-out for his dentures. Maybe, it's all in fun.

Whatever Fido's reason may be, the postman will have recourse to a swift form of justice under the new regulation. The letter carrier duly reports to the boss when he gets back to the postofficer. Rolling up his pant leg he displays the nipped calf. The boss takes a look, advises iodine, and inscribes your name in a sort of black list.

After that you (a) start picking up your bills and letters from Aunt Sue at the postoffice; (b) attempt to re-establish diplomatic relations with the Post Office Department by keeping the dog in the house when the letter carrier is due or getting rid of the pet altogether. Maybe the boss will compromise if you go down to the postoffice and apologize for your mutt's indiscretion in defying the United States and promise he'll never do it again.

Don't under any circumstances send the dog down for the mail, no matter how smart he may be. There's no knowing what might happen if some canines happened to find themselves in a building filled with letter carriers.

If you decide to line yourself on the pet's side vs. the letter carrier; if you're one of those people who think every dog is not only entitled to his day but at least one bite, you'll find you'll have to add a visit to the postoffice to your daily agenda.

Seems the letter carriers can take the snow, rain, heat and gloom. But they're tired of getting themselves mistaken for ambulatory hamburgs.

Now that the Postmaster General has said a fervent "Amen" to their beef, it's all up to the individual dogs.

The canine kingdom might have decided it was getting somewhere when the Russians gave one of their number a ride into space.

But over here you can detach that mail box at the front door and turn it in at the next rummage sale, if you think Fido's being deprived of a bit of legitimate fun when the letter carrier comes into view.

He won't be ringing twice. He won't be ringing at all.

wagering law was passed in 1951.

Commissioner Nelligan was told by U. S. Attorney Arlyne F. Hassett that the Raymond H. Carney, 38, of Lowell, one of the arrested men, was making from $300 to $400 a week as a bookie.

The agents seized slips, telephone numbers and cash as they made the arrests.

The T-men claim that a gambling syndicate originating in Detroit had moved across the border from Canada two years ago to find "rich pickings" at the Raytheon plants. U. S. Attorney Anthony Julian said the Raytheon management, confronted with a situation in which plant gambling was appealed to federal authorities.

Two of the six men arrested were taken at the Waltham plant, one was taken into custody today at his Methuen home and one outside a cafe in Lowell.

Julian said, "The management of Raytheon is to be congratulated on its resolve to drive the gamling racketeers out of its plants.

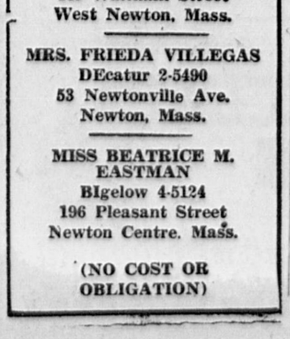

"It is hoped that the management of other plants will display the same determination."

A spokesman for the Raytheonm Mfg. Co. said, "We have known about the investigation for some time and cooperated to the fullest extent with the Treasury agents.

"We have a company rule which prohibits gambling in any of our plants and anyone caught in the act of gambling is discharged immediately.

"We have 28,000 persons employed in our plants and this makes a lucrative field for bookies and the like.

"Any of the persons who were apprehended by the arresting officers today will be suspended from employment until their trial is over. If they are convicted, they will be discharged. If they are found innocent, they will be reinstated."

Little Men Throw Mud

In the manner of the little man who has no confidence in the logic of the arguments at his command, a legislator turned to invective and mud up at the State House the other day.

He decided the best way to present his case was to throw mud. He chose for his targets the names and memory of big men.

Thus, he disparaged George Washington. He sneered at John Hancock. He snarled at the memory of Paul Revere.

The little man figured that if he had directed his invective at plain John Jones and Richard Doe no one would pay any attention to him. He figured that if he threw mud at a contemporary the contemporary might demolish him.

The little man was right. However, he ended up all muddied himself. There wasn't a trace of mud on Washington, Hancock or Revere when he finally sat down. All the mud was on the little man.

Without going into the merits or demerits of the cause he was attempting to espouse, it's reassuring in this day and age to realize that the only person within sound of his voice who took the little man seriously was himself.

Actually he did the cause he was seeking to promote a very serious disservice. What the little man was trying to do was to get a bill started through the Legislature which would extend our presently long list of holidays on which Sabbath laws apply.

He knew that the opposition—and there appeared to be more opposition than support for the idea—was going to point out very strongly that Massachusetts has a pretty long list of legal holidays right now.

Indeed, some claim that Massachusetts has more such holidays than any other State. Beyond that, of course, was the argument that new laws which would bring about further holiday shutdowns of stores and business places would not only hurt business but wage earners as well.

The little man apparently anticipated the logic of those arguments. Instead of answering them with logic he resorted to an age-old trick of little men from time immemorial.

He resorted to invective and mud.

He made himself a bit ridiculous by getting mud all over himself.

No doubt, some serious-minded people believe that we should have more legal holidays in the strict sense of "total holidays" or holidays which have the same close-down provisions of the Sabbath.

Any logic there may be to their arguments was pretty much spoiled by the little man's antics.

Despite the low esteem in which George Washington, John Hancock and Paul Revere apparently are held by one legislator, the fact is that if the matter were submitted to the workers of Massachusetts they probably would vote against any more legal holidays on which the Sunday laws are imposed.

Seeking the Governorship also involved certain risks and dangers from Furcolo's standpoint. But it was probably the best political gamble of the three.

There is no doubt but that Furcolo will be a candidate for the Senate in 1960, irrespective of how he fares in his bid for reelection next November.

Obviously, he would be a much stronger contender if he were completing his second term as Governor than if he had been defeated in 1958 and were out of office. One way or the other, however, he can be counted as a candidate.

That is why Senator Leverett Saltonstall has a big stake in the outcome of this year's gubernatorial election—if he himself is planning to run again.

Some political experts believe there may be greater uncertainty concerning Saltonstall's plans for 1960 than there is regarding Furcolo's intentions for that year.

Herter Making Notable Gains In Drive for Governorship

Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., has made tremendous progress in the three weeks since he announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Both Attorney General George Fingold and former GOP State Committee Chairman Charles Gibbons were in the field and had lined up delegates before Herter decided to enter the race, even though neither had made any official statement of his intentions up to the time Herter tossed his hat into the ring.

Despite his late start, Herter has been steadily closing the gap, and it already is apparent that he will go into the Republican State convention in June with very strong support.

He executed a master stroke in persuading former Governor's Councillor Bruce Crane to become his campaign manager and, of course, endorse his candidacy publicly.

Crane, who probably could have had his party's gubernatorial nomination himself if he had been willing to run, is one of the most popular and influential figures in Western Massachusetts and undoubtedly will be able to line up a substantial number of delegates for Herter in the big area stretching from Worcester through the Berkshires to the New York State line.

Crane's acceptance of the chairmanship of the Herter campaign not only surprised political observers on Beacon Hill but convinced them that Crane believes, after sizing up the situation, that Herter is the strongest candidate the Republican party could pit against Governor Furcolo.

Despite the remarkable advances he has made in a comparatively short period of time Councillor Herter still has a long way to go in the next four months to achieve the gubernatorial endorsement.

He has to overcome both the handicap of his late start and the fact that many delegates, who might have given him their support, had committed themselves to Gibbons and Fingold before they were aware that Herter intended to run.

That may seem somewhat strange to the uninitiated since Herter was the first Republican to declare himself a candidate for Governor, but neither Fingold nor Gibbons awaited the formality of an official announcement before starting to line up delegate votes.

Herter has announced that he will abide by the decision of the GOP convention in June and, if he is not successful there, will immediately call a halt to his gubernatorial drive and support the man who is endorsed.

While he is not looking beyond the convention, the likelihood is that he will stand for reelection to the Executive Council if he does not land the endorsement there.

But if he can maintain his present progress for the next four months, he will go into the convention at least an even-money bet to capture the gubernatorial endorsement and the right to head the GOP State ticket in the November election.

A bill now pending before the Legislature, which would require the appointment of a woman to the Public Utilities Commission, has all the earmarks of being a gimick to create another couple of positions on the commission.

Some rather convincing arguments have been advanced in favor of having a woman on the commission. The only flaw in the word picture that is painted by certain politicos is that there is not a single thing in the present law which prevents the Governor from naming a woman to the commission. He doesn't need any new law to be able to do it. He can do it now.

Believes In Leash Law

Editor, Newton Graphic:

May I add my support to the effort being made to get an effective leash law in Newton?

Only this morning I saw three large dogs nudge and jostle one small boy who was on his way to Franklin School.

For the most part the dogs are friendly and playful but they do frighten small children. When several big dogs congregate on a school playground, children use the playground at their peril. Excited dogs knock children down even though they don't mean to do so.

Records show that an average of nearly four hundred dog bites are reported to the City Health Department each year. It is certain that many incidents are not reported. This figure alone seems to warrant more careful supervision and restraint of our dog population.

Putting dogs on leash will make walking more pleasant for old and young alike. Newton is too densely populated to permit dogs to roam at large.

Sincerely,
John O. Fisher

I have read with great interest the articles in the Newton Graphic about the leash law the PTA Council is fighting for. Since I am not a PTA member, I am taking the liberty of writing to you. I would like to know whether there is any way or any place I could write to regarding adoption of a full time leash law.

I love dogs, but they have become more and more of a menace and a nuisance lately. Sometimes there is a pack of anywhere from 6 to 12 in my garden. They have ruined flowers and shrubs I worked hard to raise and what's worse, they make such a mess of the garden that you can hardly go outside without stepping into something and I am just plain tired of cleaning up after the dogs.

Very truly yours,
M.P.W.

Different Point of View

(from a garden lover)
Editor
Newton Graphic

Newton has been called "The Garden City" but I wonder how long this title will apply.

The previous owner of our home belonged to the Garden Club and spent many hourr and dollars in the gardens. We have added to her collection of unusual plants to the extent that passers-by stop to admire.

Must we fence in our yard to keep the neighbors' dogs from ruining 5 years of hard work?—or from large dogs drinking from the bird-bath, sending the heavy cement bath crashing down on plants?

Once we were dog owners, when our daughter was growing up, but we lived out of town where Jock had woods and fields to run in.

Newton has fast become a thickly settled suburb and those wanting dogs should keep them leashed. Otherwise how long will Newton be called "The Garden City"?

HELEN H. COLYAR

Dogs vs. Delinquents

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

Referring to your article on the front page of a recent Graphic issue, it seems that the PTA has looked at this matter in sort of a one-sided light. My personal experience is that there are five or six dogs who run around my grounds at 42 Bellevue street almost every day and I think they are a great deterrent to the juvenile delinquents who pass by our premises. When they see a dog near the house they presume that he belongs there and we have had no trouble for a number of years.

For years we had dogs of our own and never had any vandalism or burglary. Our dogs always gave a signal when people came to the house.

I could write at greater length on this subject but wish to bring this to your attention so that other residents of Newton who feel as I do should be heard in your paper.

Keep Dogs Leashed

To the Editor
Newton Graphic

The letter of Mr. Richard P. McGrath in the Graphic of January shows very plainly why the City of Newton must pass an ordinance restraining dogs, if Newton is not to deteriorate rapidly in appearance and reputation. Mr. McGrath appears to think that it is of no consequence whether dogs tear up flower-beds and intimates that in his opinion only dogs have rights. It seems to me that taxpayers have rights and are under no obligation whatever to furnish playgrounds for other people's dogs. Dog owners would not like it if their human neighbors invaded the dog owner's property and scratched up their lawns and dug holes and tore up their newspapers and anything else in sight.

In California dog owners must have enclosures for their dogs and take them out only on a leash. I happen to know also that people in Connecticut, New Jersey and New York state are obliged to restrain their dogs. Guests from these places are astonished to see the carelessness here, dogs rampaging everywhere.

It is also a serious danger to human beings, as well as dogs, to allow dogs on the street where they can suddenly jump in front of a moving car. I have been badly startled many times by dogs when I have been driving, though I have been lucky enough never to hit one. I think it is very wrong for people to be subjected to such danger and fright. I do not see how such conditions are beneficial to dogs either.

Yours very truly,
Frances Z. T. Benner

Against Leash Law

Editor
Newton Graphic

I read the article in the Graphic on the PTA's proposal for having dogs in Newton leashed and wish to say that I have two lovely dogs that love children, but they also love their freedom, which is natural.

I feel if dogs had to be leashed in Newton it would be a hardship to the owner, the dog, and the neighborhood, for a dog tied usually barks a lot and it would become a disturbing factor to everybody.

Children should be taught to love animals. A dog is a friend; not an enemy. Let us consider his rights, too.

First Grocery Store

Newton Graphic

An incident of possible local interest came to my attention the other day from a personal friend. It happens that a Mr. C. Petrillo passed away at the grand old age of 91. He was the owner and proprietor of the grocery store at 665 Watertown street, opposite Walker street, C. Petrillo & Son.

From my friend, it is my understanding that Mr. Petrillo started the first or one of the first grocery stores in Newton. I cannot vouch for this story but it seemed that there might be some interesting local color and I mention it for your information.

Very truly yours,
William L. Warner.

On MTA Increase

Editor;
Newton Graphic:

Is there any justifiable reason why the M.T.A. should not be given the authority to increase the present fare of 5 CENTS to 10 CENTS for passengers in the age brackets from 5 years to 14 years? Many independent lines have a charge of 9 to 10 cents covering these ages.

When parents can afford to send their children to take part or witness rock and roll shows and other allied entertainments which cost at least 50 cents or more and they consider such entertainment as essential for their moral, mental and educational welfare, is there one basic reason to object to paying 10 CENTS on the M.T.A.

The M.T.A. should not delay in filing a petition for the 5 CENT increase covering ages 5 to 14 as they have been riding on the gravy system long enough and have occupied seats just the same as those 15 years and over.

In my opinion, here is one contributing factor to help reduce the RED figures that have been piling up over the years:

Now is the time for ACTION, not DELAY. The M.T.A. is our lifeline for Boston and Greater Boston transportation and its expansion is inevitable.

The 5 CENT fare has been in effect too long for the 5 to 14 year passengers.

Explains School Vote

Newton Graphic

January 20 I voted against the appropriation for the construction of the new Mason-Rice School.

During the past week, I have had inquiries as to why I voted against said appropriation, whether I was opposed to the new Mason-Rice School and whether I realized the need for the new school in Newton Centre because of the present old buildings, traffic, et cetera.

In order to clarify my vote and decision on this appropriation, referring to the last two queries first, I probably understand the need of the children in Newton Centre for the new School better than most of the residents there, and am not opposed to the construction of said School. My purpose in voting against the appropriation mote the sale and interest pro-

Savings over $37 billion; and almost 40% of home loans

Savings in all the savings and loan associations in the United States rose by over $5 billion in 1956 to a total of $37.4 billions. And almost 40% of all home loans were made by savings and loan associations.

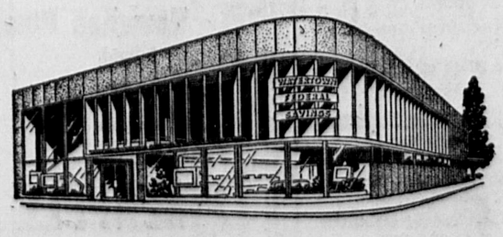

Watertown Federal is proud to be a growing part of this great, growing business to help people save and get home loans. Watertown Federal's own savings accounts have risen over $5 million in the past two years.

Sleep Chief Cause Of Fatalities On New Toll Road

Sleep—not alcohol, speeding or recklessness—is blamed as the principal cause for fatalities recorded in the new East-West toll road by the authority of the road.

Records for the first 306,151 miles of travel from the time the road was opened on May 16 to the publication of the record showed 10 persons had been killed.

The authority points out that breaks down to a record of 3.3 deaths per 100 million miles as compared with the national average of 5.9.

House Parties To Aid Church Fund

The Guild of St. Francis of Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre is planning a series of house parties this month for the benefit of the parish building fund.

The series will include morning coffee hours, afternoon teas and evening bridge at the homes of Guild members.

First event will be a coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Joseph Williams, 73 Parker street, Newton Centre. It will be sponsored by the president of the Guild, Mrs. E. Lake Jones, and Mrs. Joseph Mason Williams next Wednesday at 10 a.m.

The committee in charge of the house parties includes Mrs. Thomas J. Kenney, chairman, Mrs. Joseph M. Williams, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. George Kiesewetter.

Retain Crown-

it. Beckwith barely failed.

Rindge was in contention right down to the relay vents.

It would have wo out but for the disputed disqualification of Bob Coffil in the morning 300-yard time trials. That disqualification raised quite a howl. Tom Duffy, the Rindge coach, argued long and loud against it, and he had some support from other coaches but the disqualification stood.

On the staggered start in the 300 trials, Coffil was in the third lane. He came off the corner not in the third lane but in the pole.

Duffy claimed that his runner was pushed from his own lane into the pole by Bob Rooney of Boston English as Coffil was passing Bob. The judges' ruling stood.

Newton's Phil Johnson also drew a disqualiciation in the 600.

The race was carded as a battle between Lawrence Central's Dick Camuso, Newton's Johnson and Latin School's Lowell Davidson.

It was all of that for awhile. But in the end it was Rindge's Alan Jackman who roared home first, coming from fourth place in the last lap to win by five yards. Johnson faded from second to fourth and was eventually disqualified for cutting in front of Camuso.

Johnson was leading the pack with two laps to go.

Larry Smith of Newton racked up a win in the dash by a last-second spurt which brought him home ahead of Bob Carris of Malden and teammate Jim Yancey.

Educational Need Offers Challenge, Dr. Gezork Says

Protestants must review their work in higher education and formulate a strategy for its future development, the Rev. Dr. Herbert Gezork, president of the Newton Andover Theological School, declared in an address at the Harvard Club of Boston.

The occasion was the kickoff dinner for the special gifts committee in the school's 150th anniversary development program. The school is conducting a campaign for $1,500,000 to meet the demands of expansion and evonomic problems.

"The Christion Church," said Dr. Gezork, "has shown a lack of aggressiveness in assuming its responsibilities in the field of higher education and has deprived the nation of spiritually inspired leadership."

Keynote speaker was Mrs. Peter Marshall, widely known author and widow of the late Rev. Dr. Peter Marshall, Washington clergyman and chaplain of the U.S. Senate

Dr. Gezork reported that a total of $132,000 has been raised toward the School's immediate objective of $600,000. He said the alumni of the School, including some 600 graduates who are serving pastorates in New England, have taken a goal of $60,000 toward the development program. The School's campaign goal is for $1,500,000 to provide additional for married students, strengthen faculty salaries and furnish additional scholarship aid.

Ten of Boston's leading business men and clergy joined to sponsor the dinner. They were Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., treasurer of Hood Milk Company; Roy F. Williams, executive secretary of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts. Paul Babson, head of United Business Service, Erskine White, president, New England Telephone Company; Dr. Claude Fuess, formerly headmaster, Phillips Andover Academy; Atty. Howard Cole of Beverly, chairman of the Newton Board of Trustees; the Rev. Dr. Frederick Meek of Old South Church, chairman of the Andover Board of Trustees; and Albert O. Wilson, Jr., of Cambridge, steel manufacturer.

Cystic Fibrosis night will be held at Boston Garden tomorrow night.

Back to Hold An "Appreciation Time" Program

The Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company will conduct a special "Customer Appreciation Time" program between Feb. 10 and Feb. 14, it has been announced by President George L. White. "During that time," he stated, "extra recognition will be extended to the bank's most important assets—our customers."

Capitalizing on the Valentine season, the local banking institution plans an elaborate promotion. This celebration includes an attractive Valentine Card sent to all the bank's regular checking account customers expressing appreciation for their use of banking services. In addition, all employees of the bank will wear a bright insignia with the words, "Thanks for banking with us." Counter cards and newspaper advertisements emphasizing the Valentine-Customer Appreciation Time theme will be important features of the program.

"Today, more than ever before, one of the biggest differences in banks is the way people are treated," Mr. White said, "and we want the customer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company to know that we appreciate their business."

Plans Big Green Alumni Dinner

Roger B. Salinger of Newton, a vice president of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston, is helping to complete plans for the annual banquet of the Association.

The banquet will be held Thursday, Feb. 13, at the Imperial Ballroom of Hotel Statler. Principal speaker will be John Dickey, president of the college.

The occasion will honor the successful 1957 football team. Director of Athletics Robert "Red" Rolfe and Head Coach Robert Blackman will also be speakers. Captain Joe Palermo of the '57 team will be present with Captain-elect Al Krutsch.

Third Prayer Meeting To Be Held Tomorrow

Forty women, representing all the Protestant denominations and all the twenty-four churches which are members of the United Church Women of Newton, will hold a third in their series of four prayer groups tomorrow.

The prayer groups are leading up to the observance of World Day of Prayer Feb. 21. A final meeting will be held after the World Day of Prayer, on Feb. 28. All these meetings except the World Day of Prayer service, are being held at the Second Church, West Newton, at 10 a.m.

The World Day of Prayer will be observed in the new Eliot Church at 2 p.m. Feb. 21.

Wanted Plea Got A Fine Response

There were 228 replies received to the questionnaire put out early last summer by the Newton School Age in an attempt to make a survey of those interested in part-time jobs in the school system.

Of the total, the official school department publication reports, 106 were interested in doing part-time work in the schools, 68 wanted some type of clerical work, 54 were interested in substitute teaching.

"Two courses are being set up to train these people," says the publication. "One is for clerks and secretaries and the other for substitute teachers. Also steps are being taken to utilize the talents of those who are interested in helping out in other ways. The study is already bearing fruit, as several positions of need have been filled by women from this group."

Pack 2 Presents Show At Church

At their last Pack meeting the Cub Scouts of Pack 2 held an achievement show at the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale.

Each den had a booth displaying the projects made to complete the requirements for the Wolf, Bear and Lion badges. Twelve achievements must be done by each boy to earn his badge, and it was shown that while each one carries the same theme in all three ranks, the work grows progressively harder as one moves on from Wolf to Bear to Lion through the cub years.

Much credit goes to each of the den mothers who directed the efforts of the boys throughout the program. Mrs. Robert Brennan and Den 3 presented the achievements for the Wolf badge.

Mrs. Glen Hodson and Mrs. Ralph Rich with Den 5 presented the display for the Bear badge. Mrs. George Paul and Mrs. Robert McLaughlin directed Dens 6 and 9 in showing the requirements for the Lion's badge.

The meeting opened with a grand march and flag ceremony led by Den 6. Bear badges were presented by assistant cubmaster Glen Hodson to: George Hutchins, Tommy Sylvester, Terence Powers, Waldon LaRosee, John Murphy, Dennis Rich and Gardner Hodson.

Newton Officials At B.C. Seminar

Newton City Planner Charles E. Downe and Alderman William Powers played leading roles in the attention-attracting seminar held at Boston College recently on metropolitan planning.

The seminar was attended by 400 Greater Boston teachers and school executives.

Mr. Downe, vice president of Economic Development Associates of Boston, currently engaged in a planning project for Newton, traced the history of transportation and the major problems of mass travel today.

He also suggested ways and means in which metropolitan planning could be included in courses in sociology, economics, vocational guidance and other fields.

Alderman Powers, assistant superintendent of Needham schools and a former Junior High teacher in Newton Centre, discused methods of dramatizing problems of metropolitan scope and particularly that of transportation through audio visual aides.

Other speakers included the Rev. W. Seavey Joyce, S.J. dean of the Boston College School of Business Arministration.

Newton Student On Dean's List

Six students from the Newton area have been named to the Winter Term Dean's List at Babson Institute of Business Administration.

They are: Milton C. Allen, Jr. of 30 Avalon rd., Waban; Tucker R. Miller of 185 Valentine st., West Newton; Richard J. Snyder of 103 Langdon st., Newton; Francis A. Southwick of 176 Waban ave., Waban; Richard W. Riley of 16 Daniel st., Newton Centre; and James H. Carroll of Meadow rd., Newton.

Church Canvass-

erence for some church of religion may actually go above the 93 percent mark when all the facts and figures are assembled and tabulated.

Dr. Alva I. Cox of the National Council of Churches, who is directing the tabulating of statistics at the Second Church Congregational in West Newton, said that the work is being continued.

Cards on each household are being sorted and turned over to the church or temple of the religious faith for which each resident expressed a preference.

President Ernest O. Seyfarth of the Newton Council of Churches was warm in his praise of the manner in which all the Catholic and Protestant churches and the Jewish temples in Newton cooperated in the city-wide religious census.

He said that the census was successful but that it is merely the forerunner to a followup program which will be designed to promote religious interest on the part of new residents of the city as well as those who are not directly affiliated with any church or temple.

President Seyfarth expressed pride over the manner in which all of Newton's spiritual leaders cooperated in the undertaking.

He pointed out that it marked the first time that the three major faiths in Newton had joined together in such an endeavor, adding that all the participating churches and temples now are able to plan intelligently for the expansion of their services.

Former State Senator Richard H. Lee, vice-president of the Newton Council of Churches, was the census chairman.

The Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its Guest Night Weduesday, Feb. 12 at 8:15 p.m., at the Auburndale Clubhouse, 283 Melrose street. The guest speaker will be Kenneth A. Wheeler, who will give a presentation of the world's most famous workshop, the "Fabulous New York Stock Exchange."

Plans Eyed For NHS Centennial

Plans initiated a year ago will soon be put into operation in connection with the 1959 centennial celebration of Newton High School.

It is expected that a faculty committee will be organized within a short time while an advisory committee will be made up of prominent alumni and persons from the Greater Boston area active in secondary education.

Three highlights will feature the 100th anniversary. In October, a Homecoming Week will be held for alumni. In February, 1959, there will be a symposium on the future of secondary education to accent the school's greater responsibility in its second century.

The centennial climax will be the convocation in May, 1959, of alumni and high school undergraduates for the gala observation of the year.

A centennial Scholarship Fund will be set up. It will consist of private donations expected to total many thousands of dollars. This fund will provide university educations for qualifying seniors in classes following the centenary class.

Mystery Blasts-

but Father Francis Donahue, S.J., came back from a look at his seismograph and said its needle had traced no earthquake either in the Newtons and its environs or anywhere else in the world. The State police and the Edison Company couldn't help out either—no explosions to record.

The meteorologists at the Weather Bureau quarters at Logan Airport couldn't find the trace of a thunder storm on their maps. The commanding officer at Hanscom said none of his jet planes were in the vicinity.

The blasts came in quick succession. There were two of them.

They'll probably remain as unsolved mysteries in the police books.

Best guess was probably that of a World War II veteran of the police department. He figured it was a couple of jets which broke the sound wave, probably coming out of a dive. "After all," he pointed out, "all the jets roaming our skies don't come from Befdord."

With only 16 seconds left, Captain Jim Leonard stole the puck near his own blue line and swooped down on the Cambridge Latin goal and then let go with a 10-footer at the Boston Arena.

The puck banged the twines and gave the Tigers a most satisfying win over the Cantabs by a 3-2 score in the opening round of the GBI hockey playoffs.

The victory was doubly satisfying for the Newton skaters had been obliged to take a tough loss at the hands of the classy Cambridge sextet on the same ice surface just a week previously.

And it was triply satisfying to Captain Jim for in the previous game with Cambridge Latin, Jim had missed several close ones which could have made the difference.

The Newton victory made it an upset night. For in another GBI game top-place Melrose was obliged to accept its first loss of the year at the hands of an up-and-coming Arlington team 2-0.

Pete Thomson, who has also had a disappointing shooting night in the previous loss to C.L., scored one of the other two goals for the Tigers. The third counter was sent home by Dave Craig.

Pete Thomson opened the scoring with a nice shot that found a good home at 1:48 of the first period and Dave Craig made it Tigers 2, Cambridge Latin 0, with a scorcher at 7:44 of the first period.

The ubiquitous Tom Dooley, the league's leading scorer, put the Cambridge boys back in the game with a hot shot at 2:45 in the second period and Tom collaborated with Bob Meehan in feeding the puck to Walter McGinnity for the tying score at 4:45 in the third period.

Both teams had several opportunities after that but weren't able to capitalize on them until Captain Leonord took matters into his own hands with the puck theft and resulting goal.

The summary:

Newton — G, Kelley ld, Blomberg; rd, Gosch; c, Craig; lw, Leonard, Kennan, Downing.

Cambridge Latin — G, St. George; rd, McGinnity; ld, Dufry; c, Parne; rd, Higgins; lw, Sugrue. Spares — Dooley, Meehan, Woods.

Score by periods:	1	2	3	T
Newton	2	0	1	3
Camb. Latin	0	1	1	2

First Period — Thompson (Leonard) 1:48; Graig, 7:44. Second Period — Dooley, 2:45. Third Period — McGinnity (Dooley, Meeham), 4:45; Leonard, 9:44.

DeNucci Seeks 10th in Row In 8-Rounder at Rollaway

Newton's Joe DeNucci, who some believe may be the successor to Tony DeMarco as Boston's top-most ring attraction, gets another chance to show his wares and pick up some experience, at the Rollaway Arena in Revere tonight (Thursday).

Joe's down to take on Charlie Washington of New York in a card which includes four eight-rounders.

The young Newton middleweight has won nine straight since turning pro—eight of them by the kayo route. He'll be back to re-establish himself in the fans' favor after an experience that was no fault of his own. In the DeMarco-Atkins prelim Joe simply got matched with a lad who had no stomach for the business at hand and the ref stopped the alleged bout in two rounds.

The fans boohed and the "fight" served to add no new lustre to Joe's gradual "build-up". However, he'll be back tonight to show that he's ready to take on anyone in his climb to the top—preferably someone who'll stand up and fight.

A big delegation of Joe's loyal Newton supporters are expected to be on hand.

Ex-Tiger Sandy Boardman Stars For Colby Frosh

At the age of 17, Edgar (Sandy) Boardman is not only the youngest member of the Colby College undefeated hockey team he's the Baby Mules' leading scorer as well.

Sandy is a graduate of Newton High. He has piled up 22 points, 10 goals and 12 assists while helping Coach John Coon's sextet defeat Bowdoin College frosh, Belmont High, Lewiston, Dixfield and St. Dominic High Schools.

While a Tiger the 5 foot 8 inch Boardman was a GBI all-star. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Boardman of 21 Groveland street, Auburndale.

Temper Heads BU S.S. Grant Fund

Allan A. Temper of Newton is serving as chairman of the committee which established Sidney S. Grant Memorial Scholarship Fund at Boston University School of Law. The fund was created in honor of the late Sidney S. Grant, prominent labor relations attorney and graduate of B.U. Law.

Established by a committee of five people active in the field of law and labor relations, the memorial scholarship based on income derived annually from the Grant fund will be given "to a law student or law students attending Boston University law school who show marked interest, promise and aptitude in the field of labor law and labor relations."

Ensign Martel Graduates From OCS At Newport

Navy Ensign Leon C. Martel, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Martel, of 56 Gay street, Newtonville, and husband of the former Miss Marilee Norling, of Denver, Colorado, has been graduated from the Navy Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I.

Ensign Martel is a graduate of Dartmouth College.

Newton Students Win Scholarships

Four students from Newton, all graduates of Newton High School, are attending Boston University on freshman scholarships. They are Merle H Steinmetz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steinmetz of 80 West Bourne road; Christopher D. Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Marsh of 187 Concord street; Diane Hutchings, daughter of Mrs. Arethusa Hutchings of 74 Fenno road; and Eleanor R. Levi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Levi of 21 Edward road, West Newton.

The scholarships are partial-tuition awards for the freshmen year granted on the basis of character, high academic standing and leadership in the School.

Miss Steinmetz is enrolled at the Boston University School of nursing; Miss Hutchings at the Sargent college of physical education and Miss Levi is at the college of general education. Mr. Marsh is studying in the school of fine and applied arts.

Eight Rockets-

isfaction how this whole thing works out.

The rockets were designed by the children. Some of the work was done at home as well as in the class.

In order that none of their rockets got into somebody else's playground or came through any of the roofs in the vicinity they were tied with long lengths of string to the backstop cage behind home plate.

The basic idea of the tests was to learn about some of the principles of weight and balance and other matters that concern the folks down in the Florida testing ground.

There'll be some more firings later on.

Miss Florence McCaulder, teacher of the fifth grade, was in charge. All her pupils participated. She was assisted by Miss Jane Hurley, student teacher in the Harvard Graduate School of Education, and Eugene Gray, consulting teacher in science for the elementary schools.

Balsam wood, curtain rods and pine went into the construction of the rockets.

The names of the rockets and their pupil sponsors included: "Thunderbird," designed and built by Billy Harrison; "Starfire" by Scott Mullens, Jonathan Neal and Robert Rolanti; "Greasefire" by Donna D'Innocenzo. "Jupiter" by John Esdale and Edmund Muise; "Spitfire" by Karen Mackie; "JKJ" by Joyce Gallant, Katherine Hannigan and Jane Andrews; "Cindy-Sue" by Cynthia Hagelslein and Susan Larson and "The Hawk" by Paul Osborne.

NEW RATING of assistant master-at-arms has been bestowed on Hugh J. MacDougall, of 73 Harding street, West Newton, in his recruit company at the Great Lakes Training Station. He will be a recruit petty officer during his nine weeks "boot camp" assignment, and will wear miniature rating insignia.

On Hospitality Flight

Warren Guilford, of Chestnut Hill Travel, flew to New York, Portland, Me., and Nantucket in a trip designed to acquaint travel agents with the Pan American DC7C. A section of the plane was set up as the new "economy" flights will be, showing the agents what will be available for international travel on the first of April.

Enjoying Vacation

Seen dining poolside at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn, Las Vegas, Nevada were Lt. and Mrs. Edgar Robinson of 20 Athelstone road, Newton Centre.

The couple spent a holiday at the Inn with their son, Jeffrey on their return from Anchorage, Alaska.

Local Student Has Part In College Show

A Newton resident has been selected for a part in the annual Middlebury College Winter Carnival play

Robert Plude of 71 Redwood road, a Middlebury freshman, will have on of the supporting roles in the Broadway stage hit, "My Sister Eileen".

Adapted from the book by Ruth Kenney, the play has long been a favorite with both professional and amateur theater groups and with audiences everywhere.

The 27th annual Middlebury College Winter Carnival will be here Feb. 13—15. The Carnival features top intercollegiate ski competition, hockey and basketball games, an ice show, snow sculptures and a formal ball. The play is one of the weekend's top non-sports attractions.

Al Chandler

about this question:

"Cars are more expensive, more powerful and more numerous each year. Auto accidents are more frequent and damage claims are higher. Does a $50/100,000 liability policy cost only a few dollars more than a $10/20,000 policy, and give really adequate liability protection?"

DEATHS

Paul V. Knox

Paul V. Knox, wounded World War II veteran, died suddenly at his home at 309 Nevada street, Newtonville, Friday, after being stricken with a coronary attack. He was 45.

He was an inspector of the Ucinite Company.

A police emergency squad with oxygen attempted to revive him after he was stricken but were unable to do so. Last rites were pronounced by the Rev. Angelo P. Losocco of Our Lady's Church.

Mr. Knox had been a resident of Newton for three years, coming here from Nedrow, N.Y. He was wounded in the Italian campaign during World War II.

His only close surviving relative is his wife, Gertrude C. (Hanft).

A high mass of requiem was celebrated Monday morning at Our Lady's Church. Burial was in St. John's Cemetery, Burrough of Queens, New York City.

Receive Service Medals

Three Newton men, officers in the 26th (Yankee) Infantry Division, Massachusetts National Guard, were among a group to receive the Massachusetts Service Medal, especially struck for reservists, at a ceremony at the Commonwealth Army Monday night.

They were Lt. Col. William E. Molia, Lt. Col. Lewis W. Whittemore and Capt. Paul V. Foley.

The model is a symbol of continuous service of the civilian soldier since the end of World War II.

BEAUTIFUL INTERIOR of South Pacific Chinese Restaurant which will be open for the dining pleasure of the discriminating at 1152 Beacon st., Newton Highlands.

A. H. Canner to Aid Harvard Fund

Arnold H. Canner of 46 Bishopsgate road, Newton Centre, has been appointed a member of the Greater Boston Special Gifts Committee of A Program for Harvard College.

The program aims to enlist support of the 12,000 Harvard College alumni in Greater Boston in raising $82,500,000 to strengthen undergraduate education at Harvard.

Canner, who received the A.B. degree from Harvard College in 1928, is the owner of the Arnold H. Canner, Real Estate and Insurance Company. He is also President, Chairman of the Board, and a Life Director of the Jewish Community Centre of Brookline - Brighton - Newton, and a Trustee of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies. Canner is a Trustee of Guidance Camps Trust, and vice-president of the Robert Seaver Hale Reservation.

Newtonville Youth On Union Wrestling Team

Dixie Bergman of 30 Pulsifer st., Newtonville, is a member of the varsity wrestling team at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y. He is wrestling in the 157-pound class. A sophomore at the college, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hugo Bergman.

Another Newton youth, Philip J. Gleason of 6 Blackstone ter., is on the freshman wrestling squad. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Gleason.

Tribute Is Paid To James Forbes

A portrait of James Forbes, late director of the Newton Technical High School, has been dedicated in memory of his 25 years of service to vocational education in Newton.

The picture occupies a place of honor above the fireplace in the director's office. Funds for the memorial were supplied by students of the school.

REP. THRESHER TO PRESIDE

Representative Irene K. Thresher of West Newton, will preside at the afternoon panel of the Conference on the Aging at the Gardner Auditorium at the State House on Saturday afternoon.

Included in a panel before her will be Dr. Jack R. Ewalt, State commissioner of mental health, and Louis Lowy of the Boston University School of Social Work.

Will Have Major Role At Resources Meeting

Arthur L. Norton of 21 Park lane Newton Centre, general manager of the University Club of Boston, has been appointed chairman of the arrangements committee for the National Resources Conference to be held in Boston from Feb. 10 through Feb. 21.

The Conference sponsored by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces is being held to bring the complex problems involved in mobilizing the resources of the United States for national security to the businessmen of the Greater Boston area.

RETURNS HOME—Miss Lillian Picken, Congregational Christian educator and social worker, has returned to the United States to live after 43 years of missionary work in India. Working mainly in the Satara District, Miss Picken supervised schools, carried medicines to the sick, cared for orphans, worked among lepers and served as district commissioner of the Girl Guides. She will make her home at the Walker Missionary House, 144 Hancock street, Auburndale.

Newton Art Student

Paintings by George D.Guzzi, Jr., of 11 Randlett Park, a student at the School of Practical Art in Boston, will be on display at a two-man show at the Cinema Theatre in Framingham, during the first two weeks of February.

Local Educators Active in Annual B. U. Conference

Many Newton educators attended the annual conference for beginning elementary teachers at the B.U. College of Business Administration last Saturday.

The conference was sponsored as a service project by the B.U. School of Education's Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, National Honor Society for Women in Education. It was designed to provide practical and specific suggestions for elementary school teachers in areas related to method, techniques, motivation, control and individual difference.

Mrs. Gerald Pine, reading counsellor of the Newton schools, was honorary chairman. She is president of Alpha Gamma Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta. Dr. Olive F. Eldridge of the Newton School department is general chairman.

Newton educators who had major roles at the conference included:

Miss Margaret M. Otto, special education counsellor; Miss Rita M. Cushing, Miss Anne Fahy, principal of the Countryside School; Miss Freda Stevens, Miss Edwina Bacigalupo, Miss Sarah Phillips, Mrs. B. Zervas and Miss Barbara Langdon.

Two Newton residents who teach elsewhere who participated in panels are Mrs. Julia Cox Tapley, a teacher in Weston, and Miss Helen Kent, a member of the Brookline school department.

Get Wentworth Posts

Eight Newton residents have been appointed to faculty advisor positions by H Russell Beatty, president of Wentworth Institute which trains industrial and engineering technicians.

They are: Harold S. Rice of 92 Walker street, Newtonville, Meteorology Club faculty advisor; Alvin N Page of 36 Canterbury road, Newton Highlands, Pistol Club; Carl W. Nickerson of 17 Keller path, Newton Center, Quality Control Club; Robert A. Edwards of 77 Davis avenue, West Newton, Antique Fire Arms Club faculty advisor; Angelo F. Piantedosi of 64 Hillside avenue, West Newton, Archery Club; Roger R. Borden of 65 Stearns street, Newton Centre, T-Square Club; Buono B. Rufo of 290 Adams street, Newton, Wrought Iron Club; and Raymond M Knight of 34 Charles st., Auburndale, Community Club faculty advisor.

Whist Parties

Surely a pleasant place to spend Thursday evenings is at the African Mission Fathers, 337 Common street, (Route 135) Dedham. Beginning at eight o'clock each Thursday evening you can play whist in a friendly, relaxed atmosphere.

The prizes are plentiful and good. All the proceeds go to help the African Mission Fathers in their Apostolic work. Everybody is welcome.

Assigned to Fort Dix

George M. Buck of 1483 Beacon street, Waban has been assigned to the U. S. Army Infantry at Fort Dix for basic training.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Buck. Prior to entering the Army, Private Buck attended Browne & Nichols and the University of Pennsylvania.

Heart Fund Volunteers At "Kick-Off" Tonight

Newton Heart Fund volunteeers will have their own ickoff meeting at an evening coffee, tonight, February 3, at 7:45 at the home of the local chairman, Mrs. Samuel esson, 1063 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre.

Dr. Sylvester McGinn will speak on "Current Research Problems." Dr. McGunn, a past president of the reater Boston Chapter Massachusetts Heart Association, nd a present member of MHA Board of Directors, is also member of the committee on Clinical Research of the merican Heart Association.

The Massachusetts Heart Association and its local chapters this week launched a major attack upon rheumatic fever, the most prevalent childhood crippler in the state and nation. An intensive educational program for parents and children to acquaint them with the facts of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease comes at a time when the incidence of rheumatic fever begins its seasonal rise.

tate Industrial lowdown Blamed n Gov. Furcolo

Governor's Councillor Chrisan A. Herter Jr., of Newton, an address this week at the nual Lincoln Day dinner in orcester, declared that Maschusetts has felt the impact the economic recession to a eater extent than other secons of the nation because of e manner in which the industial climate in this State has terioriated under Governor rcolo during the past year.

Herter asserted flatly that ousands of persons now out work in Massachusetts can ame Governor Furcolo's adinistration and its policies for eir inability to find jobs.

The Republican candidate for overnor said that a substanal number of industries moved it of Massachusetts during e past year and that other siness firms have curtailed eir activities and cut down employment and working urs.

Dies of Injuries From Plow Crash

Hugh MacLeod, 20, of 20 Murray road, West Newton, died in Saranac, N. Y., on Tuesday of injuries suffered when an automobile in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a snow plow. He is a graduate of Newton High School and a student at Paul Smiths College. His father is Thomas H. MacLeod, well known advertising manager. The youth's mother died about a year ago. He also has a 12-year-old sister, Susan.

Scouts Find "Sleeping Out" A Nice, Routine Adventure

Not a single cold; not a trace of a sore throat or even the sniffles followed the frigid send-off 350 sturdy Boy Scouts from two Newton troops gave to National Boy Scout Week.

The boys, re-dedicating themselves to the ideals of their organization, camped out Saturday night on the lawn of the Auburndale Congregational Church at Grove street and Woodland road and the lawn of H. J. Purple, Hyde avenue and Centre street, Newton Corner. Previously, they staged a colorful torchlight parade and "took over" the operation of the Newton city government.

The troops were Explorer Post 24 and Boy Scouts Troop 22. Gustave Umbsen, scoutmaster, and William Hopkins had charge of Troop 22. Jack Crosby was scoutmaster of Post 24.

Some of the boys' parents were a bit worried. The boys themselves took it in stride.

They spent the afternoon cooking hot dogs for passersby. Later they prepared meat loaf and biscuits over an open fire for their supper. After supper they went to City Hall for the formal re-dedication exercises. Following the City Hall cere-

Hearing Set for Monday On Highlands Line Sale To the MTA By the B&A

Mayor Whitmore to Lead Fight Against Purchase

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., will spearhead a fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission next Monday morning against the proposed abandonment of the Newton Highlands Branch of the Boston & Albany railroad.

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, Jr., will team up with the Mayor in battling the move by the B. & A. to discontinue service on the Highlands Branch and pave the way for the MTA to purchase the line.

As a result of the efforts of Congressman Laurence Curtis and other officials the hearing was shifted from Washington to Boston. It will be held before Examiner H. J. Blond in Room 1309 of the Federal Building in downtown Boston starting at 9:30 a.m.

While Mayor Whitmore and other opponents of the contemplated abandonment of the Highlands Branch are conceding nothing in their battle and intend to fight right down to the wire, their chances of stopping the move do not seem bright at the present time.

Whitmore is planning to present a two-pronged argument to the ICC examiner.

1. He will maintain that with a little more intelligent and aggressive operation of the Highlands Branch and the proper maintenance of the railroad's property, the line could be operated at a very small loss and perhaps at no loss at all.

B & A Trains Stoned Again

As if commuters in this area aren't having enough trouble—an epidemic of stone-throwing has broken out again.

Trains are the targets. The B & A Train No. 105 recently was subjected to a barrage of stones about 5:40 p.m. at a point between the Newton Corner station and the Brighton line.

Fortunately, no windows were broken. No passenger lost an eye or suffered a severe laceration. The stone-peggers fled before Patrolmen Anthony J. Grella and Joseph E. LaCroix reached the scene.

ROUTINE TAKE-OFF gets glamour treatment when Lt. Eugene I. Greenwood, Navy air reservist, receives "good luck" saluation from Miss Massachusetts 1958, the lovely Miss Dolly Hirsch. Lt. Greenwood, who resides at 70 Athelstane road, Newton Centre, was off to Miami for two weeks annual training from the South Weymouth base when photo was taken. The local weekend warrior is a jet fighter pilot attached to Squadron VF-917. Lucky guy!

To Dedicate Nonantum Branch Library Sunday

The long-awaited Nonantum Branch Library building will open its doors on Sunday afternoon to the citizens of this section of Newton who have worked and hoped for their own branch library for over 50 years.

The handsome colonial building, built at a cost of $140,000, will be dedicated at ceremonies to be held at 3 p.m. on Feb. 16, which will feature an address by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.

Since 1870, the village of Nonantum has been provided with library service operating from such varied locations as a real estate office, a bank, a school and even by horse and wagon express delivery on a weekly basis.

The dedication will culminate a half a century of efforts by library officials, aldermen, and Nonantum residents to have their own edifice erected.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Gibbons Bid Against Kennedy May Be Based on Past Upsets

Former Republican State Committee Chairman harles Gibbons seemingly is undertaking a hopeless campaign in preparing to challenge U. S. Senator John F. ennedy and from all surface appearances is launching fight he has no chance of winning.

The strange thing about it, however, is that Gibbons' rospects don't appear much slimmer or dimmer than d those of Kennedy himself just six years ago when he ade ready to wage his battle against Henry Cabot Lodge,

Political experts in the late winter of 1952 were conced that Kennedy, then completing his third term and xth year in Congress, in setting his sights on Lodge's enate seat, was destined to encounter almost certain feat.

Lodge was regarded as the champion Republican ote-getter in Massachusetts. He had defeated James M. urley in 1936 and former Congressman Joseph Casey in 42. He gave up his Senate post to go into the army and ter his discharge from the service overwhelmed the doubtable David I. Walsh in 1946.

With Kennedy now regarded as unbeatable in the ay State and a likely choice for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1960, it is strange to recall that he last time he ran for public office — in his 1952 contest with Lodge — he was the underdog right down to he closing stages of the campaign.

Kennedy was the beneficiary of a number of favorble developments in that campaign — lucky breaks the oliticians would call them — some of them not of his wn making. Without them he might have been defeated.

Greg Kelley, 13, Aims for Olympic Heights as Skater

You'll be hearing a lot about Gregory Kelley as time goes on. You'll probably be seeing his picture and reading his name in the paper a lot around 1960.

At least that's the forsecast of experts who appear to know. They say Gregory is headed right now for the Olympiad of 1960.

Gregory is an eighth grader at the Sacred Heart School in Newton Highlands. He's also holder of the novice championship of the eastern Senior Men's skating meet. He acquired title to that rating at the championships held at Trop, N. Y., last week.

Gregory is shooting for the world's championships next year and the Olympic title the year after.

Right now he has his studies and his preparation for the National Junior Championships at Minneapolis, March 26.

Quite a boy is Gregory.

He's the son of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Kelley of 1032 Centre street, Newton.

Archbishop Cushing Attends Our Lady's Centennial Mass

Archbishop Cushing attended the special mass which marked the 100th anniversary of Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Newton Upper Falls on Sunday.

With him in the sanctuary were the Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, J.C.D., pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre and Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, and the Right Rev. Walter J. Furlong, pastor of Our Lady's Church, Newton.

Rev. Daniel F. Riordan, pastor of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, celebrated the Mass assisted by Rev. William M. Carpenger of St. Paul's Church, Dorchester, deacon, and Rev. John J. Mulcahy of Blessed Sacrament Church, Jamaica Plain, as sub-deacon.

Msgr. Francis J. Rossiter of St. John's Seminary was first Master of Ceremonies and Rev. William C. Carroll was second Master of Ceremonies.

Chaplains to Archbishop Cushing were Rev. William J. Melea of Mt. St. Joseph's Academy, Brighton and Rev. Francis J. Horgan, chaplain of the Veteran's Hospital, Brighton. Rev. Thomas Kennedy of St. Joseph's Church, Needham, was assistant priest to the Archbishop.

Chaplain's to Bishop MacKenzie were Rev. Joseph Meredith of St. Joseph's parish, Kingston, and Rev. Leo Geraci of the Stigmatine Fathers, Waltham.

The 4th degree members of the David I. Walsh Assembly, Knights of Columbus attended the ceremonies. Miss Vera O'Connor was organist and Anthony Pazasis directed the choir.

Other clergymen present were Msgr. John R. Wall, former pastor of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church and now at St. Joseph's Church, Belmont and Rev. Dr. Louis I. Cunney of St. John's Church, Wellesley.

Tribute by Mayor To Retiring Boston College President

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., today paid high tribute to the Very Rev. Joseph R. N. Maxwell, S.J., retiring president of Boston College, and warmly commended Father Maxwell's cooperation with Newton municipal officials during his tenure at Uni versity Heights.

At the same time the Mayor extended a hearty welcome to the Very Rev. Michael P. Walsh, S.J., former head of the biology department at B.C., who be-

Taxpayers' Assn. Opposes State Withholding Tax

Sharp opposition to Governor Furcolo's recommendation for the enactment of a State withholding income tax, was expressed this week by the Newton Taxpayer's Association in its bulletin.

The association characterized the measure as an "Aid Some State Politicians Bill."

Three principal arguments were advanced by the Taxpayers' Association in advocating the defeat of the Governor's bill.

1. That a mountain of new office-holders will be created to bring forth a financial mouse in new revenue.

2. That "the cost of the new bureaucratic section would not be justified and would prove increasingly and uselessly more expensive as time goes on."

H. S. Drama Festival Offers 3 Top Plays Tomorrow Night

Three different casts will offer three different plays at the Newton High School Drama Festival to be presented tomorrow (Friday) in the High School Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The plays will be "The Solid Gold Cadillac," "Medea", and "The Green Pastures."

The festival will be one of the dramatic highlights of the school year as the winner is chosen to represent Newton High in the Massachusetts Drama Festival and possibly the New England competition as well.

Last years Newton winner, "Antigone," reached the State semi-finals before being eliminated and this year's contestants hope to equal or better that record.

Co-directors, as in past years, will be Miss Helen Ryan and William B. Spink. This year's judges will be Miss Viola Jackson, Somerville High School, the Rev. Richard Powers, St. Sebastian's Country Day School and Mrs. Genevieve Oncley, Newton School Committee member.

The cast of The Solid Gold Cadillac includes Reiner Beeukes '58, Richard Boardman '58, Richard McCarthy '58, Tim Kincla '58, Burt Garolnick '60, Emily McMillan '58, Doris Axelrod '60, and Jeffrey Lee '60.

Planning Study Published by Women's League

In cooperation with five other local leagues, the League of Women Voters of Newton has published a report titled "A Look at Planning in Metropolitan Boston."

Mrs. Albert Mezoff, regional planning chairman in the Newton League, calls attention to this report stating that "for the first time there is available a complete report of State, Municipal and Private Agencies interested in Regional Planning." She points out that Boston is the only major Metropolitan Region having no Regional Planning Agency.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL'S foreign student, Marie-France Briau, is presented a Girl Scout handbook by Carol Weitz at Brownie Scout meeting in honor of international scouting week. Next to Marie are Mrs. George Taylor, assistant leader, left, and Mrs. Henry Rulis, leader of Troop 90.

Girl Scouts Hear Foreign Student

Marie-France Eriau, one of two American Field Service exchange students studying at Newton High School, visited Brownie and Girl Scout troops 37 and 90 of the Horace Mann School neighborhood on Feb. 11 to celebrate International Scouting Month.

The program opened with a flag ceremony planned by several of the scouts working for their second class badges. They are: Susan Larson, Betsy Brooks, Ruth Mueller, Diane

Major De Seversky Will Be Local Speaker Mar. 9

Major Alexander De Seversky, internationally noted industrialist, pilot, inventor, author and lecturer, will be the guest speaker at Temple Shalom, on Sunday evening, March 9th.

The famed flyer and breaker of world speed records in the air, will speak at the Temple auditorium, 175 Temple street, West Newton, at 8 o'clock. He will discuss, "The State of our National Defense."

The local appearance of Major De Seversky is under the joint sponsorship of the Sisterhood and the Brotherhood of Temple Shalom. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Wilfred Holsberg at BI 4—1254.

Major De Seversky is a decorated combat pilot, designer and builder of aircraft, and a famed lecturer and author. He is special consultant to the Chief of Staff of the United States Air Force and has recently made headlines nationally following some terse and thought-provoking statements made on Edward R. Morrow's "Person to Person" television show and as the subject of one of the recent Mike Wallace Interviews.

Auxiliary To YMCA Plans Rummage Sale

The Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Y.M.C.A. is planning a Rummage Sale for Friday, March 7, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., to be held at the Newton YMCA, 276 Church street, Newton.

Mrs. Stephen Currier and Mrs. Andrew McKnight are in charge of the sale. Proceeds will be pledged to the "Y" building fund. Those wishing to donate articles may call Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck at DE 2-9159.

Newton Temples Hold Brotherhood Breakfast

An overflow gathering attended the Annual All-Newton-Temple Brotherhoods' breakfast last Sunday morning at Temple Emanuel Community Hall to celebrate the observance of Brotherhood month.

This year's acting host was Temple Emanuel Brotherhood President Harry Fisher. He was assisted by Harold Glickman of 55 Wheeler road. The principal speaker was Rabbi David A. Goldstein of Philadelphia.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

● Teenage Personality

Q. Does the personality change when a youngster reaches teenage?

A. Not always. Doctors who studied personality traits of almost 400 boys and girls found about half showed no teenage change. Various changes in personality occurred in the others. Some improved greatly —a few slipped badly.

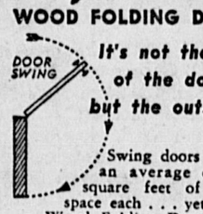

Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

Murphy Gives Lecture On Geophysics

Vincent J. Murphy, a resident of Medford, and a graduate of Boston College Graduate School, Engineering Geophysicist of Weston Geophysical Engineers, Weston, gave an illustrated kodachrome slide lecture to the St. Ignatius, Chestnut Hill, Holy Name Society.

The subject of Mr. Murphy's talk was "Geophysics and the Civil Engineer." He discussed geophysical projects which he has supervised on the East Coast, West Coast, and in Puerto Rico. Such projects were concerned with proposed power plants, highways, dam sites, and bridges.

He discussed the various geophysical techniques used on these projects, their advantages and limitations.

Local Doctors to Do Research Work At Mass. General

Dr. James Fulton Patterson, of 38 Prince street, West Newton, and Dr. Irving Wolf, of 27 Amherst road, Waban, were among 36 Massachusetts doctors who recently received appointments to the Harvard Medical School and its affiliated hospitals.

Dr. Patterson, who received his B.S. in 1941 from Antioch College and his M.D. from Harvard, was named a Research Fellow in Dermatology and will be associated with the Mass General Hospital.

Dr. Wolf received his A.B. in 1949 from Boston University, his A.M. in 1951 and his Ph.D. in 1954. He was appointed Research Associate in Psychology and will be associated with the Massachusetts General Hospital.

World Day of Prayer At New Eliot Church Feb. 21

Newton's observance of the World Day of Prayer on Feb. 21 will take place in the new Eliot Church according to Mrs. William W. Clark, chairman of arrangements for the United Church Women of Newton.

The observance in Newton will follow the same order of service to be used in thousands of services in hundreds of tongues all around the world. The day will open with the first service as the sun rises in the South Seas, and will continue until the last one marks the setting of the sun over the Bering Sea. Dr. Olivia Pearl Stokes will be the speaker in Newton.

At all the 20,000 or more services to be held in this country, offerings will be given by American Christians to help carry on a multitude of projects. Newton has reason to take a special interest in one of the health ministries which is in part supported by this offering.

A few weeks ago this project was brought to local television screens on the program, "M.D. International." Before the television camera, Dr. Reeve Betts, the first thoracic surgeon to go to India, operated on a "blue baby." Newton can claim a share in Dr. Betts, for he is the husband of the former Martha Jones, whose mother, Mrs. H. E. Jones, still lives in the family home at the corner of Beacon street and Grant avenue, Newton Centre. Mrs. Jones has never been to India herself, but the work of her daughter and son-in-law there are well known.

State Slowdown-

"The result," Herter added, "has been that Massachusetts has felt the impact of the present economic recession to a greater extent than most of the other 47 States."

He cited facts and figures to support his allegations and to show the manner in which employment in Massachusetts has declined under Governor Furcolo.

"In 1956, the last year of the Herter administration," Herter stated, "unemployment compensation benefit payments to jobless workers totaled $44,878,000. In that year, incidentally, Massachusetts employers paid $70,303,000 into the unemployment fund in employment security taxes so that there was a surplus of approximately $25,425,000 for 1956.

"In 1957, with Governor Furcolo in office," Herter continued, "unemployment compensation benefits rose to $75,404,000 over the previous year, an increase of almost 60 per cent.

"A further idea of the plight of Massachusetts industry and workers during the first year of the Furcolo administration may be obtained from the fact that payments into the jobless fund in employment security taxes in 1957 amounted to $65,297,000. In other words, for that year there was a deficit of $10,107,000 as compared to the $25,425,000 surplus the previous year.

"These figures tell a striking story," Herter told his audience, "and it is a tragic story for Massachusetts workers."

Winners in the Newton Junior Theatre scholarship contest were announced today by the Newton Junior Theatre which is starting its second term with anenrollment of 30 new pupils.

They are: Richard Bachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bachman of 1484 Beacon street, Waban; Miss Judith Thompson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Thompson of Chatham road, Newton Highlands, and Jere Mead, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jere Mead, of 56 Pine Ridge road, Waban, and Miss Stepheny Kotzen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kotzen of 194 Grant avenue, Newton Centre.

Richard Bachmann won the one term scholarship in the formal theatre course for writing the best letter on "The Importance of Dramatic Training."

Miss Thompson submitted the best letter on "The Importance of a Public Speaking Course." She will receive a one-term scholarship in the school's public speaking course.

Jere Mead won honorable mention for the most original letter.

comes the new president of the college.

"The announcement that Father Maxwell is to assume new duties which will take him away from Boston College means that not only has Boston College lost the services of one who has contributed so much in the way of administrative abilities but who also through his efforts has contributed much to the city of Newton," declared Mayor Whitmore.

"I know the people of Newton join me in expressing sincere appreciation for the interest he has taken in the city, not only in educational and religious matters but from a civic standpoint as well," the Mayor continued.

"Those of us in the Greater Boston community who have been privileged to attend the now famous Boston College seminars, which were established under his leadership, will recall forever the guidance he has provided to consider our economic and social plight and his motivation for us to plan for a better future.

"I wish to thank Father Maxwell personally and in behalf of the citizens of the Newton for his cooperation, friendliness and hospitality which we have enjoyed on so many occasions," Whitmore stated.

"It has been a deep privilege to know him. I wish him every happiness in his new assignment and hope he will return frequently to his home at Boston College where he will always be welcome.

"At the same time we are saying goodbye to Father Maxwell, we extend a warm welcome, hearty congratulations sand best wishes to Father Walsh as he assumes the duties president of Boston College," the Mayor asserted.

Mayor Whitmore assured Father Walsh of "our cooperation in any matters in which we can be of assistance" and expressed confidence that under the leadership of its new president Boston College "will continue to move ahead and make further progress as an outstanding educational institution."

DOROTHY O'CONNOR

Newton Girl To Star Again In Religious Play

Miss Dorothy O'Connor of 315 Bellevue street, Newton, repeats her former successes in America's oldest Passion Play when PILATE'S DAUGHTER begins its fifty-seventh season on Thursday evening, February 20th at St. Alphonsus Hall, directly behind the Mission Church in Roxbury. Each Thursday evening and Saturday and Sunday afternoon peoples of all faiths will thrill to the reenactment of the conversion and persecution of the daughter of the man who condemned Christ.

Miss O'Connor plays the role of Pilate's wife. Even in High School, the Newton girl took part in the play and subsequently won one of the most important roles, one of tenderness and tragedy. It was Pilate's wife who warned him to have nothing to do with the Nazarene. A sensitive wife's intuition provided advice which unfortunately went unheeded.

Gores To Appear OnNationwideTV

Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores will represent the viewpoint of public schools on a major new television show, "The Great Challenge" to be telecast all over the United States by CBS.

Participating in a series of discussions on the central problems facing education will be five college presidents, a college professor, a foundation administrator, and Dr. Gores.

The first symposium, entitled "Education For What" will be seen here on Channel 5 Sunday afternoon, February 23.

Circulate Leash Law Petitions

Proponents of a full-time leash law for Newton continued their fight this week with the announcement that petitions are being circulated throughout the city to collect signatures of those who support the movement.

Mrs. Charles Robinson, chairman of the legislative committee of the PTA Council, and Mrs. Samuel Horovitz, committee member, announced that petitions may be obtained from them and will be presented to the Board of Aldermen when the leash law comes up before them this spring.

Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Horovitz and Edward Uehlein, PTA Concil president, appeared before the school board at its Monday night meeting when the leash law came up for discussion.

The School Committee indicated they would favor reasonable restraint, but would give the matter some thought and make their views known at a later date.

Last summer the Board of Aldermen turned down an ordnance initiated by the PTA Council asking for a part-time leash law by a 15-2 vote. The PTA group is now urging the adoption of a full-time leash law whereby dogs will be restrained at all times except when on their owners' property.

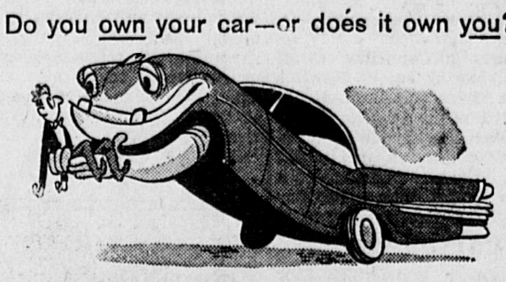

Citizen interested in circulating a petition may contact Mrs. Robinson at DE 2-3945 or Mrs. Horovitz at BI 4-1903.

Special Exhibits at Open House Jackson Homestead

An open house will be held at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, next Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. with hostesses in each room to greet visitors and answer questions.

Special exhibits this year include a collection of Chinese snuff bottles loaned by Miss Lillian A. Smith, president of the Boston China Student Club; as well as a group of patch boxes which ladies used for their "comfits" to gentlemen to carry nutmeg for their punch.

The patch boxes have been loaned by Mrs. Edward J. Sawyer, who is in charge of the exhibit, assisted by Miss Florence C. Bacon, Mrs. Joshua B. Clark, Mrs. Kenneth C. Collinson and Mrs. F. Leslie Ford.

In the exhibit room there will be a display of old guns and firearms by Mr. E. T. Dickinson and on the walls will hang the coats of arms of 30 or more Newton families. Also in the room will be a display of colorful bottles fram the large collection of Norman H. Deane.

This February open house is in the general charge of Mrs. Newell J. Trask and the hostesses will be: Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, Mrs. Spencer F. Deming, Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mrs. Lorimer T. Reed, Mr . George R. Strandberg, Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, Mrs. William D. Wellock and Mrs. Frederick J. Wood.

Also greeting the guests will be Miss Adelaide B. Ball, president of the Friends, and members of the board of trustees, Mrs. E. Graham Bates, chairman, Fred C. Alexander, Frederick Sayford Bacon, Professor Arthur S. Dewing, Mrs. F. Leslie Ford, Richard H. Lee and Mrs. Newell J. Trask.

At Alumnae Parley

Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, Jr., of 152 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, and Mrs. Sheldon Dunlap, of 48 Harrison street, Newton Highlands, were among nearly 200 alumnae of Mount Holyoke College who attended the recent 42nd annual meeting of the Alumnae Concil.

Meeting on the South Hadley campus, the group discussed "Education, 'An Excellent Thing in Woman.'"

Hearing Set-

This would make it unnecessary for the city to assume the additional heavy financial loss which would be involved in having the MTA take the last remaining piece of industrially zoned land in Newton, the Mayor will point out to the examiner.

2. His second argument will be that if the MTA does take over the Highlands Branch, as now seems likely, there should be no interruption in the service.

Mayor Whitmore will place strong emphasis on that argument because tentative plans of MTA officials call for discontinuing all service on the Highlands Branch for about a year while they make necessary repairs to the rails.

Whitmore will point out that the MTA will run the risk of a heavy loss in patronage if the 4000 persons who now use the B. & A. trains of the Highlands Branch are forced to find other means of transportation for a period of a year.

Not only would such an interruption of service cause a serious public inconvenience, Mayor Whitmore will argue, but many of the riders undoubtedly would turn to car pools and never return to the MTA.

Indications are that the weight of the fight against the B. & A. move will fall on Mayor Whitmore and that there will be strong support in favor of the proposal for allowing the road to sell the branch line to the MTA.

State OKs $1000 Tax Abatements To 8 in Oak Hill

The State Appelate Tax Board has granted abatements of $1000 each to eight out of 11 residents of Spiers road, Oak Hill, considerably less than what they had sought.

The city had set valuations on the 11 properties at approximately $12,000 each. The appeals were on the 1954 valuations and the State board's decision limited them to that year.

Those who received the abatements were Robert P. Waterman, 275 Spiers road; Alvin Mandell, 287 Spiers road; Philip D. Dine, 271 Spiers road; David Casty, 266 Spiers road; Leonard Weinberg, 260 Spiers road; Morris Klickstein, 254 Spiers road; Wilbur Gershlak, 250 Spiers road, and David T. Rubin, 259 Spiers road.

Decisions in favor of the city were ordered in the appeals of Lester Mintzer, 243 Spiers road; Bert R. Harmon, 249 Spiers road, and David Carlson, 253 Spiers road.

The appellants were represented by Attorney George Michaels, 52 Roundwood road, Newton Upper Falls, and the city was represented by Assistant City Solicitor George Elbaum.

Perhaps the biggest single factor which militated in Kennedy's favor was the fact that at the 1952 Republican national convention Lodge, serving as manager of the Eisenhower campaign, aroused the bitter antagonism of the supporters of the late Robert A. Taft.

When that convention in Chicago came to an end, Taft's followers rallied behind the then General Eisenhower, but they nursed their grievances against Lodge. As far as he was concerned they neither forgot nor forgave.

They were waiting with political knives and with hatchets when Lodge himself sought their votes and their support a few months later. Among them were such men as Basil Brewer, publisher of the New Bedford Standard-Times, and they did Lodge incalculable harm.

Kennedy himself, of course, was a strong and appealing candidate, one whom many Republicans as well as Independents and Democrats could readily accept.

The result was that Lodge was defeated in an election in which President Eisenhower carried Massachusetts by more than 200,000 votes and Christian A. Herter unseated Paul A. Dever who also had been regarded as invincible and was considered by the political seers as more likely to win than Kennedy.

Now Kennedy is at the height of his political strength in Massachusetts. In the past six years he has strengthened and solidified himself across and up and down the Commonwealth. He came within a hairbreadth of achieving his party's Vice Presidential nomination in 1956.

If any office-holder ever loomed as invincible and unbeatable in Massachusetts, Kennedy appears to be in that category today, and one might well wonder why Gibbons, an able and astute politician, would undertake such a fight.

Perhaps he regards it as an everything-to-gain-and-nothing-to-lose proposition, realizing that Kennedy is rated so strong the he (Gibbons) might attain increased prestige by making a creditable showing against the junior Senator.

Perhaps he is trying to put himself in a position to bid for high public office in 1960.

Possibly he has been persuaded by top party leaders in Washington to make the fight against Kennedy.

But maybe he also has been swayed by the knowledge that nothing is certain in politics, that the chapters of political history are interspersed with pages about the defeats of men who supposedly couldn't lose and the victories by candidates who supposedly couldn't win.

Many a prominent politico has discovered the hard way that the time he is in greatest danger of defeat is when his supporters are convinced that he has an easy fight, is certain to win and that there is no need for them to get out and do any work.

In 1948 the supporters of Thomas E. Dewey purchased the champagne and made elaborate preparations for the victory celebration they never held. In 1952 Paul A. Dever was labelled a sure winner for reelection. James M. Curley won most of his victories when he was the underdog and suffered most of his defeats when he was the favorite.

Politics is one field in which the condemned man periodically says goodbye to his friends, eats his final meal, walks the last mile and then executes the executioner.

It's just possible Gibbons had that in mind when he decided to challenge Senator Kennedy.

* * * *

There is not much doubt but that the withdrawal of Gibbons from the gubernatorial field has improved the prospects of Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., for achieving the Republican nomination for Governor. It also, of course, precludes the possibility of any stalemate at the GOP State convention to be held June 14.

To some degree, at least, Herter and Gibbons would have drawn from the same sources of strength. Each would have lessened the other's chances of winning.

While some of the delegates, who had intended to support Gibbons, undoubtedly will shift over to Attorney General George Fingold, the likelihood is that a larger number will swing behind Herter.

That was indicated the other day when influential Representative Harrison Chadwick of Winchester, who had been riding on the Gibbons gubernatorial bandwagon, announced publicly that he was switching to the Herter camp in view of the fact that Gibbons was running for the Senate instead of the Governorship.

Science Fair '58 At Angier School

Over 800 parents and pupils attended "Science Fair '58" held at the Angier School recently. The Fair featured 90 exhibits and was conducted by the three sixth grade classes.

Among the guests were Dr. Albert Navez, Head of the Science Department, NHS; Carl Penny, Head of the Science Department, Warren Jr. High; Dr. Pearl Nelson, School of Education, Boston University; and Miss Elinor Johnson and Harvey Segal, Directors of Field Science Conservation, Newton Public Schools, as well as many secondary school science teachers.

Judges Dr. Albert Navez and Carl Penny designated as the two outstanding entries "Needs of Living Things" by Judy Levin and "Weather Forecasting" by John Kaufmann.

Honorable mention went to: Robert Fellows, "Rat Feeding;" Jeff Schneider, "Magnets;" Merle Isenberg, "Levers;" Vincent Cioffari, "Temperature;" James Kaplan, "Oxygen Cycle;" Iris Yoffe, "Carbon Dioxide," Wendy Colten, "Lobster Dissection;" and Corey Steadman, "Color Disc."

"Science Fair '58" was arranged by pupil committees under the direction of a teacher committee made up of Miss Helen Jacques, Miss Elizabeth Blanchard and Richard Smith. Robert Jackson, served as advisor.

Rev. Guptill To Take N.Y. Post

The Rev. Nathanael M. Guptill, minister of the First Church Congregational, Newton Centre, for four years, will become associate secretary and minister of the General Council of Congregational Churches.

In the post, which he will assume in New York offices in the spring, he will direct the denomination's Department of the Ministry, overseeing the recruiting, training and maintaining of the standards for parish ministers.

Mr. Guptill was born at Deer Isle, Maine. His father was a member of the clergy and for many years served as the superintendent of the non-denominational Maine Seacoast Mission.

Mr. Guptill served in Vassalboro, Me.; Salem, N.H.; Rowley; South Portland, Me., and on the faculty of the Andover Newton Theological school before accepting the pastorate of the Congregational Church of Newton Centre.

Students Visit Science Museum

Students from the Weeks, the Memorial and the Bigelow Junior High Schools were among groups of children who attended a science lecture-demonstration at the Museum of Science in Boston last week.

Among the points touched on by the Museum's Education Department were motors and generators, static and current electricity, high voltage and electronics. Designed to stimulate an interest in science, the program is held in the Museum's Morse Auditorium and it features several demonstrations in which students play key roles.

AA Battery In Highlands Is Deactivated

The anti-aircraft battery stationed on the grounds of the Working Boys Home on Nahanton street, Newton Highlands, has been deactivated and its personnel of 150 men assigned to other New England posts.

The deactivation was completed the other day but had been going on gradually for several weeks.

The battery occupied 5¼ acres of the land of the Working Boys Home and had erected 15 buildings. When it leased the property, the army agreed to restore it to its original condition upon leaving the site.

The 15 buildings are of the pre-fabricated variety. It is expected all but one—a mess hall—will come down. Brother Joseph of the home said that his organization was considering asking the army to leave the mess hall standing for later use by the home.

Newton Solons Oppose Lottery

All four members of the House of Representatives from Newton voted against the bill designed to give Massachusetts a legal lottery system. The measure was rejected in a roll call vote of 77 to 131. Recorded against it were Representatives George E. Rawson, Irene K. Thresher, Arthur G. Heaney and John W. Whittemore.

Public Relations Comm. Formed By PTA Council

At the February meeting of the Newton P.-T.A. Council held recently at the old Pierce School in West Newton it was voted to set up a public relations committee to publicize the general values of good education and specific activities in Newton which implement these values.

As recommended by a special study made by another committee headed by Jerome Grossman, the new committee will be responsible to the P.-T.A. Council. Members have not yet been selected. Robert G. Ward of the Hyde School moved that the work done by the study committee which made the report be commended.

The nominating committee selected at the meeting includes, Miss Ann Caldwell, principal of the Peirce School, who was named chairman pro tem, Dr. Thomas Brower of Beethoven, Clark Fisher of Angier, Mrs. Robert Frost of Horace Mann, and John Swanton of Bigelow.

Mrs. Roger Hamilton, secretary of the P.-T.A. Council reported on a course on social behavior being given for parents at Newton Junior College.

A total of 1206 Newton school children were taken to see Cinerama under P.T.A. auspices in January.

Various Newton P.-T.A.'s have contributed over $300 toward a scholarship to send a Newton High School student abroad to study, according to a letter of appreciation from the American Field Service.

New Jersey Girl Weds Newton Boy

Miss Nancy Dean Widmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dean Widmer, of Springfield, N. J., became the bride of Stephen James Madden, Jr., of Newton Lower Falls on Feb. 1.

The Rev. Bruce Evans performed the ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church. A reception followed at the Fortnightly Club of Summit, N. J.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen James Madden.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a white, pure silk gown with a scoop neckline and long sleeves which were highlighted with bands of alencon lace and pearls.

Miss Judith Lucy Widmer was maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Diana Bradbury and Miss Mary Jane Caldwell were bridesmaids.

Robert H. Madden was best man for his brother, and ushers were William J. Bicknell, John Ross Madden and David B. Gernes, all of Newton.

Mrs. Madden was graduated from Oberlin College and is with WGBH-Educational Foundation in Cambridge. Mr. Madden is studying at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and working in their Instrumentation Laboratory. The couple will make their home in Boston.

Attend Parley on Talented Students

Three Newton school personnel were among 200 of the nation's leading educators who participated in a national conference on academically-talented students which took place from February 6-8.

Participants were Harold B. Gores, superintendent of the Newton Public Schools; Harold Howe, II, principal of Newton High School and associate director of Newton Junior College; and Richard D. Batchelder, social studies teacher at Newton High School.

Mr. Gores was recorder for a session on "Educating the Academically-Talented Secondary School Pupils in Mathematics," and Mr. Batchelder chaired a discussion "Educating the Academically-Talented Secondary School Pupil in Social Studies."

(Loring Photo)
MISS VIRGINIA SWANTON

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Swanton Jr., of 27 George street, Newton and Westport Island, Maine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia May, to Raymond Marshall Russell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Russell, of Belmont.

Miss Swanton is a graduate of Sargent College and is teaching at Beaver Country Day School in Chestnut Hill.

Mr. Russell is a graduate of Boston University and of Franklin Technical Institute and is presently serving with the U. S. Army.

An early Spring wedding is planned.

Celebrity Lunch Attracts Many

Many local residents took part in the recent International Celebrity Luncheon of the Massachusetts Teacher Association which was held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel. Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, of Newtonville, writer and lecturer as mistress of ceremonies, presented the Consuls General of the United Kingdom, the German Federal Republic, Brazil.

Guests of honor included Miss Tenley Albright, Newton's "Queen of the Ice," and Mrs. Grace Warner Gulesian of Chestnut Hill, pianist and composer who accompanied Miss Yong-Soon-Lee of Korea, soprano soloist; Miss Karyl Ann Benson, named the nation's best in 4-H Club achievement at the recent National Congress in Chicago; Colonel Laurence Eliot Bunker, aide to General Douglas MacArthur, and Bradford Washburn, director of the Boston Museum of Science.

Elected to Student Post

Rachel Susan Jacobson of 185 Collins road, Waban, recently was elected president of the Inter-dormitory Council at the University of Chicago. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Jacobson.

Rachel, who transferred to the University of Chicago from Mount Holyoke in the fall of 1956, was president of her own dormitory, Beecher Hall, during her first year there. She is also a member of the Orientation Board, a student group now busy conducting orientation activities for students who entered at midyear.

Her sister, Esther, is a first-year student at University of Chicago.

MRS. JOHN HEBERT

Mary L. Cleary Becomes Bride Of J. R. Hebert

Following a tour of New England, Mr. and Mrs. John Hebert who were married on January 18 are now residing at 19 Melbourne avenue, Newton.

The couple exchanged marriage vows at Our Lady Help of Christians Church at an 11 o'clock mass with the Rev. James E. Tierney officiating and the Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong seated in the sanctuary.

The bride, the former Mary Louise Cleary, daughter of Mrs. Daniel J. Cleary, of 161 California street, Newton, was given in marriage by her brother, William J. Cleary. She wore a princess-style white taffeta over lace gown trimmed with iridescent beads. The square neckline and chapel-length train were complemented by a tulle, fingertip-length veil caught to a headpiece of iridescent beads over lace.

Miss Margaret Anne Cleary was maid of honor for her sister; Miss Sue Magliozzi of Wellesley and Miss Leita Pillion of Newton Highlands were bridesmaids.

William Fitzgerald of Wollaston was best man, and ushers included John D. Cleary, brother of the bride, of Newton, and James Kelly of Wollaston.

The reception was held at the Hotel Beaconsfield.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Hebert, of Burbank, California, has been residing at 24 Elm avenue, Wollaston. He is a senior draftsman at Stone and Webster Engineering Co.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

NBC says it will have another hour-long adventure series, 'Cimarron City," for release next mid-September. George Montgomery, Audrey Totter and John Smith have leading roles. Like its predecessor, "Wagon Train," this one will feature guest stars each week. In the first episode Fred MacMurray will portray an unscrupulous opportunist.

David Davidson's teleplay, "Ex-President," has been dropped from the March Studio One schedule. Sponsors felt it was too controversial.

Jean Morel, French conductor, drew raves for his batoning of Offenbach's "La Perichole" on TV the other week. He'll be right back on February 16 to conduct the NBC Opera company in Verdi's "Rigoletto." It will be done in an English version by Joseph Machlis.

Professor Richard Spurney, the hypnotist who has become a steady customer on Art Linkletter's "People Are Funny," is planning a show of his own for the future. He'll call it "Success Unlimited" and says he'll try to make people's dreams come true through hypnosis.

Girl Scout News From the Newtons

It is hoped that with the appearance of this column more Scribes will endeavor to write for the Girl Scout Column. Until now, so few reports have been received it has been impossible to make up a column. We wish to acknoweldge write-ups from Jody Solomon, Troop 47; Martha Bowen, Troop 79; Carol Ann Stomberg, Troop 213; Faith Freeto, Troop 1; Jane Sullivan, Troop 108; Lynn Alsmeyer, Troop 71; and Leslie Cate, Troop 44. If this column is to be successful, we must receive more than one story a month. Send your items to Mrs. Chester W. White, Jr., 126 Prince Street, West Newton 65, Mass., or to the Girl Scout Office, marking your envolope: Girl Scout Column.

Newton Girl Scout Troop 97 held its January get-together of patrols at the home of their leader, Mrs. Morris Lezar. The assisting mothers were Mrs. Allen Koritsky, Mrs. Arnold Freedman and Mrs. Sidney Hurwitz. The girls were supposed to draw an original drawing for their arts and crafts badge — some of them came out quite modern. After that they were awarded their cooking badge which they had worked on the previous month. Marilyn Koritsky, Scribe.

Brownie Troop 1 of West Newton made Valentine napkin-ring holders for the Childrens Ward of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. We filled them with holiday paper napkins and Valentine candies. Maralyn Bronstein, Scribe.

In January, Troop 102 and Troop 115 met together to hear Mr. Leigh Packer talk about Civil Defense. His discussion was about Newton's plan for defense in case of an atomic attack. Joan Myers lead the group.

The following girls received their senior scout pins: Suzanne Kissell, Joanne Berest, Betty Brinson, Betsy Joyce and Jean Taylor.

Earlier in the month, the Newton Girl Scouts went into Boston to the Ice Capades. During the intermission they collected for the March of Dimes. Members of these two troops also were hostesses at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Girl Scout Council. Jean Taylor, Assistant Scribe.

More Pupils To Attend Weeks

To relieve some of the pressures of crowding in Warren and Bigelow Junior High Schools, the Newton School Board voted on Monday night to redistrict certain areas to enable more pupils to attend Weeks Junior High in Newton Centre.

Stating that the change in zones is part of a "long term program that will avoid making additions all at one time," Dr. Charles O. Richter, assistant superintendent of schools, announced the following shifts:

The section of the Bigelow district south of Ward St., Newton Centre, will now be part of the Weeks district. Next year's seventh graders will no longer attend Bigelow unless they have brothers or sisters already in that school.

A group of sixth graders now at the Angier School in Waban, who would have been assigned to Warren, will now have a choice between Warren and Weeks.

This group includes youngsters living on Ananwan Rd., on either side of Beacon Street, from the railroad to White Oak Rd., on the north side of Beacon from Chestnut to the Angier School; on Carleton, Dorset, Kent, Nehoiden, Ridge, and Varick roads, on Waban Ave., and on Wamesit, White Oak, Wilde, Windsor, and Winnetaska roads.

In addition, the Board voted that the residents of Truman Rd., in Oak Hill will hereafter send their children to the Countryside School instead of to Oak Hill.

Dennis J. Shea Funeral Rites Held on Monday

A requiem mass was celebrated Monday morning in St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, for Dennis J. Shea, 81, long identified with the entertainment and sports field and general manager of the Redskins professional football team during its stay in Boston.

Among the dignitaries who attended the mass were George Carens of the Herald sports department, Tom Dowd, traveling secretary of the Red Sox and John F. McGovern, a principal engineer for the State Department of Public Works.

Mr. Shea died Friday at the Chetwynde Nursing Home, W. Newton.

For 13 years, previous to his retirement in 1956, he had served as treasurer of the National Football League.

He took over as general manager of the Boston Redskins when George Preston Marshall established the professional team in the Hub in 1934. When Marshall decided to move the club to Washington, he joined the Brooklyn Dodger football team's "front office" staff. He left the Dodger organization when he was elected treasurer of the NFL.

He was well known in Boston and New York theatrical circles. Brought up in Boston he was the first program boy at the opening in the 1890's of the Colonial Theatre, Boylston st., Boston.

Subsequently he served as public relations man for the Hollis and Colonial Theatres and also did advance publicity for a number of important motion pictures. He included among his close friends the late George M. Cohan and Florenz Ziegfeld.

Surviving are his wife, Clara A. (Gagnon); two sons, Francis P. of Jamaica Plain and Herman J. of Newton; and four grandchildren.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

mony the Post 24 boys visited Troop 22, and both delegations adjourned to the Auburndale Congregational Church for doughnuts and hot drinks.

Despite the frigid temperatures and biting winds, the sleeping bags and the tents made the night one of real sleep for the troops.

On Sunday morning the Catholic boys went to their own parish churches for mass and the rest of the troop attended a non-denominational Scout service at the Auburndale Congregational Church.

The Torchlight parade Saturday was led by Eagle Scout Allen Warsowe, who was Mayor for the day, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Arthur Menard, Curtis Forbes and members of the police department.

Msgr. Flannigan Named Trustee

Msgr. Charles R. Flannigan, headmaster of St. Sebastian's School, Newton, was named a trustee of the Perkins School for the Blind in Watertown. He will replace John J. Connolly, recently resigned.

Planning Study-

tom of examining and studying measures designed to improve and make government more effective, the Newton League recently held two series of unit meetings. On the basis of membership consensus, league president, Mrs. Martin Greenberg, presented a statement of the Newton League's position before a hearing of the Recess Commission on Metropolitan Problems on Jan. 28. In her statement, the Newton League placed itself on record "as being strongly in favor of regional planning for the Metropolitan Boston area.

"The Newton League believes that the best way to accomplish this is through the establishment of an independent agency, advisory in function, and staffed by professional planners. We favor the inclusion in this agency of representatives of local governments and appropriate state agencies, but have come to no conclusion as to the representation of civic, educational and business groups.

"Our studies impressed us with the seriousness of the problems confronting the Metropolitan Boston area, and we recommend that very early action be taken to help the communities involved meet the urgent needs for solutions of their regional problems."

About four months was spent in preparation of "A Look at Planning in Metropolitan Boston" by members of the Leages of Women Voters in Boston, Lexington, Westwood, Brookline and Watertown, as well as Newton. Each local group was responsible for one of the six chapters.

Newton women worked on the fifth chapter, "Private Groups Interested in Regional Planning." Assisting Mrs. Mezoff in preparation of this material were Mrs. Paul Bohn, Mrs. Lloyd Fogg, Mrs. Spencer Deming, Mrs. Richard Mintz, Mrs. Martin Phillips, Mrs. Arthur Goldwyn, Mrs. Benjamin Perles, Mrs. Martin Greenberg and Mrs. Melvin Shoul.

Opposes State-

3. That unless some forgiveness plan is worked out residents of the State would be called upon to pay two years' taxes in a single year. The association maintained that this is proposed "merely to provide a convenience to present State elected candidates who will be running in November."

"If proponents really believed in the value of their cumbersome proposal, they should be willing to offer it as a good device on its merits, incorporate a forgiveness feature, and try to settle for the extra jobs for the faithful," said the association in its bulletin. "But that would defeat the real purpose of the bill as it stands now—to get some politicians off the financial hook in an election year."

The association estimated that between 120 and 150 persons would have to be hired to do the additional work involved in the withholding tax and that the cost of the operation would amount to between $400,000 and $500,000.

Pointing out that State Tax Commissioner Joseph P. Healey estimated the proposed withholding tax would bring in an additional $1 to $2 million, the Taxpayers' Association expressed doubt that the suggested tax would be worthwhile.

spaciousness and dignity

USE
louver doors
Styled by TYLER...

Pairs of louver doors, folding or sliding, between living and dining rooms give any opening new airiness and attractiveness . . . either open or closed.

Swinging louver doors between dining room and kitchen permit quick and easy access, and prevent accidents.

Louver doors on closets, and on attic and cellar stairways, allow air circulation and light, prevent mildew and mustiness, and discourage moths.

Sliding louver doors cover extra-wide openings to closets, built-in T-V and hi-fi areas, and dens; save wall space normally taken up by wide hinged doors.

Call today for complete information on all Tyler louvered products — louver doors, interior shutters, and window blinds.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
Middlesex, ss. Superior Court
PETITION FOR DISSOLUTION OF RICHARD E. RICE CO., INC. UNDER GENERAL LAWS, (TER. ED.), CHAPTER 155, SECTION 50, BY A MAJORITY OF ITS STOCKHOLDERS.
ALLEGATIONS
1. Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. is a business corporation organized on January 4, 1954, under and by virtue of Chapter 156 (Ter. Ed.) of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
2. The capital stock of said corporation is divided into one hundred (100) Common shares of no par value.
3. That on the first day of February 1958 Richard E. Rice, President, Richard E. Parmenter, Treasurer, and Charles King, Clerk, were present at a meeting of all of the stock holders of the corporation, duly held at 425 Waltham Street, Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, at which meeting all waived notice in writing; and it was duly moved and seconded and VOTED: "That Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. be dissolved as of December 31, 1957, as moved and seconded and voted by all of its stockholders because all of said stockholders of said corporation and all of said officers of said corporation desire to withdraw from the fields of the business of this corporation as traders and dealers in glassware, china, household furnishings and as wholesalers, retailers, exporters, importers of such merchandise and as manufacturers sales agent under said corporate name."
4. That on the said first day of February, 1958 at said meeting, it was further moved, seconded and voted by all the said stockholders that
VOTED: "We, as all the stockholders of Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. hereby authorize that a petition to dissolve said corporation be filed to request the Superior Court of Massachusetts to dissolve the corporation under the provisions of General Laws (Tercentenary Edition) Chapter 155, Section 50."
5. That Richard E. Rice of 426 Waltham Street, West Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and Richard E. Parmenter of 284 Concord Street, Framingham, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and Charles King of 19 Brae Burn Road, East Milton, Norfolk County, Massachusetts, hereby join and assent to this petition in their full capacities as being a majority of and all of the holders of the Common stock of the corporation and as President, Treasurer and Clerk respectively of the said corporation.
6. Petitioners state that said corporation has paid all its debts and has no liabilities and that it has no assets.
WHEREFORE, they for themselves as owners of all the Common stock and as said officers pray:
1. That a decree be entered dissolving said corporation in accordance with the provisions of General Laws, (Tercentenary Edition) Chapter 155, Section 50.
2. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem meet, just and proper.
RICHARD E. RICE
RICHARD E. PARMENTER
CHARLES KING

NEWTON
Middlesex, ss. February 1, 1958
Then personally appeared before me the above named Richard E. Rice, Richard E. Parmenter and Charles King and they all make oath and affirm that all the allegations of the above petition in equity are true to the best of their knowledge and belief.
PAUL H. FITZGERALD,
Notary Public.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
Middlesex, ss.
In Superior Court,
February 5, A. D. 1958.
UPON THE foregoing petition, it is ordered by the Court that the petitioners notify all persons interested to appear before our said Court sitting without juries at the Court House in Cambridge, in the County of Middlesex, on Monday, the seventh day of April, A. D. 1958, at ten o'clock A. M. by causing an attested copy of said petition and of the order of the Court thereon, to be published in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, that they may then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayers in said petition set forth should not be granted.
CHARLES T. HUGHES,
Clerk.
A true copy of the petition and of the order of the Court thereon.
Attest,
CHARLES T. HUGHES,
(G) f13-20-27 Clerk.

DeNucci Facing Sergeant Brown

Only one opponent has extended Newton's Joe DeNucci in his punch-for-pay career thus far. That redoubtable was Sergeant Jackson Brown of Dorchester. Joe emerged from a meeting with the sergeant a winner, but in the latter rounds of their eight-round fray some ringsiders thought the Dorchester soldier had Joe in trouble.

Joe will be able to erase any doubts on the matter March 1. His next opponent in the "bring-em-on-a-little-tougher" phase of his development will be the same sergeant.

CITY OF NEWTON
Massachusetts

INVITATION FOR BIDS

SEALED PROPOSALS for the general contract for the construction of an addition to the Countryside School, 191 Dedham Street, Newton Highlands, Massachusetts, will be received at the office of the Purchasing Agent, City Hall, Newton Centre, Massachusetts, until 2:30 P. M., March 11, 1958, and at that place and time publicly opened and read aloud. All branches of the work will be included in the General Contract.

All proposals for general contract shall be sealed proposals, made in duplicate upon forms furnished by the Purchasing Agent or by the Architect; one copy of the proposal to be deposited with the Purchasing Agent accompanied by cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by a responsible bank or trust company, for the sum of $6,000.00, payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton as liquidated damages, if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. One copy of the proposal (without check) must be filed by the bidder in the Office of the Comptroller of Accounts of Newton prior to the time stated for the opening of proposals.

Sub-bidders bidding on the work of the sub-trades shall submit their sub-bids on forms provided by the Purchasing Agent, in sealed envelopes endorsed with the title of the work, division of the work for which bid is submitted, and sub-bidder's name and business address. All such sub-bids shall be filed in the office of the Purchasing Agent, City Hall, Newton Centre, not later than 2:30 P. M., March 4, 1958, and at that place and time publicly opened and read aloud.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Mayor of Newton, each in the penal sum of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

Bid forms, plans, specifications and contract documents may be obtained from Hugh Stubbins and Associates, Architects, 806 Masachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts, after 2:30 P. M., February 17, 1958, on deposit of $60.00. Any bidder will be refunded his deposit upon returning the documents in good condition, within fifteen (15) days after opening of bids; any non-bidder will be returned $30.00 of his deposit.

Copies of Bid Forms for General Contract and filed subbids may be obtained at no charge at the offices of the Purchasing Agent and of the Architects.

Every sub-bid designated in Item 2 of the Bid Form for General Contractors shall be accompanied by cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Newton. The amounts of such bid deposits shall be as specified in the bidding documents.

Minimum wage rates are established for this project in accordance with G. L. Ch. 149, Sections 26 to 27-D inclusive, and are set forth in the contract documents.

The City reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest to do so. The City also reserves the right to reject any sub-bids on any item or items in accordance with the provisions of G. L. Ch. 149, Secs. 44 A-L, inclusive as amended.

Medford Easy For Newton In Final Metro Track Meet

Marty Beckwith cleared six feet, three and one-half inches in the high jump and ran the hurdles in 6.5 seconds to become a double-winner once again as the Newton High School track team closed out its Met League indoor season against a below-normal Medford aggregation.

Final point tabulation favored Newton 56-21.

Thus the Tigers completed their season in second place in the Met League's Division 1, with four wins against a single loss. Rindge took the division championship with five straight victories and no losses.

The Tigers took first place in every event against the Mustangs except the relay.

Urge Religious Factor in Child Adoption Cases

Opposition to proposed legislation which would disregard the factor of religion in child adoption cases was strongly voiced by the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

In the mid-winter meeting of the Newton Deanery, held at Sacred Heart Grammar School, Watertown, the Rev. Joseph P. Donelan gave a report on the measure.

Gets State Dept. Post

Dr. Solomon Lipp of 38 Myrtle street, West Newton, associate professor of romance languages at Boston University's College of Liberal Arts, has accepted a State Department educational assignment at University of Costa Rica. Mrs. Lipp and their three children accompanied him to the Latin-American post.

Newton LWV Aids Planning Report

Newton's League of Women Voters has joined with sister leagues in Boston, Brookline, Lexington, Watertown and Westwood in the preparation of a 66-page report on "A Look at Planning in Metropolitan Boston".

The report represents 5,000 woman-hours of research by league members from the six communities and each local group is responsible for one of the six chapters. Newton's chapter was "Private Groups Interested in Regional Planning".

Mrs. Albert Mezoff, the Newton League's regional planning chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Paul Bohn, Mrs. Lloyd Fogg, Mrs. Spencer Deming, Mrs. Richard Mintz, Mrs. Martin Phillips, Mrs. Arthur Goldwin, Mrs. Benjamin Perles, Mrs. Martin Greenberg and Mrs. Melvin Shoul.

In College Play

Nancy Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Newman of 92 Algonquin road, Newton, has received the role of Mabel in the forthcoming Emerson College production of Adler and Ross' musical cmedy hit, "The Pajama Game."

Nancy, now doing graduate work in Theatre Arts, was graduated from J. E. Burke High School in 1953.

Branch Library-

ceremony is James P. Gallagher, library trustee. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Sylvio W. Barrette, pastor of St. John the Evangelist Church.

City Librarian Harold A. Wooster is scheduled to read the list of gifts to the project, including donations of portraits, American flags, a lectern, a slide projector and thousands of dollars worth of other contributions from clubs and societies in the area, and from firms and private citizens.

Greetings to the invited guests will be offered by Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, pastor of Our Lady Help of Christians Church. Following Mayor Whitmore's address, Rev. J. Donald Johnson, of the North Congregational Church, will give the benediction.

An open house to which the general public is invited, is scheduled to follow the dedication from 4 to 5 p.m.

Many city officials, including members of the Board of Aldermen, Library Trustees, PTA presidents, and presidents of the many civic groups active in the Nonantum area have been invited.

Branch librarian at Nonantum will be Mrs. Virginia Tashjian, who has served in this post since 1947. Well known throughout the city as the boys' and girls' story teller, Mrs. Tashjian is a graduate of the Simmons College School of Library Science.

The main room of the new brick building is 30 x 60 feet and the library hall is one of the largest and best equipped in the city, seating over 100 people.

Particularly helpful in securing community support and cooperation has been Mrs. Gerald M. Swartz, chairman of the library committee of the Nonantum Improvement Council.

Chairman of the committee for hosts and hostesses is Mrs. George F. Brewer, who has invited community leaders from Nonantum and other sections of Newton to serve in this capacity.

Fund Volunteers-

Hearing On Leash Law Issue To Be Held Night of March 17

ICC Approval of Highlands Branch Sale Seen Certain; Interruption Of Service Is A Serious Possibility

Belief was widely expressed today that the Interstate Commerce Commission will permit the Boston & Albany railroad to abandon its Highlands branch line which serves the South side of Newton.

That opinion was expressed after a surprising amount of political strength was marshalled in support of the B. & A. petition.

Newton's leaders — Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., State Senator Donald L. Gibbs and Representatives Arthur G. Heaney, Irene K. Thresher and George E. Rawson—waged a staunch and stern fight against the move, battling it down to the bitter end.

But except for Brookline's officials, who lined up with them, they were almost alone in their stand.

Governor Foster Furcolo, himself a present Newton resident, was one of the top public leaders who notified ICC Examiner Hyman J. Blond, who conducted the hearing at the Federal Building, that he favored the abandonment of the Highlands branch.

Others who took a similar stand included Senators Leverett Saltonstall and John F. Kennedy and Congressmen

School Board Favors Curb On Activities of City's Dogs

A public hearing has been scheduled by the Board of Aldermen for the night of March 17 on a petition by the Newton PTA Council for the adoption of a leash law to prohibit dogs from running loose in the city.

So great a crowd is expected to support or oppose the move that the hearing probably will be transferred from the Aldermanic chamber to the biggest hall which can be found in Newton for the occasion.

Both sides are already mobilizing their forces for the showdown battle to be waged three weeks from Monday before the Aldermanic Board.

Members of the School Committee this week went on record as favoring the enactment of an ordinance designed to prevent roaming dogs from interfering with school activities or from endangering the safety of children while they are in school yards or are on their way to and from classes.

While the School Board members did not spell out the precise type of ordinance they believe should be placed on the statute books, their action was interpreted as favoring some form of leash law.

You Need More Than a Shovel!

Know what you need when a storm such as that of Sunday hits a city the size of Newton? Well you start with at least 200 able-bodied men. Then you have to assemble a mechanical fleet that includes 119 trucks; 12 bulldozers; four graders and five jeeps. The city supplies most of the mechanical equipment but in the total for such a severe storm as Sunday the list includes 50 trucks, one grader and five jeeps hired from private contractors.

1200 Volunteers March On Sunday For Heart Drive

Approximately 1,200 goodhearted people will put on their overcoats sometime between noon and 4 p.m. Sunday, step out into the cold, and begin calling on their neighbors in the various Newton villages. The volunteers hope to enroll them as contributors to a vital program of research and education affecting every individual — The 1958 Heart Fund Campaign.

The volunteers, who will wear identification tags signed with their names, hope that you will welcome them if you are home. If you are not at home, the volunteer will leave an envelope addressed to Dr. Paul Dudley White. By this means you may send your contribution directly to headquarters.

Also available for those wishing to contribute to this important once a year drive are plastic hearts which have been distributed throughout Newton by Chief of Police Philip Purcell, Capt. Charles E. Walker, Commissioner Wilfred Chagnon, and their volunteers.

Recently appointed as captains are: Newtonville "A", Mrs. Paul M. Siskind, George Kramer, E. Leonard Baker, Neale Faulkenham, Mrs. Oscar Spinner, and Mrs. William J.

Herter Blasts Governor On Withholding

A charge that the people of Massachusetts are being duped by Governor Furcolo's withholding tax bill, was made this week by Governor's Councilor Christian A Herter, Jr., of Newton.

At the same time Herter warned that thousands of small businessmen througout Massachusetts are going to be put to tremendous expense and inconvenience to do a job which the Commonwealth itself should perform.

Highlands Carhop Petition Will Be Heard March 10

A petition for a "car hop" restaurant at 980 Boylston street, Newton Highlands, will be heard by the aldermanic claims and rules committee on Monday night, March 10.

The petition is brought on an appeal by the Old Colony Development Company from an adverse ruling of the building commission which ruled against an outdoor restaurant at the address.

The proposed site contains 24,000 square feet. The petitioner proposes to raze two old buildings and replace them with a masonry and frame structure to prepare food to be served in the parking area. Richard H. Rubin is president of the corporation.

The land is within a business "B" zone which permits restaurants, but city officials expressed the belief that the serving of food outdoors might not be considered restaurant service within the meaning of the statute.

In addition, Alderman W. Hardy Prentice has filed a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance which would exclude such restaurants from those permitted under existing law.

Col. Head Retires After 25 Years of Army Service

Retirement ceremonies were held on January 28 at Fort Devens in honor of Colonel N. Landon Head of Newton Center, who left the service after a distinguished career with the U. S. Army.

Major General Sidney C. Wooten, Commanding General of the United States Army Garrison, Fort Devens, was in charge of the ceremonies which included a review by troops stationed at the Fort and the 4th regimental Combat Team.

Colonel Head retired after serving over 25 years of continuous active duty with the army following his graduation from the United States Military Academy, West Point, in 1932. His most recent assignment was with the U.S. Army Advisor Group (National Guard, United States) Massachusetts where he served as Division Advisor, 26th Infantry Division, Massachusetts National Guard in Boston.

During World War II Colonel Head served as commanding officer of the 802d Field Artillery Battalion in the European Theatre of Operations, participating in the Northern France Campaign, Rhineland Campaign, Ardennes Campaign and Central Europe Campaign. His decorations include the Bronze Star Medal, the Air Medal, the Purple Heart for wounds received in France in 1944, the French Croix de Guerre with Palm and the Distinguished Unit Citation.

21-inch Blizzard Costs City $125,000; Cars Towed Away

Staggered by the worst Northeast blizzard to strike this area in 37 years, Newton battled its way out of a record blanket of 21 inches of snow and began assuming a normal winter appearance yesterday.

A force of more than 200 men and nearly 150 pieces of apparatus had served to open up its main highways within hours after the last of the snow had fallen on Sunday night. The worst of the job was over Monday. Cleanup operations came on Tuesday.

Unlike many of its neighbors the city was not obliged to suffer from the deprivation of various utility services. The milkmen got through with their deliveries. The food stores were able to meet all demands.

But Newton didn't escape the penalty of the mid-February storm without plenty of discomforts and costs.

In anticipation of a lighter-than usual demand for snow clearance this year Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., had asked the Board of Aldermen for a $25,000 appropriation for snow removal last week. The figure was upped to $100,000 by Monday night when the Aldermen assembled. They passed it without a whimper. Total cost for the storm may go as high as $125,000 according to Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt.

He figures that such a snow deposit as was left on Newton Sunday costs about $6000 an inch.

Director Pratt opened the city's defense against the punishing storm at 4:30 a.m. Sunday. It was then that the city

Five Crashes Due To Sunday Storm

Police listed five automobile accidents as directly attributable to the storm on Sunday. The accidents brought injury to 11 persons, two of them police officers.

The police officers, Patrolmen William F. Quinn of 1900 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, and Patrolmen Manley J. Kiley of 17 Arapahoe road, West Newton, suffered back injuries when Quinn's car was involved in a three-car crash.

Quinn had stopped to permit Officer Kiley to alight at Washington and Greenough streets, West Newton, when their car was struck by another machine which had been driven forward by a skidding automobile.

Also injured in this accident was Christa Lambach of 445 Highland street, West Newton.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Thompson Using Stern Tactics In Running Democratic House

Speaker John F. Thompson is endeavoring to rule e Democratic majority in the Massachusetts House of epresentatives with a strong hand and the bullwhip of litical patronage.

He is tryng to exercise a sterner and stricter degree party discipline than any House Speaker has been able maintain in modern times.

When Democratic legislators have voiced doubts out some bill Thompson was striving to push through e House, they have been told to "vote for it, and don't k questions."

So far Thompson's iron-fisted tactics have been rked well in the Democratic House which provided vernor Furcolo with some of his most troublesome adaches a year ago.

The Governor's tax program, calling for the adoption a State withholding tax and a one-cent-per-package ost in the State impost on cigarettes, was steamrollered rough the House with efficiency and despatch last week.

Thompson also has cracked the whip to obtain favrable action on the so-called chiropractor bill, although isn't yet clear whether the attempt to secure the assage of the measure is his own project or the Govrnor's.

There have been some rumblings which indicate that fore the year's end Speaker Thompson may be cononted with something akin to a rebellion by certain of e more independent-minded Democratic legislators.

One House member, who apparently is opposed to e chiropractor bill which Thompson is backing, declared blicly the other day that he was sent to the State House represent the people of his district, not to take orders questioningly from any political leader.

Mayor's Budget Up $2,000,000 Rise In Tax Rate Is Inevitable

An increase in Newton's tax rate is inevitable this year.

That was indicated on Monday night when Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., submitted to the Board of Aldermen a municipal budget which is approximately $2,000,000 greater than that of a year ago.

The city's tax picture is further darkened by the fact that Newton, according to present estimates, will receive $362,000 less from the State this year than it did in 1957.

Chairman Earle D. Wood of the Aldermanic Finance Committee estimated that the increase in taxable property in the city will produce enough additional revenue to just about offset the loss in income from the State.

But Newton taxpayers will have to dig down into their pockets for the additional tax dollars to finance the operation of their city's government, and Sunday's big storm didn't help any.

Exclusive of water department appropriations, the Mayor's budget is $18.351,000 which is $2,000,000 more than he sought last year.

After the 1957 budget was approved, however, a supplementary appropriation of $152,000 was made to finance salary increases so that the budget actually is up a net of $1,875,000, Wood explained.

Mayor Whitmore forecast a rise in the tax rate in his inaugural on New Year's Day.

Marriage Bureau Idle on Monday

Sunday's blizzard was not exactly a romance producer as far as Newton was concerned. Not a single couple showed up at Newton City Hall on Monday—the day after the winter's biggest storm—to file marriage intentions.

Warren School Storm Refuge?

Someone went to the trouble of breaking a lock in order to get into the Warren Junior High School, West Newton. Custodian John Foran doesn't think it was anyone with an over-powering desire for knowledge. The police share Mr. Foran's opinion. The entry was made sometime over the weekend. Possibly the invader was just trying to get out of the storm. Nothing was found to be missing as far as officials could determine.

Annual Listing To Be Completed By Week's End

Police hope to complete their annual listing of Newton residents this week.

Listers will complete their task with the tabulation of the residents of Ward 8. The listing of Ward 7 was completed last week except for 365 families who were not at home when the officers made their first calls this week. The listers planned a second call at these homes and if contact is not made yellow slips will be left.

These slips should be filled out and returned to City Clerk Monte G. Basbas at City Hall.

Officials Praise Snow Removal Job

The high standard of public service set by Newton snow removal crews during the record 21-inch snowfall this week was lauded in a statement by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. and a resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

The men were commended for their work in combatting the snowfall and were cited for their excellent performance during the storm emergency. Many of the crews, stated Mayor Whitmore, worked for 24 hours in keeping ahead of the storm.

The Aldermen's resolution, presented by Alderman Carleton P. Merrill, stated that the heavy snowfall was handled to the complete satisfaction of the public. "A wonderful job was done in clearing the streets," Alderman Merrill said.

Stories Planned In Libraries During Vacation

Boys and girls of Newton are invited to go adventuring in the magic realm of make-believe with story-teller Virginia A. Tashjian at three story hours in the Newton Libraries during the February vacation, which begins Monday.

Stories, poems and songs will be on the program on Wednesday morning, Feb. 26, at 10:30 at the new Nonantum Branch Library on Watertown street.

On the following day, February 27, also at 10:30 a.m., Mrs. Tashjian will entertain another group of children at the Boys' and Girls' Library on Vernon street at Newton Corner.

On Friday morning, Feb. 28, at 10:30, Mrs. Tashjian will welcome children at a story hour in the West Newton Branch on Chestnut street.

Boys and girls six years of age and older are invited to attend any or all of these programs.

Furcolo, Herter On Opposite Sides In B & A Clash

The two Newton residents who may be opponents in next falls gubernatorial campaign lined up on opposite sides in the controversy over the proposed abandonment of the Highlands branch of the Boston & Albany railroad.

Governor Foster Furcolo favored the abandonment of the road.

Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., opposed the move.

Fr. McDonough, Pastor of St. Philip Neri Church, Is Dead

The Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, pastor of St. Philip Neri Church, Waban, since 1941, died at the Massachusetts General Hospital after surgery and a brief illness.

He was 65. One of the best known priests of the Boston Archdiocese, he was the brother of Msgr. Edward A. McDonough, chief of chaplain services for the Veterans Administration, Washington.

A requiem solemn high mass will be sung at 10 a.m., today, (Thursday) at St. Philip Neri Church, with Msgr. McDonough celebrant. Other officers of the mass will be the Rev. Joseph M. Holland, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Natick, deacon; the Rev. Cornelius Donovan of St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, sub deacon. The Right Rev. Edmund M. Hartigan of Immaculate Conception Church, Everett, will be eulogist.

A requiem mass for children of the parish will be celebrated by the Rev. William J. Flanagan at 8 o'clock this morning.

Interment will be at Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Father McDonough was born in East Boston. He was graduated from Boston Latin School, St. Charles College, Baltimore, and St. John's Seminary, Brighton. He was ordained at Cathedral of the Holy Cross by Cardinal O'Connell in June, 1917.

He served at St. James Church, South End, two years; at Cathedral of the Holy Cross, three years; St. Patrick's Church, Lowell, four years, and Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Revere, 16 years.

..He leaves one brother beside Msgr. McDonough, William F., of Newton Centre, and a sister, Str. Michael Marie of the Sisters of St. Joseph and the Boston School for the Deaf in Randolph.

The body remained at the church rectory on Tuesday from 3 to 4 p.m. An Office of the Dead was chanted at 4 p.m., Wednesday, after which it lay in state until 9 p.m., Wednesday.

Leash Hearing-

ant Superintendent of Schools Charles O. Richter, secretary to the School Committee, said:

"At their meeting last Monday evening the School Committee discussed at length the petition soon to be presented to the Board of Aldermen by the PTA Council seeking the enactment of a leash law in the City of Newton, and it was voted that to the extent that roaming dogs interfere with school activities or are a hazard to the safety of children in and around school yards and to the passage of children to and from school, the School Committee will support, and notify the Board of Aldermen accordingly, such legislation as the Board of Aldermen deems appropriate to accomplish this purpose."

It marked the first time that the School Committee members ever have taken any formal action on the matter of roaming canines who wander into school yards and even school buildings, disrupt classroom instruction and playground activities and not infrequently nip children.

One of the things which influenced the action of the School Board, it was understood, was that Mrs. Charles Robinson of the PTA Council Legislative committee submitted statements from the principals of elementary schools throughout Newton supporting the move for some ordinance which would keep dogs out of schools and off playgrounds.

Several principals told of unruly dogs which upset classroom decorum, annoyed teachers and generally disrupted schoolroom procedure, while others reported on children being frightened or bitten by dogs on playgrounds or in school yards at recess time.

As a preliminary to the March 17 hearings, a drive is being made by the legislative committee of the PTA Council for more than 10,000 signatures on petitions supporting the request for a leash law.

The campaign for the signatures is being directed by Mrs. Charles Robinson and Mrs. Samuel Horovitz of the legislative committee.

Mrs. Robinson said that 500 petitions favoring a leash law are now being circulated in various sections of Newton.

She said that there are places for 27 signatures on each petition.

Mrs. Robinson asserted that persons who desire to assist in obtaining signatures to demonstrate the sentiment for a leash law may secure petition forms at the Landon Pharmacy, Centre st. and Commonwealth ave., at the Oak Hill Market, 575 Boylston st.; the Newton Centre Market on Centre st. and the Oak Hill Pharmacy at 659 Saw Mill Brook parkway.

Meanwhile, opponents to the move for the leash law maintained that all the fuss and furore is being caushed by a few troublesome dogs and that the movements of all the canines in Newton should not be restricted because of the action of the few.

A committee to oppose the leash law is being formed by Prescott H. Brown of 11 Crocker circle, West Newton.

Mr. Brown is publishing an advertisement in this issue of The Graphic containing a coupon which he is requesting opponents of the leash law to sign and mail back to him.

Other members of his committee are William Bowers of 60 Chestnut st., West Newton; Britt Ragsdale of 156 Highland avenue, Newtonville; Gustav Hagen of 131 Otis st., Newtonville; and A. Morrison Dow, Jr., of 51 Hanson rd., Oak Hill.

Mr. Brown contended today that the proposed leash law would be unfair to the majority of dogs. He maintained that there are other ways of accomplishing the same result and of keeping the dogs away from schools. He said that tying up or restraining dogs has a harmful effect on the disposition of the average animal.

Herter Blasts-

Comparatively few persons realize," Councilor Herter declared, "that the Governor's bill provides that they will pay two years of State income taxes in 1959.

"The Governor may endeavor to gloss over and conceal this fact by throwing up all kinds of smoke screens, but nevertheless it is the cold, hard truth.

"What the present Governor is endeavoring to do," Herter continued, "is to use the withholding tax as a device and gimmick in an election year to bail himself out of the financial predicament in which he has placed himself.

"He is striving hard to sell the people of Massachusetts the idea that he isn't going to take any more money from them." Herter declared, "while at the same time he is planning to reach into their pockets and take out some $13 million in order to help balance his budget.

"If the Governor's bill in its present form is enacted into law, the people of Massachusetts next January 1 will begin paying their 1959 State income taxes.

"And on April 15 of next year, after they have been paying their 1959 State income taxes for three and a half months, they will be required to pay their full taxes for 1958.

"There is no forgiveness feature in the Governor's bill and no plan to prevent double-taxation in 1959.

"That, of course, is the real purpose of the bill; namely, to enable Governor Furcolo to get enough additional revenue in the next fiscal year without seeming to impose any additional taxes upon the people of Massachusetts.

"It already is apparent that from a true financial standpoint the withholding tax would not be worthwhile.

"State Tax Commissioner Joseph P. Healey, whom the present Governor appointed, has estimated that the withholding tax would bring between $1 and $2 million in new revenue into the State Treasury.

"Against that figure the State will have increased administrative costs amounting to at least $500,000 a year because of the work which will be involved in processing the withholding returns.

"And, of course, business concerns also will be put to additional expense because of the extra bookkeeping work the withholding tax law will necessitate.

"This is one more instance," Herter charged, "where Governor Furcolo is trying to hoodwink the people of Massachusetts. His real objective is to produce for himself a one-year windfall."

Highlights and Headlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . In the Class Queen Contest Margie Casselman, Bev Vaccarrello, and Sandi Douglas were elected from the sophomore, junior and senior grades, respectively. At the Legislature dance each student was requested to write his choice for "Miss Newton High" on the back of his ticket.

Parents of high school students were invited earlier this month to "Come and Take Notes on Newton Plan." This novel idea permitted the adults to partake in the exact type of course their children have many times each term. Planned by the P.T.S.A., the evening lasted from 8:00 until 9:30, just long enough for parents to get acquainted with Newton Plan. The first speaker, appropriately enough, taught the very skillful art of note-taking which enabled the parents to do just that during the rest of the lectures. Several 10-minute talks were given by members of the various departments.

The Junior Class Committee has announced that the Senior Play next year will have to be earlier in the year than usual. This is to avoid conflicting dates, as the Century Class has many activities scheduled for them in their senior year. A search for talent for the play is being conducted.

THE OUT-DOOR TYPE . . . Although the winter weather prevents the hunting and fishing club from being very active just now, the club members are organizing activities for the spring. A variety of outings which will give pupils experience in hunting, fishing, and out-door life are being planned. Lately a number of films on out-door sports and related subjects have been shown and will be shown in the future. Plans are underway for riflery practice sessions at the Armory. The club is considering joining the rifle club for these afternoons.

The Cavalry Club is currently drawing up a constitution and planning a spring horse show.

The Rifle Club meets each month at the Armory for rifle instruction and practice. Unlike other school clubs, it only meets and practices at each session. Members compete for awards and certificates presented by the club sponsor and the Armory.

THE GREAT BIG WONDERFUL WHIRL . . . Pictures of stars from past Broadway hit shows lined the walls of the gym, as the Legislature held its latest dance, "Broadway Beat." A custom was broken as students were urged to come "stag" or "drag," and individual tickets were sold. Features at the dance were the excitement caused by the crowning of the Newton High Queen and the enjoyment provided by the Newton High Dance Band.

THE MARQUEE . . . At 8:15 last Friday night, the curtain in the high school auditorium rose on the first scene of "The Solid Gold Cadillac." This play was followed by a presentation of "Medea," a Greek tragedy, and finally, "Green Pastures," a Negro fantasy. The plays were the culmination of weeks of rehearsals by the forty student actors and actresses and the drama teachers, Mr. Spink and Miss Ryan. One play was chosen to enter the State Drama Festival.

It is undecided as to whether the A Cappella Choir will be in the Northeastern Music Festival this year. If there is a festival, the singing teacher does not think the group will be ready to perform, so they probably will not go. The group is planning a spring concert and part of the choir is going to visit the Gardner Museum in Boston.

The Marching Band will partake in a parade this April. With the ending of the football season, this group's major performances also ended. Robin Marsh, Dave Selleck, Jane Hurley, Sarita Lief, Janet Morrison, Barbara Yeo, Stephanie Grant, and Jane Emery comprise the flute section.

Playing the clarinets are Marshall Levine, Larry Yeo, Steve Secunda, Charles Rosenbaum, Martha Kuhns, Arthur Fine, Albert Alexander, Sandra Gibbs, Stephen Hershoff, Joe DeSantis, Judith Hassell, Elliot Wyner, Jane McGrath, Arthur Tennenbaum and Harvey Morrison. Alan Maycock, Terry Segal, Steven Wexler, and Richard Smith are in the sax group. Stan Shafran, Judith Nelson, Philip Gracepfa, George Crevoshay, Harvey Morse, Robert Sostilio, Paul Kerivan, Candid Smith, Arthur Leckart, Curt Gilroy, Maureen Maguire, Johnathan Fisher, and Jimmy Levine are members of the trumpet section. Edward Fineberg and Elliott Cole play the horns.

The trombones are blown by Joan Lewis, John Swanton, and Brian Roche. Charles Stewart and Michael Wayler are in the tuba section. Beating the drums are Malcolm Bessom, Normie White, Howard Gorney, Robert Blake, Judi McClelland, Sue Thomas, Peter Hamilton, Edward Jones and Arthur Frank. The drum major and assistant, respectively, are Brad Huff and Guy Anderson. These students have turned to playing semi-classical music and now are called the concert band also.

Robinson; Mrs. Donald F. Claflin is the chairman. Mrs. George Michaels and Mrs. Sidney Glickman are from Newton Upper Falls and Newton Lower Falls, respectively. Newton Highlands is represented by Mrs. Jay L. Fialkow and Mrs. Daniel J. Carey; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Todrin are co-chairmen.

A group from the American Legion Auxiliary in Nonantum under Mrs. Alfred A. Mendola includes: Miss Terry Lupo, Mrs. R. Spordoni, Mrs. J. Adams, Miss Connie Raffo, Mrs. Ann Patatuto, Miss Laurane Civetti, Miss Vicki Cedrone and Mrs. Ann Lansed.

Students from Lasell Jr. College, Our Lady Help of Christians, and Sacred Heart Parish School will join other volunteers to collect funds for this important work.

Collections will be turned over to the treasurer, John Balkus, who with his volunteer staff will work into the night tabulating the results of the drive.

Atty. Samuel P. Sears, 1958 Heart Fund State Chairman, explains the independent money-raising effort of the Heart Association as follows: "If we were an association interested in good works affecting a small segment of the population we would perhaps be justified in joining a federated campaign. But the heart problem comes home to everybody. Our decision was taken not in terms of selfish interest, but in the public interest."

The United Fund's medical agency, the Medical Foundation of Metropolitan Boston, has given the Massachusetts Heart Association assurance that the two groups are complementary rather than competitive by nature, citing "a feeling of mutual friendliness".

Newtonville Fire Victim Recovers

Mrs. Marjorie Hopkins, 28, is recovering from a broken leg sustained when she jumped from a window to the porch roof of her home at 256 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, in a fire which broke out at 4 o'clock in the morning.

She was hospitalized at the Newton-Wellesley while firefighters battled for nearly six hours to control the fire in 10-above temperatures.

Hero of the fire was "Sandy" a cocker spaniel whose barking awakened Leo A. Morrill, a city employee and occupant of the second floor. Morrill, in turn awakened others.

Heart Sunday

Down your street—down the street of your neighbors — men and women will be trudging this Sunday. They'll be on important errands. They'll be going from door-to-door.

One of them will be calling at your house. You'll talk of the weather, exchange a bit of meaningless chit-chat and the caller will soon be on his or her way.

The caller may not be able to tell you at great length the purpose of the call. He or she may not think to say that the purpose of the call is to help people to live. But you will be helping someone — perhaps your loved ones or even yourself — to live when you cooperate.

Sunday is Heart Sunday.

Heart disease and its allied ailments now claim more American lives each year than any other enemy of human life. Maybe, it's the pace at which the average American lives. Maybe, the food we eat is the agent which brings about our preponderant heart-death-rate.

Some day we'll know all or most of the answers. Right now money is needed for study, for research, for the treatment of victims.

Right now we know only a few of the answers. Sooner or later we will know more. You can make it sooner by contributing through the volunteer who comes to your house to collect for the Heart Fund.

There is every reason to believe that medical science has found the answer to polio. The conquest was achieved only after years of research; years of contributions by the American public.

The annual heart fund drive may result this year in a quick answer to the disease. It may serve only to permit a short step to that goal. But whatever the immediate result may be, it will underwrite progress in the right direction.

Many persons are now alive who would have died during the past ten years if there had been no heart drives, no Heart Sundays in the past decade. They are alive because you helped to underwrite medical research.

If heart disease is to be conquered, that research must go on and be expanded.

That's why Heart Sunday is so important a day on the calendar. It's why you should have a contribution waiting for the volunteer who will ring your doorbell this coming Sunday. That donation may help to save your life or the life of a loved one.

Political Overtones

He said he went to Thompson about the measure, he was told to vote for it and not ask questions. He made it plain that he has no intention of doing any such thing.

There are other Democratic law-makers, too, who feel a strong sense of party obligation and loyalty but who don't intend to have bills crammed down their throats by Thompson or anyone else and who don't propose to assume the role of political puppets who dance on the end of a string when Thompson cracks the whip.

Speaker Thompson has two important devices to aid him in his efforts to maintain his rigid brand of party discipline.

1. He has the tremendous patronage power of the Governor's office behind him. He can hand out jobs to cooperative legislators and put on trucks or other equipment for them. Or he can shut them off from such favors which might aid them in the campaigns for reelection.

2. He controls the designation of House committee chairmanships and the choice committee assignments. He can and has revised committees to assure they would bring out the reports he desired, shifting balky legislators to the least desirable committee posts.

The mild-mannered soft-spoken former Speaker Michael F. Skerry, who was appointed by Governor Furcolo to the clerkship of the Malden district court to pave the way for the elevation of Thompson to the Speakership, employed altogether different tactics from those Thompson is using.

Skerry's No. 1 rule was one of fairness to Democrats and Republicans alike.

He tried to maintain some measure of party discipline, although at no time did he have the full measure of support from the Governor's office which has been accorded Speaker Thompson.

But he scrupulously respected the right of a legislator to make up his own mind as to how he would cast his vote. Skerry might have appealed to the party loyalty of a Democratic House member. He did endeavor to bind legislators by the vote in a party caucus. Never did he tell a legislator to vote for a bill "and don't ask questions."

He would have rebelled strongly against any such strongarm methods when he was a rank and file member of the House, and he would have expected other House members to do the same.

Thompson's strategy undoubtedly is dictated at least in part by the belief that Governor Furcolo's prospects of achieving reelection will be directly affected by his record of success this year in the Legislature.

Spring history classes at the Jackson Homestead will begin on Tuesday, March 4, and Thursday, March 6. These classes are planned for children of the 3rd and 4th grade age groups and are limited to 20 in each class.

The fall classes were a great success. The children met in the different rooms of the old house to learn about the life and customs of early Newton, as the Jackson family might have experienced them. They dipped candles, ate soup cooked in the old fireplace, saw the old costumes, listened to stories of the Indian Wars, heard about slavery in the very room where William Jackson once hid the run away slaves.

Enrollment must be made through the Jackson Homestead office (DE 2-3920). There is no charge.

Starts Second Semester

Meredith L. O'Gorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger O'Gorman of 409 Winchester st., Newton Highlands, has begun the second semester of her senior year at Emerson College. She is a member of the Kappa Gamma Chi sorority and expects to receive her degree this June.

DEATHS

Mrs. Ella H. Wright

Mrs. Ella Hoxie Wright, who served as a missionary in India for almost 40 years, died at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

She was the widow of the Rev. Horace K. Wright, a Presbyterian missionary whom she married in Vadala, India, in 1936. He died at Northfield in 1948.

Mrs. Wright is survived by three step-daughters, Mrs. Albert B. Conkey of Erdenheim, Philadelphia; Mrs. Joseph S. Rainey, Ambler, Pa.; Mrs. Andre G. Beaumont, Darien, Conn.; and a step-son, Theodore R. F. Wright, New Haven, Conn.

A memorial service was held at the Walker Missionary Home, Auburndale. Interment, after cremation, will take place in the spring.

ALICE LANE CABOT

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Lane Cabot, 561 Watertown street, Newtonville, who died at her home February 17 after a long illness, will be held this afternoon, (Thursday) at 2 p.m. at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton.

Born in Saco, Me., Mrs. Cabot was the widow of Atty. Harry D. Cabot, who died in 1951. A resident of Newtonville for the past 60 years, she was 80 years old. She was an active member of the First Unitarian Society, the Lucy Chapter of the DAR, and the West Newton Garden Club.

She was a sister of the late Gertrude B. Lane, editor of the Woman's Home Companion for 32 years.

Leash Has Two Ends

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

No advocate of a new, highly restrictive Dog Leash Law for Newton would cut off his hand because of a splinter in one of his fingers. Yet that is the type of cure proposed to remedy the localized problem at some grade schools where a very small percentage of Newton's dog population interfere somewhat with the activities of some of the children.

Every dog owner in Newton should not be put on one end of a dog leash several times each day just because a few owners fail to keep their pets in the house for a few hours on school days. Let's compel the handful of thoughtless owners to cooperate by enforcing the laws we have now.

An organized, well-intentioned, highly vocal minority group may be able to persuade Newton's Board of Aldermen to enact the Dog Leash Law they are sponsoring unless dog owners individually will express their opposition to it to their Aldermen.

Every dog leash has two ends . . . one for the dog, the other for the owner.

Frank W. Hazel
West Newton

Dog Freedom Jeopardized

The freedom of the dog population of Newton ,which at the last count numbered 4,927 animals, is in jeopardy because of a minority group of citizens which is endeavoring to bring about the confinement of all dogs.

It is admitted that some schools in the City may have difficulty with some dogs that like to "join in the fun" at recess time, but I doubt very much that there is a single vicious or mean animal among them.

There are twenty-five elementary schools in the City and, for the sake of argument let us suppose that there are 15 dogs who make a practice to interfere with the activities of the children at each school. This then would mean a total of 375 obstreperous canines or less than 10% of the total registration.

Why then should any one, let alone any group of people, want to be so unfair as to impose a leash law on, at the most 4,552 dogs, for the sake of the relatively small number that are causing the trouble is hard to understand.

I believe that there are several ways in which this apparent problem can be met without resorting to any means as stringent as a leash law and it is hoped that all citizens of Newton who are opposed to such legislation will clip and fill out the coupon in another section of this paper.

11 Crocker Circle,

Many announcements on events to be held in Newton are reaching The Graphic too late for publication in the edition for which they are intended.

Publicity chairmen and officers of clubs and organizations, who desire advance notices in The Graphic on events their groups are to hold, should endeavor to see that they reach us not later than Monday of the week in which it is desired they be published.

Chief Tells How To Set Up Household Fire Alarm System

Here are some practical suggestions offered by Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., of Newton for those who would like to install in their homes a fire alarm system which would awaken occupants in case of fire.

"The detectors," advises the chief, "shoulde be of an approved type, known to be suitable for the purpose."

All automatic fire detectors should be located permanently on or near the ceiling and adjacent to any potential fire hazard such as a source of heat, stored combustible material and the like, which under abnormal conditions may result in a fire. Location of detectors with respect to prompt detection should be the primary consideration in any installation.

"Alarm bells or other sounding devices for indicating operation of a fire detector should be permanently installed and located where they will be audible to occupants of sleeping quarters under all normal conditions.

"The most reliable source of electrical energy available at the installation should be employed.

"Transformers or other electrical equipment for energizing an alarm system should be arranged so that a fire in the area protected by the detectors will be unlikely to cause the blowing of a branch circuit fuse which would render the alarm system inoperative.

"The scheme of circuiting, the type of conductors, the location of conductors, and the protection of wiring and equipment against injury should be arranged to insure continuity of circuits.

"Normally open circuits should be equipped with testing means and should be tested frequently.

"Normally closed circuits where an open conductor fault results in alarm operation should be confined to installation where a false alarm signal will only result in evacuation of the building and investigation of the condition causing the signal, before calling the fire department.

"Provision should be made for testing all electrical circuit wiring by producing an alarm signal when a manually operated switch, which restores to its normal position automatically when released, is operated.

"All of the equipment should be tested frequently to insure operation and any defective parts should be replaced or repaired as soon as possible."

At a recent assembly seventh and eighth grade students at Warren Junior High School were introduced to Lt. Donald B Leach of the United States Navy. Lt. Leach lectured, with the aid of color slides, on how the Navy helps supply military personnel in the Arctic region.

Newton Storm Highlights

Public Works Department forces were up and on the job at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Principal highways were opened even before the last flakes were falling Sunday.

* * * *

Every street was opened by Monday afternoon. Mop-up work and carting away of snow from business areas carried into the frigid temperatures Tuesday.

* * * *

Public Works Director William S. Pratt figures such a storm costs Newton $6,000 an inch.

* * * *

Pratt figures total bill may run to $125,000. Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., had hoped to get by the Winter with a $25,000 removal bill but took one look out the window Sunday morning and changed his mind.

* * * *

Aldermen passed the Mayor's revised snow removal appropriation with no debate. It was $100,000.

* * * *

Lack of traffic on Sunday helped snow removal forces and cut automobile accidents to well-below average figure.

* * * *

School cancellation on Monday enabled many a stalwart schoolboy to pick up extra dollars clearing walks and drives. Householders generally heeded the warning of doctors about the peril of snow-shoveling for those not accustomed to heavy physical exercise.

Science Books Exhibited At Child Library

An exhibit of new science books of interest to children will be held at the Boys and Girls Library, branch of the Newton Free Library, 126 Vernon street, Newton Corners, through March 1st.

Sponsored by the Newton Jaycettes, who donated the books to the library, the exhibit will be opened to the public, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 6 p.m.

School Teacher Named As Young Man of the Year

Samuel A. Turner, a teacher at the Williams School in Auburndale, was selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as Newton's Young Man of the Year.

The distinguished Service Award of the Junior Chamber was presented to him by President Wendell R. Bauckman of the Newton Board of Aldermen, representing Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., at a dinner held at the Pillar House.

Turner's participation in church, community and youth activities won him the award. He is a choir member, organist, Sunday school teacher, youth director, member of the Board of Christian Education, Sunday school treasurer, president of the Sunday School Convention and chairman of the Myrtle Baptist Church Anniversary committee. He is a member of the parish of the Myrtle Baptist Church.

Newton's latest Young Man of the Year resides at 20 Clark road in West Newton. He graduated from Newton High School in 1951. He studied at Newton Junior College and graduated from Bowling Green State University of Education. After teaching school in Canton, O., for a year, he returned to Newton and entered the Newton public school system. He has been a member of the Williams School faculty for two years.

President Jerry Angino of th Newton Boys' Club, representing the judging committee, explained the manner in which the panel of judges made their selections from the nominations sent to David L. Hurvitz, the Jaycee chairman.

Other members of the panel were Ernest Dietz, president of the Newton Civic Association; President Bauckman of the Board of Aldermen; President William Robinson of the Newton Council of Improvement Associations; Dr. Charles Richter, assistant superintendent of schools; President Raymond C. Wass of the Rotary Club and President Edward Euhlein of the PTA Council.

Invited guests included recipients of the award in past years.

Mr. and Mrs. White To Live in Waltham After Marriage

At a three o'clock ceremony at Christ Church, Waltham, on February 8, Miss Helen Marie Erickson became the bride of Herbert Dennis White. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Erickson, of 92 Albert road, Auburndale; the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. White, of 19 Hillside avenue, Stoneham. The Rev. George O. Ekwall officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length dress of imported chantilly-type lace with a sabrina neckline outlined with seed pearls and sequins. The skirt had a lace panel complemented by nylon tulle over satin. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white orchid on a covered bible.

Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Anne Erickson, sister of the bride; George Arthur Willis of Stoneham served as best man; and the ushers corps included Thomas and Lawrence White of Stoneham, brothers of the groom.

Following a reception in Fales House of Christ Church, the couple left for a honeymoon trip to New York and Maine. They will make their home at 91 Crescent street, Waltham.

"SHOPPING AROUND WITH RITA"

The dictionary tells us that . . . snow . . . is frozen particles of vapor . . . and the composer makes it seem like a winter wonderland, but when we find ourselves buried in it, we are not exactly inspired to feel poetic . . . At first we are tempted to try the "let's ignore it" tactics, in hopes that it will go away . . . but eventually we arrive at the conclusion that we are either going to hibernate, or get out and start digging our way out . . . Back breaking isn't it? . . . unless you are lucky enough to have a Toro Snow Thrower . . . I have watched a neighbor use one, and it seems almost like fun . . . believe me, that Toro makes light work out of a snow drift, and the advantage in a Toro is that it is already to be converted to other chores when gardening time comes. Visit Clapper's and see the Toro . . . The power is in the handle, so you have one motor to store . . . one motor to service . . . and only one motor to buy . . .

Please don't forget to take pictures . . . The snow scenes in your own back yard make a natural background for wonderful pictures whether they are on movies, slides or snapshots . . . We have a grand roll of film of all the children in the neighborhood romping in the storm of last year . . . Drop in at the Atwood Camera Shop, they will be glad to help you with professional advice and when you have them developed, remember that for fast, efficient service . . . with a smile . . . it's Atwood's Camera Shop.

Did you see the news items on the young couple who braved the storm to be married as planned? . . . They had a wedding day they will never forget . . . If they were smart enough to sign a Bride's Registry at a lovely gift shop like Allets, they will have gifts that they will long remember too . . . You see, when a bride registers, Jean discusses her preferences and choice of patterns with her, so that she will be able to offer suggestions to relatives and friends that she is certain will be in keeping with the plans for furnishing a home.

This is the season for showers and gay parties. . . . When you are planning a party, remember to visit B. S. Edward's. That is the store in West Newton that "has everything" . . . They have a large selection of party favors, decorations and novelties . . . and also the invitations and thank you notes . . . And for children's parties, see the wonderful ideas for games and gifts that are the "life of the party." It's the grandest store, with a homey atmosphere, and a complete stock of just about anything you need for the house and family.

All Things Are Possible To God Told in Sermon

The fact that all things are possible to God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural passages in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" will include the following from Isaiah (40:28): "Hast thou not known? has thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (180:25): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows possible. The only way to this that with God all things are living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

The Golden Text is from Job (36:5): "Behold, God is mighty and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom."

Warren School Notes

Under the supervision of Mrs. Gaffney, Warren's practical arts instructor, the girls of Junior I division recently gave parties for their younger brothers and sisters. The parties were part of the baby-sitters unit which the girls are now studying. The groups led games and provided many different forms of entertainment. While observing the children the girls received many helpful hints and furthered their understanding of smaller youngsters.

A style show and tea was given recently at Warren under the direction of Mrs. Gaffney, practical arts teacher. Parents and friends attended to see the girls model clothing which they had made in class. The outfits included school wear and sports wear. Following the show the guests were shown the new cooking rooms and refreshments prepared by Mrs. Gaffney's cooking classes were served.

One of the new teachers at Warren this year is Mr. Wes. Vandervliet who teaches seventh grade English and Social Studies. Mr. Vandervliet, lived in Maine as a child. Later his family moved to Connecticut where he attended Mount Hermon High School. He received a scholarship award to Brown University for four years. He went to Harvard where he earned his master's degree. This is Mr. Vandervliet's first teaching experience in a public school.

The Warren Jr. II girls' volleyball teams had a busy playday at Meadowbrook Jr. High against Weeks and Meadowbrook. Warren won 5 and tied of the games.

Members of the four Warren teams playing were K. Tower, J. Brightman, R. Mastrianni, J. Pozzi, L. Knaff, S. Sundborg, J. Weisman, J. Grant, S. Skinner, C. Roe, J. Lister, B. Lister, J. Townsend, S. Medlicott, L. Noys, S. Breakell, J. Maloof, L. Dobart, C. Hills, J. Moore, A. Parafini, and J. Merrill.

Also M. Cooper, J. Fenner, J. Beckett, R. Richmond, J. Holden, D. Hussey, J. Seeler, L. Holburn, M. Thorman, M. Christien, M. Hickey, K. Crowley, M. McCormack, L. Head, J. Harrington, J. Easton, D. Lyons, and A. Wessels. After the games refreshments were served.

School Granted National Honor

Country Day School of the Sacred Heart in Newton Centre, has been granted national recognition for its mathematics department. According to an announcement made this week it has been granted a Charter membership in the National High School Mathematics Club, Mu Alpha Theta.

Charter membership is granted to a high school only after a careful examination is made of course offerings and staff in mathematics by the national oficers and governors of the club. Charter members have to have a grade average in mathematics of B-plus for four semesters of solid mathematics and be enrolled in the fifth semester, and must have an overall average of B for all high school work.

Faculty advisor for the Sacred Heart high school chapter of the national club will be Mother R. Schickel, who has earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Manhattanvill College.

Mathematics "stars" from Sacred Heart high school who received charter memberships, along with the high school include: Mary Jane Bechers, 11 Linder ter., Newton; Regina Sullivan, 320 Chestnut st., and Mary Jane Wingard, 26 Blithedale rd., both of West Newton; Margaret Driscoll, 75 Forest st., Needham; Barbara Gannon, 48 Hawes st., and Nancy Edmondson, 115 Freeman st., both of Brookline; Lolita Raventos, Caracas, Venzuela; and Syra Blanes, Canurce, Puerto Rico.

Artificial Teeth Pioneer Observes Diamond Birthday

Dr. Simon Myerson, of Newton, pioneer in the field of artificial teeth, celebrated his 75th birthday recently at the Mid-Winter meeting of the Chicago Dental Society.

An instructor at Harvard School of Dental Medicine in his early career, Dr. Myerson later did a great deal of research on the artificial tooth. Recently, in collaboration with his son, Richard Myerson, and Dr. Victor H. Sears of California, Dr. Myerson introduced to the profession an artificial denture in which the upper teeth are porcelain and the lower teeth plastic.

Rummage Sale to Benefit Student Exchange Program

A rummage sale for the benefit of the Newton School and School Exchange will be held in the High School gymnasium on Saturday, March 22.

This year's Exchange program will play host to high school students from Washington, D. C., and Yarmouth, N. S. The proceeds of the rummage sale are to help defray the costs of entertaining the visiting students who will be guests of Newton during the early part of April.

Sixty students from Newton High School will be guests of the Washington and Yarmouth students for a week when they will be attending classes and being entertained at their guest schools. Thirty students are going to Washington in February and 30 students will travel to Nova Scotia in May.

The Exchange program has proven very beneficial in helping to develop character and helping our students understand how other high schools operate.

General chairman for the rummage sale is Mrs. Charles C. Kantor with Mrs. Arthur Gordon and Mrs. Louis Sigel as co-chairmen. Other chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Metcalf, publicity; Mrs. William Gladstone and Mrs. Harold Glickman, personnel; Mrs. James Sigel, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Richter, maintainance; Mrs. Russell Letteney, chairman of cashiers, and Mrs. Samuel Prince, supplies.

Chairman of all collections of rummage materials is Mrs. Alfred H. Stafford (BIgelow 4-2992).

Blizzard Costs-

began its fight against the steadily mounting storm. Because it got underway with considerable force at that hour the city's defense was pretty good, judging from the appearance of streets in other cities and towns.

Newton called out its entire fleet of snow-fighting apparatus — 69 trucks, 12 bulldozers and three graders. Besides that it hired 50 trucks, five jeeps and a grader from private contractors.

Before most Newton residents had turned in Saturday night they had digested radio and TV warnings of the coming storm. Few of them left their cars on the streets. That helped the snow-fighting forces immeasurably. Only 11 parked cars were found to be interferring with snow-removal operations.

They were towed away at the request of the Public Works officials.

But not only was the early morning fight carried on without much interference from parked cars, the snow fighters were also aided during the entire day Sunday and Sunday night by a minimum of traffic. When folks got up on Sunday morning and saw what the night had brought by way of a gift from nature they decided — most of them — to let the car remain in the garage.

Many church services were cancelled on Sunday and those churches which carried on as usual reported a considerable drop in the turnout of worshippers. Most churchgoers had taken a look at the snow piled against garage doors and promptly gave up the idea of going to church.

On Monday, and again on Tuesday, when temperatures dropped to below zero in the early morning hours many cancellations were announced of various civic and social functions. Some were postponed to a later date. Others were washed off the books entirely.

On Sunday, little traffic moved over Newton streets.

Most motorists who could find any excuse at all to stay home did so. The result was that plows and other snow-clearing apparatus weren't confronted with the problem that storm-bound traffic usually presents.

Newton schools were closed Monday but reopened on Tuesday when the temperature dove to punishing lows.

Many schoolboys took advantage of the cancellation of classes on Monday to earn a few dollars shoveling out walks and driveways. It turned out to be a good break for many householders. Large numbers — taking the advice of some heart specialists — decided to do no snow shoveling themselves and waited for shovel-carriers to come along and offer their services — for a fee.

On Sunday, five automobile accidents were listed in the city, bringing injury to 11 persons. All were considered due in one way or another to the storm. Yet, that was below the average for a day's toll of traffic accidents in Newton. It reflected the cut imposed on traffic movement by the tough northeaster.

One utility pole was felled during the storm but it caused no interruption in services.

The street department did a remarkable job in the opinion of most observers in opening streets, particularly the vital highways.

Fire Chief Frederic A. Perkins, Jr., worried about the heavy blanket of snow which covered hydrants all over the city. He assigned 30 men to the task of checking them. He likewise appealed to residents to help clear the snow away from them.

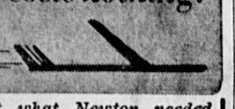

Fire Chief Philip Purcell directed his officers to instruct residents not to throw snow into the street. The ban on all-night parking was enforced.

Rubbish collections were omitted on Monday. Residents were requested to put out their rubbish on their regular days and leave the barrels until they are emptied.

Chief Purcell's order was as follows:

"All officers in cruisers, routes and squares are to check all gas stations to prevent snow from being plowed into sidewalks and streets and prevent householders or contractors, plowing driveways, from doing the same; check cars, parked on sidewalks and streets and strictly enforce the ban on all-night parking."

On Heart Sunday..

Give for every Heart You Love

Next Sunday is Heart Sunday. It is the day to put out the welcome mat for a very special visitor.

Your caller will be a Heart Fund volunteer—probably a neighbor whom you already know. She will leave her own fireside to see you and enlist your support in the fight against heart disease.

Chances are she will ring your doorbell sometime between the hours of noon and 4 p.m.

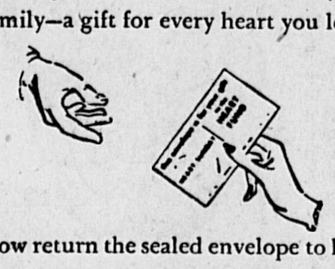

So welcome her with a friendly smile and a warm handclasp.

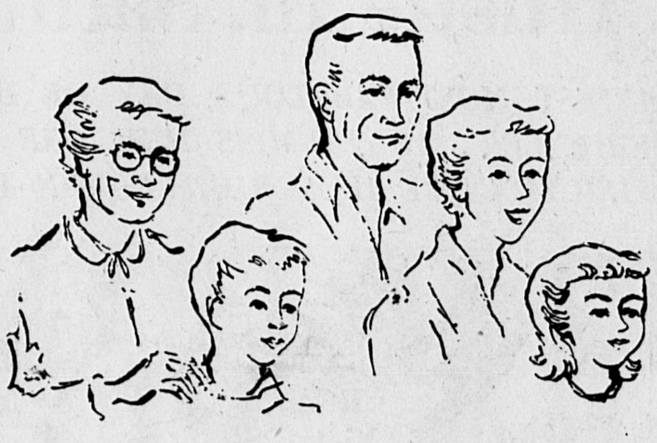

Just place your Heart Fund gift in the envelope she hands you.

Seal the envelope. No need to say how much you give. But let your contribution represent every member of your family—a gift for every heart you love.

Now return the sealed envelope to her. Your Heart Association will use your contribution to fight heart disease through research . . . through professional and public education . . . and through community heart programs.

If you are not at home, your Heart Fund volunteer will leave a "Sorry-I-Missed-You" envelope. Look for it. Use it to mail in your contribution.

Give generously ... Give for every heart you love

Eye-Appeal of Sleek New Cars Excites Feminine Interest

Studebaker-Packard Line Has High Fashion, Safety

The sleek loveliness of the 1958 line of Studebaker-Packard automobiles will be on view and ready for inspection at August Osterlund, Inc., 1180 Washington street, West Newton, throughout the Washington's Birthday "Open House" observance starting this weekend and continuing throughout the coming week.

A unique combination of high fashion and safety provides the theme for the restyled interiors of the 1958 Studebaker and Packard fine automobiles for 1958.

High fashion is achieved through the integration of custom-crafted fabric upholsterings created especially for the new automobiles, and distinctive "Shantung" styled vinyl trims. Shantung styling gives the vinyl the grained-like, raised, woven effect of tweed. Upholsterings are combined with interior and exterior paint finishes in careful harmony, in four basic color schemes: gray, blue, green, and brown.

A brand new safety feature is introduced in the door panel styling. Entirely redesigned, the door panels are heavily padded beneath the trim. Metal mouldings have been eliminated and replaced by an accent design of raised vinyl, allowing greater safety and a softer, more luxurious appearance.

The President Classic combines fabric insert pleats of a Jacquard woven "Abstract" pattern of Ratine yarns, with finely textured, light-colored nylon bolsters. On the padded door panels, Royal Moroccan grain vinyl accent panels contrast with a "Shantung" vinyl. Floor coverings are a matching, two-tone deep pile carpeting.

The President Hardtop and Golden Hawk models feature a hand-crafted look, produced by combining Homespun Tweed fabric interwoven with Ratine yarn, with full-pleated vinyl bolsters. The padded door panels carry through this hand-crafted appearance with a silver-backed, rough textured, woven plastic mylamesh.

In the Silver Hawk models, an intriguing "Thumbprint" design, a blend of three subtle harmonies, contrasts textural effects for a three-dimensional appearance in the seat upholsterings. Bolsters are a textured "Shantung" vinyl.

A Jacquard woven "Hyperbola" pattern characterizes the Commander Hardtop nylon upholstering, complimented by Shantung grained vinyl bolsters. Padded door trims are Royal Moroccan vinyl with Shantung vinyl insert panels.

The Commander and Champion Deluxe two-door and four-door models are trimmed with light-toned Jacquard fabrics accented with metallic yarns, complimented by Shantung vinyls.

Highlands Sale-

John W. McCormack, Robert H. Macdonald and Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr.

With it now virtually a foregone conclusion that the ICC will permit the B & A to discontinue service on the Highlands branch, the big remaining question is whether there will be any lapse of time before the MTA starts its rapid transit service on the same line.

Should there be any interruption of service on the line—and MTA officials have indicated that it might be of a year's duration or longer—some 4,000 residents on the south side of Newton would be hard pressed to find new means of transportation to and from their places of employment in downtown Boston.

This was one of the warnings sounded by both Mayor Whitmore and Executive Councillor Herter to ICC Examiner Blond.

Both Herter and Whitmore emphasized substantially the same points in their arguments.

They maintained that the Highlands branch line could be operated at a profit or at a very small loss if improved service were provided for commuters, and if the rolling stock of the line and the railroad properties were maintained in proper condition.

At the same time Herter and Whitmore both stressed that if the ICC does see fit to allow the abandonment, it should insist that no interruption in service on the line be allowed.

Councillor Herter sent the following communication to Examiner Blond.

"Please record my support of the position taken by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton, in vigorous opposition to the proposed abandonment by the Boston and Albany Railroad of the Highlands Branch Line.

"I am firmly convinced that this line could be made self-supporting or certainly operated at a very small loss if the Boston and Albany were to take the steps necessary to promote and encourage public patronage of the line.

"Such steps would have to include better service, improved facilities, proper allocation of rolling stock, more adequate maintenance of the railroad properties and a fairer distribution of costs between freight and passenger service.

"There is strong evidence that the Boston and Albany Railroad has permitted this line to deteriorate to such an extent that public use of it has been discouraged. If more constructive operating methods were used I believe that patronage would increase substantially, producing a greater financial return for the Boston and Albany.

"Should the Interstate Commerce Commission decide to allow the abandonment of this line, it should be only on the condition that there be no discontinuance in mass transportation service over this line.

"A lapse of a year or more between the discontinuance of service by the Boston and Albany and the start of service by the Metropolitan Transit Authority, such as has been reported, would result in a great public inconvenience, a permanent loss of present patronage and a staggering drop in potential riders.

"I sincerely hope that your Commission will rule that a fair test should be conducted to ascertain whether this line could be self-supporting under effective railroad management. Up to now the railroad tactics have been aimed at putting it out of business rather than making it pay," Herter concluded.

Representative Heaney, in a letter to the ICC examiner, scored those supporting the B & A abandonment. Heaney's communication said:

"A combination of illness and the weather prevents my attending the hearing today. However, I do wish to register my hope that the petition will not be granted at the present time. Those who support this petition do so with utter disregard for the interests of Newton and Brookline, the communities through which the line runs. They are "save Boston at any cost" advocates, together with officials of the M.T.A., which apparently cares little how much it spends.

"Such organizations as the Retail Trade Board and Chamber of Commerce are supposed to be the great exponents of private enterprise and home rule, yet they do not hesitate to lend their support to a scheme which violates both of these precepts. A private enterprise is to be allowed to give up a franchise which carries with it definite obligations in favor of a public authority which is under no compulsion to run its business economically.

"I object to abandonment for several reasons, two of which I will mention here.

"1. This is the culmination of a methodical plan being carried out for years to get rid of commuter business. I myself have used the Highland Branch for 16 years and have watched its deterioration in service and maintenance. No real effort has been made by the railroad to be progressive in trying to attract patronage and I firmly believe this lack of effort has been deliberate. In fact it seems quite obvious that dirty stations followed by the closing of most of them, neglect of the condition of the right of way, and the use of antiquated equipment has been used as a weapon to discourage patronage.

"2. My City of Newton can gain nothing if this petition is granted. On the contrary, if Newton were to subsidize the entire deficit of the Highland Branch it would not begin to approach the payment we will face under this scheme in loss of business property, reduced valuations and additional cost of the deficit of the proposed substitute rapid transit.

"There is at the present time before the Mass. Legislature a proposal to form a Metropolitan Area Planning Council, by which consideration of the common problems facing the communities of this district could be coordinated. Among these problems is that of transit. The proposal has quite general support, including that of the City of Newton. It seems to me that the question of abandonment of the Highland Branch should be postponed until it can be considered as part of the overall picture. It belongs in that category, and I sincerely hope you will deny, at least temporarily, the petition which is before you today."

One of the arguments advanced by Mayor Whitmore was that MTA proposes to take the only remaining large tract of land available in Newton for industrial development in order to provide a parking area at its Riverside station.

This would deprive the City of Newton of the possibility of utilizing the land as the site for new industrial property which would have a substantial tax yield.

B & A spokesmen, in presenting their case, contended that the Highlands Branch line cannot under any circumstances or conditions be operated on a self-supporting basis.

They also argued that the MTA would provide the public with better and cheaper service than is now furnished by the B & A on the same line.

Mayor Whitmore and Councillor Herter, it was learned, have not been able to obtain definite assurance that there will be no interruption in service over the Highlands branch.

MTA officials are planning to repair and rebuild the tracks and estimate that this would take about a year. Mayor Whitmore has urged that one track be repaired at a time and that the other be utilized for service. So far the MTA heads have not expressed any willingness to follow such a plan.

Do You Know This Veteran?

The Centre Ossipee (N.H.) Post of the American Legion is seeking information on a former Newton resident, James W. Prendergast, who entered the service in World War I in 1914 from Newton. If anyone remembers him, the outfit in which he served or his serial number, please contact Commander Monte Basbas of Newton Post 48, A.L., so that his veteran's rights may be taken care of. Basbas is also Newton's city clerk and may be reached at city hall.

Luxurious 1958 Pontiacs Feature Power and Beauty

Hugo Pontiac, Inc., 714 Beacon street, Newton Centre, will display the new line of 1958 Pontiacs throughout the traditional "Washington's Birthday" Open House observance over the weekend and through the coming week.

The Pontiac line also will be ready for inspection during the annual auto show period at Frank Battles, Inc., 208-214 Washington street, Newton Centre.

New highs in appearance and performance mark Pontiac's luxury Star Chief series for 1958, as well as all other popular Pontiac models.

With a new body, new chassis with new suspension, big "Tempest 395" V-8 engine and scores of other new features, Star Chiefs this year will be available in four models — two and four-door Catalina hardtop sedans, a four-door slim pillar sedan and a four-door custom Safari station wagon.

The sedans are on a 124" wheelbase and the Safari on a 122" wheelbase. All have the top performing engine with four-barrel carburetor as standard. Fuel injection or three two-barrel carburetors are available as options, as is the new levelizing air ride suspension.

The new look for 1958 begins in this series with a Star Chief name plate on the front fenders, a rear fender plaque having three windsplits and a side emblem similar to the new Pontiac "V" grille emblem. Four stars grace the flare in the iance-like moulding. The sedans also feature a sail moulding at the junction of the side and twin ash trays, electric clock and a cushioned passenger assist hand rail is another feature of this series. A special instrument panel paint gives anti-glare effect.

Pontiac's famed interiors are rear windows. Wheel discs are standard on all models in this series.

A new safety instrument panel, with convenient grouping of driving instruments, even finer this year. The Star Chief sedans feature a halo panel above the rear window on Catalina models, stardust carpeting, and a wide choice of interior colors to blend with the exterior. Grain leather upholstery is an alternate in Catalina models.

The custom Safari station wagon interior is finished in Saran fabric contrasted with a coated fabric, while a selection of exterior colors in the gloss-retaining acrylic lacquer may be had with custom trimmed interiors as an option. A custom Safari name plate and four stainless steel bars on the specially styled tail gate distinguish this custom family car.

Powerful And Beautiful Cadillacs Tops For '58

Cadillac owners and prospective purchasers will find the welcome mat out and ready at Frost Motors, 399 and 624 Washington street, Newton, during the annual "Open House" observance over the Washington's Birthday weekend and through the coming week.

Longer, lower, more powerful and more beautiful than ever, that's the story of the 1958 Cadillac, long America's prestige automobile. Sleek new lines make this one of the most impressive new cars on the road.

In addition to the styling, the power plant under the hood makes the Cadillac one of the most power packed autos that Detroit produces.

Brilliant new colors, almost any combination that might be desired, will appeal to all members of the family and the 1958 models are roomier, more comfortable, than ever.

The Cadillac is among the most well built automobiles available to the buyer, promising thousands of miles of trouble free driving and a surprisingly low maintenance cost.

The combination of styling, high powered engine and Cadillacs enviable standing as a prestige automobile, the 1958 models promise to be among the most popular in the company's long history of producing fine cars.

Thief at Night Induces Balky Auto to Start

Peter Messenger of 187 Sargent street, Newton, left his car in the municipal parking area on Pearl street, Newton. It was 11 p.m. The car wouldn't start. Mr. Messenger professes no outstanding mastery of automobile repairs. He figured he'd do better with the temperamental machine in the morning.

When he returned at 9 a.m. the car had vanished. A thief in the night — who was equipped with a knowledge for handling temperamental cars, not only induced the temperamental machine to start. He drove away in it.

Awarded Scholarship

Thomas J. Dokton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dokton of Randlett Park, West Newton, a sophomore at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, has been awarded the Cyril Norman Weiser Memorial Scholarship.

The Cyril Norman Weiser Scholarship is awarded annually to the sophomore member who earned the highest rank in the course in botany of his freshman year. He is a graduate of Newton High School.

Police Officer In Safety Talk For Cub Scouts

At a recent Pack meeting of the Cub Scouts, Pack 55, held at St. Bernard's Catholic Club, Officer Charles E. Feeley of the Newton Police Department addressed the Cub Scouts and guests regarding safety.

The educational movie which followed Officer Feeley's lecture stressed the importance of knowing the Safety rules to insure safe bicycle riding. Plans have been tentatively made to take the Cub Scouts on a bicycle trip which will be under the general direction of Officer Feeley assisted by parents of the Cub Scouts.

In keeping with the Safety theme, the boys of Den 1 and Den 3 presented skits. The other Dens exhibited projects completed at their Den meetings under the direction of the Den Mothers.

During the evening two new Cubs were sworn into the Pack and were awarded Bobcat pins. They are Edward Lopez and John McCarthy of Den 3.

James O'Malley and Peter McManmon of Den 7 were awarded Wolf Badges and William Rayburg of Den 1 received a Bear Badge aod a silver arrow.

A gold arrow was presented to Richard Whitehead of Den 3 and John Kinchia of Den 3 received a Bear badge.

The next Pack meeting is scheduled for February 25 at 7:30 at which time the Blue and Gold Banquet will be held.

Where You Save DOES Make a Difference

I like to watch my savings build up

It's a circus to watch your savings perform at Watertown Federal — one of New England's fastest growing thrift institutions. I keep savings there and I get a kick out of sitting still, "leaving them lay," and watching my pile pyramid.

You get a little older every year, and as you get older it's satisfying to know that someday your own savings will supplement inadequate Social Security.

Dividends at Watertown Federal are exempt from Massachusetts state tax.

C. of C. Plans For Big March 10th Meeting

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has extended invitations to 1350 prospective members of its organization along with those already enrolled for a membership campaign dinnner to be held at 7 p.m., March 10, at the Commonwealth Country Club.

According to the C. of C.'s current Bulletin, "All indications point toward a capacity attendance of approximately 500 members and prospective members at this meeting. The campaign executive committee is extending a special invitation to the ladies in hopes that a greater number of members and non-members will therefore be able to attend.

"Beginning this week, direct mail letters, brochrues and formal invitations to this meeting will be sent to the 1350 prospective members.

"Coinciding with this direct mail approach, 40 contact teams, made up from the existing membership, are being formed in preparation for the oficial beginning of the campaign on March 10.

"These 40 teams which will personally contact all the prospective members, are divided into 4 classifications of professional prospects, retail prospects and service prospects.

"Approximately 100 members of the Newton Chamber will be approached to serve on these contact teams and it is hoped that they will graciously consent to serve in this most important function.

"Preceding the campaign dinner meeting of March 10, a meeting of these 100-odd chamber members, serving as team members will be held at the Commonwealth Country Club at which time all prospect cards will be passed out to the teams with instructions on the correct approach to be used when contacting these prospective members."

1958 Oldsmobile Features Exterior-Interior Change

Frost Motors, 399-624 Washington street, Newton, will be ready with the welcome mat and special features to greet the army of visitors eager to examine the 1958 Oldsmobile line of swank cars during the annual Washington's Birthday "Open House" observance over the weekend and though the coming week.

Oldsmobile for 1958 will feature the dramatic new "mobile look." Highlights of the "mobile look" are styling in excellent taste with sparkling new exterior moulding treatments, a variety of new interior upholstery and trim fabrics and a wide selection of new paints.

New hues in the '58 Oldsmobile color choice are surf green, marlin blue, pearl gray, sterling gray, sandstone, autumn haze, canyon glow, heather, mountain haze, champagne mist, turquoise mist, tropical mist and charcoal. Nine holdover colors also are available. They are onyx black, festival red, Allegheny green, Banff blue, Alaskan white, desert glow, rose mist, jade mist and Victorian white.

One two-tone color styling will be available on the 1958 models. This appears as one color for the roof and another for the hood, front fenders, doors, trunk lid and rear fenders.

The tasteful and luxurious "fashion-flair" interiors of the 1958 Oldsmobile serve to accentuate the dramatic newness of the "mobile olok."

For 1958, nine types of upholstery material in differing weaves and patterns are offered in Oldsmobile's three series. All Holiday models combine leather or morocceen with long-wearing nylon fabrics.

Representing automotive luxury at its best, the "98" Holiday sedan utilizes a combination of genuine hand-buffed leather bolster material with new design three-dimensional upholstery, the puffed nylon fabric which Oldsmobile first introduced to the industry in 1957. Altogether, three new three-dimensional designs will appear on the 1958 Oldsmobiles.

A new sponge vinyl headliner —"star-lite"—will be offered on the "98" Holidays and the Super "88" Holidays. The new headliner is optional at extra cost on the "98" and the Super "88" four-door sedans and the Dynamic "88" Holidays and the two and four-door sedans.

In the station wagon line, the Super "88" Fiesta will have five color combinations.

C of C Club to Meet, Hear Talk

Garden Club to Meet

"Planning for Spring" will be the subject of a talk to be given by John D. Lyon at the next meeting of the Newtonville Garden Club, scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 27, at 10:15 a.m. at the Newtonville Library garden. Mrs. Ernest Keepers will act as hostess.

Boys' Club Holds Brotherhood Week Activities

Special programs and activities are marking the current observation of Brotherhood Week by the Newton Boys' Club.

Executive Director Samuel Crocetti stressed the importance of good neighborliness among boys and the fostering of good inter-personal and inter-group understanding among boy members.

Special activities included a basketball game Tuesday between the Boys' Club B team from the Somerville Youth Centre and an inter-club all-games tournament between the West Newton Community Centre and the Boys' Club on Wednesday.

Today the Boys' Club Midget basketball team will entertain the Cambridge Youth Community Centre.

A special program of movies will be featured tomorrow night. Open house is being observed throughout the week and club members are encouraged to bring guests to the club.

All parents, business and civic leaders are invited to drop into the club during the week and get a glimpse of democracy in action.

Tigers Tie Arlington To Hold 3rd Place Standing

Newton's Tigers stubbornly fought off a determined last-period bid by Arlington to gain a 1 - 1 tie and nail down third place in the final GBI hockey league standings.

The tie enabled the Tigers to nose out Arlington by a single point in the final first division standings.

Tim Gosch put Newton into a 1-0 lead at 1:57 in the second period when he scored with a blazing 40-foot shot. The lead lasted until 7:17 of the period when Charley Chisholm scored for Arlington by tapping in a long feed from Francis Brennan.

The final GBI standing showed Newton and Arlington winning four games each during the regular season. Arlington dropped a total of four games to Newton's three. Newton gained three ties while Arlington had two dead locks.

The summary:

Newton 1, Arlington 1

Newton: g, Reingold; rd, Gosch; ld, Blomberg; c, Craig; rw, Thompson; lw Leonard. Spares: Bealey, Downing, Tormey.

Arlington: g, Apprille; rd, Brennan; ld, Howell; c, Chisholm; rw, Aiken; lw, Collins. Spares: Faiola, Wilson, MacLean.

Score by periods	1	2	3
Newton	0	1	0—1
Arlington	0	1	0—1

Second: Gosch (Tormey), 1:57; Chisholm (Aiken, Brennan), 7:17.

Ring Magazine Tabs Joe Good

Joe DeNucci is beginning to attract attention outside of Newton, the Boston Garden and Revere's Rollaway. He was named "Prospect of the Month" in the current issue of Ring Magazine. Editor of the publication is Nat Fleischer, considered tops among ring authorities.

Newly Formed North Little League To Meet

As a result of the North and West Little Leagues being put under separate management, George McGoldrick, new president of the North League, announced the first meeting of the new North League.

McGoldrick has been successful in having the Recreation Department make it possible to hold meetings in the new Albemarle Field House, located on the edge of the field between Watertown and Craft streets. The first meeting to be held there, will be Monday evening, February 24.

As in the past, the directors of the league urgently appeal to all fathers of little leaguers or any other man interested in youth to attend this meeting.

Each league consists of four major league teams, four minor league teams, and last year in order to take care of all boys not making a team, a farm league was formed.

Upswing In Used Car Buying Seen By Frost Motors

Mr. W. H. Larssen, used car manager, for Frost Motors, 399-624 Washington street, Newton, predicts for 1958 a greater trend towards used car buying than ever before experienced. This increased sales interest, he says, is due to the vast selection of fine cars being offered in the used car market this season.

Whether people are interested in purchasing a new car or one of his finer reconditioned used models, he assures them of the most attractive offers that can be found anywhere, based on a desire to keep old customers and invite new buyers, who are seeking good cars at prices that are maintained through economy and conservation in management.

Mr. Larssen says that the co-operative spirit prevalent throughout the organization has always been a big drawing point for giving complete satisfaction to all their customers, both in sales and service departments.

Newton Buick Is Proud of Service In Past 46 Years

Looking back over forty-six years in the automobile business in Newton Corner, Dick, Leo and Jim Dwyer have seen vast changes in their Newton Buick business. From the wet clutch to power steering, from the hand crank to air conditioning, today's automobiles are a marvel of dependability.

Over almost a half century, the Dwyer Brothers have found one part of their business unchanged; their basic principle of giving their customers full value for their money. They have a few third generation customers who can testify to the merits of this system.

With the full line of the glamorous '58 Buick, the handsome little German Opel and an unusually fine selection of used cars on display, you are cordially invited to visit the Newton Buick Company during their Washington's Birthday Open House when the second generation of Bob and Dick Dwyer and the sales staff of Paul Goodwin, Ed Shaughnessey, Amos Switzer, Bob Ray and Bob Leathers will make you most welcome.

Long Record Of Service Seen At O'Neill Motors

The annual Washington's Birthday open house at O'Neill's of Wellesley, 463 Washington street, Route 16, across from new Star Market this year promises to be the best in more than a decade of square dealing and customer satisfaction.

Frank C. O'Neill has built an enviable reputation in auto mobile circles for honest value and customer satisfaction.

Spacious sales facilities make the selection of a Continental Mark III, Lincoln, Mercury or a "Safe Buy" used car a pleasurable and money-saving experience. A trained and courteous sales force is on hand each weekday until 9 p.m.

A complete line of English-built Fords is always on display at O'Neill Motors.

The sales department includes Sam Macaione, Bob Palladino, Fred Higgins and "Bud" Miller.

One of the finest servicing facilities in New England can be found at O'Neill's of Wellesley, under the expert heading of Jerry Berndt, a veteran of more than over a quarter-century of fine car service.

PETITION FOR DISSOLUTION OF RICHARD E. RICE CO., INC. UNDER GENERAL LAWS, (TER. ED.), CHAPTER 155, SECTION 50, BY A MAJORITY OF ITS STOCKHOLDERS.

ALLEGATIONS

1. Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. is a business corporation organized on January 4, 1954, under and by virtue of Chapter 156 (Ter. Ed.) of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
2. The capital stock of said corporation is divided into one hundred (100) Common shares of no par value.
3. That on the first day of February 1958 Richard E. Rice, President, Richard E. Parmenter, Treasurer, and Charles King, Clerk, were present at a meeting of all of the stock holders of the corporation, duly held at 425 Waltham Street, Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, at which meeting all waived notice in writing; and it was duly moved and seconded and VOTED: "That Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. be dissolved as of December 31, 1957, as moved and seconded and voted by all of its stockholders because all of said stockholders of said corporation and all of said officers of said corporation desire to withdraw from the fields of the business of this corporation as traders and dealers in glassware, china, household furnishings and as wholesalers, retailers, exporters, importers of such merchandise and as manufacturers sales agent under said corporate name."
4. That on the said first day of February, 1958 at said meeting, it was further moved, seconded and voted by all the said stockholders that VOTED: "We, as all the stockholders of Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. hereby authorize that a petition to dissolve said corporation be filed to request the Superior Court of Massachusetts to dissolve the corporation under the provisions of General Laws (Tercentenary Edition) Chapter 155, Section 50."
5. That Richard E. Rice of 425 Waltham Street, West Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and Richard E. Parmenter of 284 Concord Street, Framingham, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and Charles King of 19 Brae Burn Road, East Milton, Norfolk County, Massachusetts, hereby join and assent to this petition in their full capacities as being a majority of and all of the holders of the Common stock of the corporation and as President, Treasurer and Clerk respectively of the said corporation.
6. Petitioners state that said corporation has paid all its debts and has no liabilities and that it has no assets.

WHEREFORE, they for themselves as owners of all the Common stock and as said officers pray:

1. That a decree be entered dissolving said corporation in accordance with the provisions of General Laws, (Tercentenary Edition) Chapter 155, Section 50.
2. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem meet, just and proper.

Fate of Withholding Tax Bill May Hinge on Survey Result

Whether a State withholding income tax will go into effect in Massachusetts next Jan. 1, as recommended by Governor Furcolo, may hinge on the data gathered and tabulated in a survey now being made by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts to determine exactly what expense the suggested withholding tax would impose on business and industry in the State.

Shortly before the measure was voted upon by the House, General Counsel Jarvis Hunt of the A.I.M. requested a delay in action on the bill, explaining that his organization then was in the process of assembling facts and figures which would reveal the effect the proposed withholding tax would have on business and industrial firms.

Hunt pointed out that it is possible that the survey may disclose that it would cost more to process the tax than it would produce in additional revenue and that in such an event common sense would dictate that the measure be rejected.

The statement by Hunt may have come too late to influence the action in the House of Representatives, or the leadership in that body, headed by Speaker Thompson, may have determined to force the measure through, irrespective of any opposition to it.

In any event the Governor's proposal was approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

The indications, however, are that the bill will be held in the Senate ways and means committee until the Associated Industries of Massachusetts completes its survey about the end of this month. The results of that survey are almost certain to influence the thinking of a substantial number of Senators.

Democratic Convention Strategy Will Not Avert Sales Tax Fight

The fact that the Democratic party in Massachusetts probably will hold no pre-primary State convention this year does not mean that Governor Furcolo has avoided a fight over the sales tax within his own party ranks.

All the Democrats actually would accomplish by foregoing a pre-primary convention would be to avert a battle over the endorsement of a candidate for Attorney General and possibly a quarrel over the renomination of State Treasurer John F. Kennedy.

Whether the Democrats would endorse Kennedy for reelection if they held a conclave is uncertain.

Twice they gave the nod to another candidate for Treasurer, and twice Kennedy prevailed in the primary. So perhaps they would have recognized the futility of bypassing him and would have given him their endorsement. That, however, is something that will never be known.

One thing the absence of a Democratic pre-primary convention this year will prevent is a knock-down battle between Boston City Councillor Edward J. McCormack, Jr., ex-Representative Joseph Ward of Fitchburg and former Governor's Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody for the Democratic endorsement for Attorney General.

Instead of having a preliminary struggle before the delegates assembled in the Worcester convention hall, the three will carry their fight directly to the Democratic voters in the September primary.

That probably will react to the advantage of McCormack who on the basis of all the political evidence available appears to be stronger in an open primary than in a party convention. He was turned down by the 1956 convention and then won the Democratic nomination in the primary.

That is why the followers of ex-Representative Ward are considering the possibility of seeking court action to force the Democrats to hold a pre-primary conclave.

But even if no Democratic convention is held before the primary, one must be conducted after it next September. A party platform would be adopted at that time, and unless there is some very effective backstage maneuvering there would be a bitter battle over the sales tax issue.

For that reason it is a bit difficult to figure out exactly what Governor Furcolo would gain by calling off the pre-primary convention.

While Furcolo originally indicated that Senator Joseph F. Kennedy wanted no pre-primary convention and that he was going along with Kennedy, the impression exists on Beacon Hill that Kennedy wasn't particularly concerned with whether a convention was held or not and that the one who was most anxious to call off the conclave was Furcolo, not Kennedy.

Newton LWV Hears Expert Discuss State Problems

Over 1000 qualified applicants were turned away from Massashusetts' ten teachers' colleges last year because of a lack of facilities and teachers, the Newton League of Women Voters learned from a recent talk by John Powers Mallen, executive secretary of the Audit of State Needs.

Higher education is one of the areas the ten-man board is studying and Mallan pointed out that no funds are provided for long-range planning in this field.

Over 1000 were denied admission to the University of Massachusetts, he stated, and indicated that most private educators believe the state must do a larger share in providing higher education for all qualified young people in this state.

Mallan also reported on the study of Mental Health and Retarded Children now under way, and on the Problem of the Aging, which is high on the agenda of the State Audit.

Massachusetts, he said, is fourth in the nation in the number of citizens over 60, and has the third highest average age of its citizens. With these statistics in mind, Mallan felt the state could cut expenses for this age group by assisting with preventive medicine, job counseling and social work.

League President, Mrs. Martin Greenberg presided, and presented Mrs. Arnold Mork, Legislative Chairman, who introduced the speaker. Mrs. Mork also outlined some of the legislation in which the League is interested, including H.324, which the League is opposing.

This bill would undermine the qualification standards for probation officers established two years ago. Mrs. Mork reported that at present between 70 and 100 qualified probation officers are waiting for appointment.

Mrs. John Locke was Hospitality Chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Maurice Strauss, Mrs. Norman Cetlin, Mrs. Seymour Gettel and Mrs. Harvey Karp.

Cookie Salesmen Invade Twelve Newton Villages During March

Newton had best prepare for an invasion, local Girl Scout authorities warn, as hundreds of little girls in brown uniforms and their big sisters in green will be invading the city's streets and by-ways on March 6 to offer local householders 65,000 boxes of cookies.

The sale will continue through March 17 and this year will feature two new cookie varieties, a peanut butter type called a Plantation and a double-dip fudge delicacy.

Proceeds from the sale will go in part to the individual troops for improvement of programming and also for developing Camps Mary Day and Camp Wabasso. Funds will also be used for the betterment of camp facilities and personnel as well as establishment of a Council-In-Training Unit at Camp Wabasso in Sutton, N.H.

The young saleswomen will begin knocking on your doors at 4 p.m. March 6, and the sale will continue through March 17.

The Adult Girl Scouts interested in the sale met on Tuesday morning, Feb. 11 at the Highlands Workshop in Newton Highlands, for a "kick-off" coffee hour. Present and heard from were: Mrs. Francis V. Jones, Order Chairman, Mrs. Wm. Endlar, Chairman Cookie Sale Com., Mrs. Edw. Landy, Treas. of Cookie Sale, Mrs. Joseph S. Kaufman, Chairman Public Relations Com., Miss Eliz. Richardson, Exec. Director, Newton Girl Scouts, Mrs. Guida Kaljnais and Mrs. Earl Alban, both Field Directors.

The following neighborhood Cookie Chairmen also attended: Mrs. Edw. Gleason, Mrs. Norman I. Gold, Mrs. Samuel L. Moschella, Mrs. Charles A. Govatsos, Mrs. Arthur W. Dennis, Mrs. John E. Coleman, Mrs. Charles O'Brien, Mrs. Dominic J Strazzulla, Mrs. Thomas P. Hughes, Mrs. Warren M. Boudreau, Mrs. Roman R. Ramirez, Mrs. Mitchell E. Phillips, Mrs. Samuel D. Selby, Mrs. John A. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Hy Eisenman, Mrs. Hyman L. Ednas, Mrs. Alan S. Barkin, Mrs. Ezra Hershkovitz and Mrs. Joseph Auerbach.

The goal this year is 65,000 boxes. Proceeds from the sale will go in part to the individual troops for better programming and also for providing development of both Camp Mary Day and Camp Wabasso, improving camp facilities and personnel, as well as establishing a Council-in-Training Unit at Camp Wabasso in Sutton, N.H.

Cookies will be delivered to your door between April 9 and 14. Some Senior Girl Scouts will sell cookies in local stores, according to Mrs. John H. Hanks, in charge of store sales. Mrs. Wm. Endlar, city-wide chairman, feels this sale gives the girls of all ages an opportunity to learn new skills in meeting people, keeping records, and handling money.

Addresses Two Clubs

John B. G. Palen of 297 Islington rd., Auburndale who is Trust Officer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company addressed the Social Science Club at the Hunnewell Club recently. His subject was the Permanent Charity Fund.

On Feb. 6 he addressed the Waltham Kiwanis at the Waltham Boys' Club. His subject was Trusts and Estates and the importance of correctly establishing wills and trusts for maximum benefit to the beneficiaries.

Distinctive Styling Features 1958 Oldsmobile

Oldsmobile for 1958 offers a completely restyled body. The distinctive styling in this Super "88" Holiday sedan harmoniously employs horizontal trim to emphasize its long, flowing lines and low silhouette. Dominant in Oldsmobile's 1958 styling are striking twin blades that sweep down the rear fender crown. The enlarged rear window extends 2½ inches into the new thin-line roof. The massive rear bumper has unique twin back-up lights at each extremity, with twin emblems and the Oldsmobile name on the rear deck. Choice of three Rocket engines with improved economy is offered in the 1958 Oldsmobile, which has a smoother Jetaway Hydra-Matic transmission and New-Matic Ride, a new concept of air suspension, available as desirable options.

Says 3 Achievements Have Been Beneficial to Mankind

Dr. Leon Sternfeld, head of the Cambridge Board of Health, in a recent talk before the Board meeting of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association stated that "the three outstanding achievements of the first half of the present century have been the conquest of the physical world, the increase in the knowledge of individual and group psychology, and the increase in life expectancy, which has grown from 45 years in 1900 to the current expectation of more than 70 years.

"This increased expectation of life," he continued, "is the result of Public Health measures; the conquest of acute communicable disease which has been achieved by eliminating reservoirs of causative agents such as unsafe food and water supplies, and by protecting ourselves against carriers of and sufferers from disease. Where we used to be content to prevent epidemics of such diseases as diphtheria and smallpox, we now aim for protection of every child.

"There are two aspects of Public Health," he said—"health and the public, and there is often a gap between a need and public realization that something should be done about it.

"The Public Health Nurse is the basic unit of service, therefore, we need nurses of high caliber, well trained and adequately paid, to carry out whatever program is instituted.

"But the Public Health Nurse cannot work with only one member of a family. Her patient's welfare and progress depend in part upon his environment, so more than nursing is needed for public health. The base must be enlarged and advisors provided — case workers, social scientists, nutritionists, health educators, psychiatric social workers.

"We need to coordinate all community health services — not organizationally but functionally.

"Many of the old problems are here," Dr Steinfeld concluded, "and so are the new ones, but we have new techniques with which to cope with them."

Dr. Sternfeld, in addition to his services to the city of Cambridge, is a member of the teaching staff of the School of Public Health of Harvard University and of the School of Nursing of Simmons College. He is a Newton resident.

At the business meeting held prior to Dr. Sternfeld's talk, the resignations of Miss Katherine MacDonald, executive director; Miss Mary Steinkrauss, Nursing Supervisor, and Mrs. Georgia Hilgartner, Staff Nurse, were read and regretfully accepted.

Mrs. Roy G. Hoskins of Waban, president of the association, presided.

Two Newton Boys Gain Yale Honor

David H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Jones of 48 Ruthuen street, Newton, and Wallace Emmett Tobin, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tobin, Jr, of Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, have been named to the dean's list at Yale University and accorded the designation of "Scholar."

They are among 41 Massachusetts students at Yale given the honor. It requires standing ing the top 25 per cent of their class.

Jones is a graduate of Newton High and a candidate for a B.A. degree in chemical engineering. Tobin is a graduate of Andover Academy and a candidate for a B.A. degree in history. He is a member of the Yale Key and the Corinthian Yacht Club.

5 Fund Drives for Gettysburg Teen-Age Trip

Five fund-raising drives are under way to bring in the cash needed to send 30 teen-agers from three Protestant churches in Newton to Gettysburg during the month of April.

The drives will take the form of a rags-to-riches drive, March 8; a square dance, March 14; a bottle collection, March 22; an Easter car wash, April 5, and a work day, April 12,

All the teen-agers who will make the 8-day, 1500-mile trip are members of the Newton Centre Young Peoples Fellowship. Members of the Eliot (Congregational); Grace (Episcopal) and Methodist Churches of Newton, participating are John Beeuwkes, Phil Currier, Nathan Custer, Charles Diman, Donald Dolan, Joyce Donald, Sandi Douglas, Martha and Jim Draper, Judy Fields, Peter Hale, Dave Hawkins, Barbara Hayes, Sally Holdridge, Priscilla Hopkins, Bill Horn, Muffie Hunter, Suzy and Dave Ingersoll, Amy McAuliffe, Dianne Marquis, Bob Masow, Diana Moore, Priscilla Newall, Jean Meyer, Roddy Pratt, Jack Swanton, Ann and Ginger Tullis, and Martha Uhlinger, and the chaperones Dick and Ruthie Salinger.

A bus will be used for transportation and the group will camp at Gettysburg, Pa.,

Sweet Sixteen Lunch Planned By Emeth Unit

An active committee, headed by Mrs. Samuel Goldberg and Mrs. Alan Sklar, of Chestnut Hill, report gratifying support of the annual ad and program book of the Temple Emeth Sisterhood which is planned in conjunction with the group's Sweet Sixteen Luncheon to be held Tuesday, March 25, at the Commonwealth Country Club.

Mrs. Milton Berger and Mrs. Lewis Miller are planning the program book, aided by Mrs. George Friedlander and Mrs. Maxwell Kream, secretaries, and Mrs. George Feingold, treasurer. Page chairman are: Mmes. Eli Blumenthal, Norman Coyne and Paul Firestone, our children; Mmes. Sumner J. Smith and Edward Glassman, patronesses; Mrs. Fred Gustin, sponsors and contributors; Mmes. Alfred Cohen, Benjamin Perlmutter and Benjamin Ralens, happy occasions; Mrs. Meyer Harris, grandmothers; Mmes. Edward Wine, Nathan Silverstein and Alexander Solberg, our collegians and alumni; Mrs. Ralph Chernick, and Mrs. Stanley Burton, professional page; Mmes. A.I. Lerner, Hyman L. Wayne and David Stuart, well wishers; Mmes. Norbert Koerner, Reuben Newman and Julius Covitz, in memoriam.

Newtonville Man Is Fleet Aviator

Lieutenant (jg) Winthrop M. Goodwin, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morrell P. Goodwin of 423 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, has been designated a naval aviator at the Naval Air Station in Hutchinson, Kan. He is the husband of the former Virginia Chase of 19 Cloelia terrace, Newtonville.

He entered the service after graduating from Purdue University in June, 1956. To qualify as an aviator he completed preliminary multi-engine training and is now undergoing 12 weeks of advanced instruction in a P2V "Neptune" patrol bomber. He will be assigned to an operational squadron with the fleet.

Costa Rica Post Won by Dr. Lipp

Dr. Solomon Lipp, of Newton, associate professor of romance languages at Boston University's College of Liberal Arts, left recently for a State Department educational assignment in Latin America.

Dr. Lipp, who has been awarded a grant from the U. S State Department under the International Education Exchange Program, will serve as a visiting professor at the University of Costa Rica. The grant is Dr. Lipp's second, a previous one sending him as a visiting professor to Guatemala.

Mrs. Lipp and their three children accompanied Dr. Lipp to Costa Rica.

Newton Marine Promoted

Alan W. Koss son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koss of 15 Crosby road, Newton, was promoted to Marine Private First Class at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. He was one of four Marines selected from his platoon to be promoted for "demonstrating qualities of leadership throughout recruit training." Private Koss is a graduate of Newton High School in the class of 1956.

Before enlisting in September, 1957, he attended Boston University.

Dean Is National Health Chairman

Dean Alice J. Kennedy of Newton Junior College has been appointed National Health chairman of the National Association of Biology Teachers by retiring president, Dr. Irene Hollenbeck of Southern Oregon College in Ashland, Oregon. Miss Kennedy has served as New England chairman for the past three years.

The appointment carries with it membership on the board of directors of the association which includes professionally active biology instructors all over the country.

Newton Woman Is Given Service Pin

Barbara T. Smith of 24 Lawn avenue, Newtonville recently was presented a service pin by The Columbian National Life Insurance Company in Boston in recognition of service with that company.

Community Chest Allots $274,300 To Newton Red Feather Agencies

The Community Chest Board of Directors in a meeting at the Newtonville public library allocated a total of $274,300 to the city's 14 Red Feather Agencies for their 1958 budgets.

The total is an all-time high, H. Donald Norstrand, chest president announced.

This year's appropriations are as follows:

All Newton Music School	$4,000
Family Service Bureau	37,000
Boys' Club	12,500
Community Chest	9,141
Community Council	6,359
Girl Scout Council	20,500
Visiting Nurse Association	26,500
Newton-Wellesley Hospital	54,000
Y. M. C. A.	43,500
Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts	25,500
Rebecca Pomroy House.	9,500
Society of St. Vincent de Paul	12,000
Stone Institute	300
West Newton Community Centre	13,500

United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, one of the eight participants in last fall's United Fund campaign, has granted $239,521 to the Newton Community Chest. An additional $4779 was voted from interest income and reserves by the local chest.

Individual agency allotments are determined only after examination of budgets and conferences with agency representatives. Dr. Neil W. Swinton of Waban is chairman of the Newton Community Chest budget committee. Other members are Albert R. Beisel Jr., David Berkman, Chester E. Borden, G. R. Breitzke, Wilbur W. Bullen, Joseph W. Chevarley, Edward A. Green, Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, Mrs. Matt B. Jones Jr., Norman B. Krim, Mrs. George H. Larsen and John B. G. Palen. Robert F. Cahill is secretary to the committee.

In addition, the following Newton residents served on UCS Budget Committees: Miss Sophie C. Nelson, R.N., area budget review committee and emergency and adjustments fund committee; Miss Hilga S. Nelson, R.N., Visiting Nurse Associations; Mrs. Lucius Thayer, Scouting and Camp Fire agencies; Dr. Ray Johns, state and national agency committee; Leonard Kaplan and W. Duncan Russell, community-wide agencies.

Not all Red Feather services from which Newton benefits are represented by the funds allotted locally. Locally residents frequently use many of the other 274 Red Feather agencies serving the whole metropolitan area.

These include such well-known Red Feather services as Massachusetts General Hospital, Children's Hospital, Catholic Charitable Bureau, the Judge Baker Guidance Center, Boston Legal Aid Society, Family Service Association of Greater Boston and Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls.

Agrees to Teach In School Play

Michael A. Minkin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Isadore Minkin of 125 Greenwood street, Newton Centre, a senior at NNew Hampton School, was a member of the cast for the play produced during annual winter Carnival weekend.

Issue Baby-Sitting Permit

The Newton Board of Aldermen has granted a license which will permit Marjorie Long of Poundwood street, Newton Upper Falls, to conduct a baby-sitting employment service at 437 Cherry street, West Newton.

VNA Board Hears Guidance Experts

Miss Esther Longfellow and Dr. Bernard Woods of the Judge Baker Foundation, who are engaged in a special three-year child guidance study in the Newton schools, were the speakers at the monthly board meeting of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association.

The study, they reported, is designed to help pupils who have emotional and learning difficulties, find out the causes of these problems, and to provide a center where those who work with children can learn and confer.

Miss Bernice Joyal, new executive director of the VNA, gave her first report to the board. President Mrs. Roy G. Hoskins of Waban conducted the business meeting, and called for reports from committee chairmen Mrs. Warren G. Reed, Mrs. Arthur Southwick, and Mrs. Henry Plimpton, as well as from the secretary, Mrs. Frank L. Springer.

Dog Learns Controversy

Editor
Newton Graphic

I want to take this opportunity to congratulate you on your fine coverage of the dog leash situation in Newton It is very gratifying to know that in The Newton Graphic we have a newspaper that is alert to the problems that are vital and important to the people of this city.

The dog problem in the city of Newton is a very serious one, more serious than many people realize. To me, it is very serious when dogs affect the coming and going of our children to and from school, and when dogs interfere with the operation of our schools, by entering the schools and taking valuable time from principals and teachers so that they have to call the owners of these dogs to come and take them home.

It is a very serious problem and menace when I read in The Graphic that in 1957 close to 390 people were bitten by dogs, let alone the hundreds of dollars worth of damage done to property by dogs that are allowed to roam around unleashed.

It is very disgusting to see the many barrels overturned by dogs and the litter strewn all over the streets. A dog leash law would also relieve our fine police department from having to answer the many dog nuisance complaints that they receive.

I feel that dog owners have failed to assume the responsibilities that go with owning dogs, and therefore a law should be enacted at once by the Board of Aldermen in the city of Newton for the safety of our children and the protection of our property.

In closing may I say, keep up the fine work you have done thus far in your coverage of the dog leash situation in Newton. Enclosed is a list of signatures of people who are in favor of a dog leash law.

Yours very truly,
HAROLD A. BLOOM

We, the undersigned are of the same opinion as the writer.

Backs Leash Law Drive

Editor
Newton Graphic

Please accept my congratulations for your interest and cooperation in the Leash Law campaign.

As a mother of school children, I am very anxious to see Newton adopt this most necessary measure.

At our school many children have been terrified, and on occasion barred from entering the school by a pack of dogs which congregate in front of the school. Frequently outdoor physical education classes are disrupted, and the youngsters are forced to return to the classroom because of the jumping, annoying canines.

I have seen trembling, wide-eyed children back away in panic from a dog fight.

Something should have been done a long time ago!! I hope that this time our Board of Aldermen will take due notice of the need of our community.

Sincerely,
VIRGINIA B. LEWIS

Against Dog "Packs"

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

I am a Newton resident who is both a dog owner and an advocate of the current proposal for a leash law. We have never believed in letting our dogs run loose in city or town, in the way one of your readers considers "natural". In fact most veterinarians agree that fifteen or twenty minutes of outdoor exercise twice a day is sufficient for a dog. (This means in good weather, of course, though there are many Newton dog owners who leave their pets out in blizzards, storms etc.)

I have been in the habit of taking our dog to nearby Edmunds Park in the mornings when school is in session. There he meets, by pre-arrangement, another dog—who also arrives on a leash and is watched from close by all the time he is outdoors—and they play happily until they are tired—usually about 15 minutes. All too often, however, their romp is interrupted and broken up by wandering dogs—mostly males—on the lookout for fights. So we are forced to go home early. Then the dogs follow us home and spend the rest of the morning on our doorsteps, barking at all passers-by until they follow the school children at noon.

These "packs" of dogs—as another of your readers has so perfectly described them—also make airing a child a problem. Big dogs put their paws inside infants carriages; little dogs put their noses through playpen slats; and all dogs regard the playpen posts as substitute hydrants. Our only solution to this problem seems to be to put the baby's pen inside the dog's pen come spring!

I might add that as I write this letter, there are four dogs in our small front yard, and two more fighting not twenty yards away just across the street. Surely anyone who wants and loves a dog enough to have him as a pet can take half an hour a day to give him the exercise he needs—and keep him from bothering other people the rest of the time. If people will not do this out of courtesy, then perhaps the law is the only answer.

Sincerely,
Kathleen G. Johnson

Hits PTA Council

Editor
The Graphic

The PTA Council seems to be infatuated with the sound of its own words. It spends much time and paper issuing lengthy reports on half-finished surveys of matters of dubious consequence. Now it has Newton's dogs by the tail, and has made its importance felt.

The proponents of the leash law could hardly deny that friendship between children and dogs can be a rewarding and beneficial one. It can teach loyalty, kindness and responsibility. Statistics prove that the majority of dog bites are delivered to young boys, indicating that perhaps there is something wrong with some young boys. Imagine Newton with 5000 chained dogs all howling at once, and all growing neurotic and snappish. It is not a pretty picture.

Granted dogs should not romp in school yards. But such play areas should be completely fenced in, regardless of the citizens who wish to use them as short-cuts.

A "good" dog does not just happen. It requires many hours of energetic training each day. A puppy is not a toy to be presented to a small child to play with. It needs to be shown what type of behavior is acceptable. Once this is understood, the dog wants to please his master. The responsibility for training must rest with adults. Why not make it difficult to renew dog licenses? Owners who refuse to train their pets do not deserve them anyway.

M. W. Downes,
Newton Highlands.

Passes State Test

Dorothy A. King of 15 Taft avenue, West Newton, passed a civil service examination to qualify for appointment as senior clerk and stenographer in the State division of mental health, it was announced this week at the State House.

Qualifies for Promotion

Dorothy M. Johnson of 23 Putnam street, West Newton, passed a civil service examination to quality for promotion to supervisor of social service division of Public Assistance, it was announced today at the State House.

Reelected to Head Machinists' Assn.

Lawrence C. Sullivan of 11 Bowers street, Newtonville, has been re-elected President of District #38 of The International Association of Machinists.

Mr. Sullivan is also Vice-President of The New England Conference of Machinists. He is a member of The Newton Democratic City Committee and a Director of The Newton Civic Association.

"Rebecca" Will Be Presented By Newton Players

Highlight of the club season at the Newton Centre Womans Club will be the presentation of the suspense drama "Rebecca," as enacted by the reknowned Newton Players, on Friday evening Feb. 28th at the Clubhouse. "Rebecca," by Daphne DuMaurier, is a moving story of suspicion, mystery, and love.

Curtain time will be at 8:30 p.m., and before the play begins the audience will be entertained by Mr. Ernest H. Adams playing two of his own piano compositions. Punch will be served during the intermission. Souvenir programs will be available. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Harvey P. Jenks, BI 4-2623. Tickets may be used on Thursday evening, Feb. 27th, at the dress rehearsal by those unable to attend the Friday performance.

This event is a Ways and Means project and the proceeds will benefit the Scholarship Fund. All club members and their friends are cordially invited to attend this "evening at the theatre."

To Address WILPF

Dr. Amiya Chakravarty, professor of comparative Oriental religious and literature at Boston University, will discuss "The Role of the Uncommitted Nations" at a meeting of the Newton-Wellesley Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom on Friday, February 28, at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Erich Lindemann, 51 Crescent street, Newton Centre.

Dr. Chakravarty returned this week from a conference in Bangkok at which the effects of mechanization of Thailand culture were studied.

A native of India, Dr. Chakravarty received his Ph.D. degree from Oxford University, England, in 1937. In 1947 he accompanied Mahatma Gandhi on peace missions to Bengal, Bihar and Delhi, and was advisor to the Indian delegation to the United Nations in the field of human rights in 1950.

Monday Meeting Scheduled For Women's Clubs

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will meet on Monday, February 24, at 10:15 a.m. at the Newtonville Library Hall.

The business session will be conducted by the President, Mrs. Frederick J. Wood. Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, chairman for the Sale of the Blind, will outline the plans for the two day sale to be held March 26 and 27 at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse.

Following the business session, Mrs. Wood will introduce the speaker, Mrs. Oscar A. Gustafson of Hyde Park whose subject will be "Presidents Day or Guest Day at Your Club." She will emphasize the need for planning ahead, division of responsibility, and care to details to assure the success of this special event. Mrs. Gustafson is the Recording Secretary of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and the President of the Boston City Federation of Organizations.

Each club president is invited to bring to this meeting any of her club members who will be involved in planning a President's Day or Guest Day at her club.

Begins Second Semester

Sybil E. Siegl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Siegl of 107 Upland avenue, Newton, has begun the second semester of her senior year at Emerson College in Boston. She is majoring in speech therapy.

Newton Notes

Miss Camille Baller of 9 Kirkstall, Newtonville, headed the costume committee for the Wellesley College production of "The Importance of Being Earnest" presented earlier this month. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Baller and a NHS graduate, Miss Baller is a junior at Wellesley majoring in zoology.

The Newton Public Library at Newton Corner is displaying an exhibit from the arts and crafts workshop of the Boston YWCA during the month of February, consisting of student work from "Y" classes in ceramics and weaving.

Marine Pfc. Richard G. Glynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Glynn of 69 Cherry street has returned to Quonset Point, R. I., after a six-week cruise in the Caribbean aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Tarawa.

Honored at Bowdoin

Bruce W. Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Baldwin of 100 Prospect street, West Newton, a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, has been named to represent his fraternity on the committee for the annual Campus Chest weekend.

Each year approximately 20 to 25 charities and other worthy causes benefit from Campus Weekend at Bowdoin. Bruce is a graduate of Newton High School.

VOL. 86, No. 9 — NEWTON, MASSACHUSETTS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1958 — Single Copies, Seven Cents

Graphic to Conduct Poll On Leash Law Proposal

Newton residents are invited by The Graphic to cast a ballot in a straw vote which will be tabulated to determine public sentiment on the much discussed and highly controversial leash law proposal which would restrict the activities of the city's dogs.

The purpose of the poll is to provide a medium of expression by which Newton citizens may indicate whether they feel any form of leash law should be placed on the statute books.

First results of the straw vote will be published in next weeks Graphic. A final tabulation will be made and the results reported in the March 13 edition which will appear four days before the Board of Aldermen hold their March 17 hearing on a petition for a leash law.

To obtain as accurate an expression of sentiment as possible, a limitation will be imposed of one vote per family. For that reason and to facilitate the counting of the straw votes, please use the ballot form published in The Graphic.

While persons sending in votes are required to sign their names and addresses on the ballot form, their names will not be published or used in any way in the news stories concerning the straw vote.

Taxes and Parking Are Most Urgent Beacon Hill Problems

Taxes and parking are the two principal topics of conversation at the State House these days.

The No. 1 question is what taxes, if any, will be enacted, to solve the financial predicament in which Governor Furcolo finds himself.

The No. 2 question is where the legislators and other personages of varying degrees of prominence will park their automobiles when they drive to the State House.

At a hearing the other day it developed that the State house cleaning women have been complaining vigorously that their automobiles were being towed away by police while they were performing their duties.

Up to that time it had been generally assumed that the problem of finding a place in close proximity to the State House to park was confined pretty much to the ranks of public officials and that this was not a headache for the rank and file of citizens.

The protest of the cleaning women, however, pointed a problem which exists not only at the State House but in practically every community of any size in Massachusetts, that of providing sufficient parking places at the locations where people want to leave their automobiles.

The parking problem on Beacon Hill could be solved neatly and nicely if some of the persons who are pained by it were to leave their cars at home and patronize the

Mayor Speaks At Dedication Of Library

Newton's expenditure of $150,000 for the construction of the new Nonantum Branch Library was described by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., as "a cultural, educational investment from which substantial dividends will be received from present and future generations."

The Mayor made that appraisal in the principal address at the dedication ceremonies a the library was formally opened in the presence of a gathering of public officials and residents of the Nonantum section.

In discussing the use that is made of Newton's public library system, Mayor Whitmore reported that 878,320 books were borrowed from the city's libraries last year, representing 10 for each resident of the city

"As we look at this building, attractive and just from the hands of the builders," the Mayor told his audience, "one feels pride, satisfaction, and the desire that this be well maintained and carefully used.

11 Injured In Accidents

Six persons were treated at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital for injuries suffered in an automobile accident in Newton Centre, and five others, including twin sisters, were hurt in two other mishaps.

The biggest toll of injuries was taken when two automobiles were involved in a collision at Centre and Ward streets in Newton Centre. Operators of the two cars, according to police, were Helen Primavera of 26 Jasset street, Newton, and Robert Feingold of 24 John street, Brookline, both of whom were hurt.

Passengers riding with Feingold were Judith E. Carter of 108 Stanley road, Waban; Susan D. Freidus of 37 Locksley road, Newton Centre; and Stephen Hershoff of 6 Salisbury road, Newton. All three were injured.

Also hurt was Florence Faira of 26 Jasset street who was riding in the Primavera car. She suffered injuries to her side, head and stomach.

Newton Threatened With $5 Or $6 Jump in Its Tax Rate

School Expenditures Alone Will Cause $3.60 Increase

Newton is facing the threat of a $5 or $6 increase in its tax rate.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and the Board of Aldermen may eventually be able to prevent a rise that large in the rate. At the moment, however, the problem confronting them is a difficult one because of a combination of circumstances.

Last year's Newton tax rate was $49.20. A rise of $5 or $6 would send the rate to $54 or $55.

Higher school costs alone would boost the city's tax rate about $3.60.

The school budget for the present year is approximately $775,000 greater than the one adopted in 1957.

In addition, school debt charges have risen $152,289 over last yar. That includes an additional $100,000 on principal payments and a jump of $58,289 in interest charges.

That means that total school expenditures which must be met from the city's levy this year will be roughly $930,000 higher than in 1957.

Since each $260,000 spent by the city represents approximately $1 on the tax rate, the school department would cause a $3.60 increase in the tax rate if all other factors which play a part in determining the rate were the same as last year — which, of course, they are not.

Aside from school expenses, the municipal budget has increased about $900,000 over last year, although there is a strong likelihood it will be given further pruning by the Board of Aldermen before it is finally approved.

Mayor Whitmore slashed $484,000 from the recommenda

Seal Sale Falls $2000 Short Of Goal in Newton

The Newton TB and Health Association is $2000 short of its goal of $20,000 according to reports made at a recent executive board meeting.

The Seal Sale netted $17,823, which will not cover the expenses of the association's program of health education, case finding, rehabilitation and medical research, according to Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester, president.

Contributions to the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale may be mailed to the association's headquarters at 1357 Washington St., West Newton, through March 31.

In addition to Dr. Sylvester, those attending the meeting were Dr. Thomas Sears Hayden, Mrs. Ernest Keubler, Mrs. Henry A. Plimpton, Richard Kaew-

State Levy on Newton Is 3 Times That of '56; Ups Tax Rate $1.25

Newton along with other cities and towns of the Commonwealth got a breakdown on its accounts with the State the other day. It wasn't written in red ink but it might have been. It will cost Newton taxpayers approximately $1.25 on their tax rate to meet their obligations to the State when it's all figured out.

Total charges levied on the city by the State, after estimated credits for 1958, was $482,000. That compares with a deficit of $122,000 Newton had to make up a year ago.

State Tax Commissioner Joseph P. Healey explained the triple-plated increase in charges to the city were due mainly to: (1) salary reclassification of county employees; 2) normal increases in maintenance costs; (3) an increase in the cost of State debt services; (4) a very pronounced increase (as usual) in the MTA deficit.

Charges levied by the State and County in '58 totaled $1,750,000 as compared with $1,623,000 in '57. The 1958 credits to the city were definitely down. They totaled $1,274,000 in '58 as compared with $1,601,000 in '57.

About all the charges were up except those for smoke abatement, which was only a tiny item. That levy dropped from $3194 last year to $3168 this year—a total of $26.

Here's a comparisor of credits from the State in the 1958 accounting as compared with that of 1957

West Newton Mother, 3 Small Children Hurt in Rail Crash

Mrs. Ann R. Tenaglia, 28, of 216 Rier street, West Newton, and her three children were injured when their station wagon and a Boston &Albany freight train collided at a grade crossing on South street in Holliston.

The young mother and her children were trapped inside the vehicle as it was carried more than 150 feet along the tracks before the train could be brought to a halt.

Police, firefighters and members of the freight's crew extricated the victims and they were taken to Milford Hospital.

The most seriously injured of the children, Carmine, aged 7, was found to have suffered a compound skull fracture and after emergency treatment at the Milton Hospital was transferred to Worcester City Hospital. The other children were Deborah, 4, who suffered a fracture of the left leg, and Vincent, 3, who sustained head and internal injuries. Mrs. Tenaglia suffered fractured ribs and body cuts.

The children and their mother were on their way to Medway. The freight train with Irvin Paine, 61, of Worcester, as engineer, was headed to Framingham from Medway. It was made up of three cars.

The accident occurred about 200 feet from the home of Mrs. Fred T. Lewis on South street, Holliston. She called police and fire-fighters and supplied blankets for the injured.

Library Services To Be Emphasized March 16 to 22nd

National Library Week, March 16-22, will be more than a name in Newton.

Local plans call for inauguration, during the week, of an intensive drive to acquaint all Newton residents of the top-ranking free library system available in this city.

Under chairmanship of Murray E. Sholkin, a committee has been formed to plan the events which will emphasize the appeal

20 New Teachers Named Monday As Four Resign

Twenty new teachers, most of whom will start next September, were appointed Monday night by the Newton School Committee, while the resignations of four teachers were accepted.

The committee also approved the retirement of Mrs. Nanette Oliver, a teacher at the Lincoln-Eliot School who has taught in Newton public schools since 1922.

Those teachers resigning are Mrs. Janine D. Collins of Day Junior High, Shirley A. Litchfield of the Carr School and Ann Robbins of the Bowen School, effective July 1, and Mrs. Ruth C. MacDonald of the Weeks Junior High School effective Feb. 1.

A sabbatical leave of absence was granted by the committee to Mary E. Hynes of the Weeks Junior High School for next winter to study at the University of Arizona for a Master's Degree.

The new teachers appointed are:

Mrs. Sandra L. Bresnick, who attended the University of Southern California and will graduate from Boston University in June with a B.S. degree in elementary education. She has done practice teaching in the elementary schools of Brookline. Mrs. Bresnick is an accomplished pianist, and has performed as soloist with school orchestras.

Mrs. Judith R. Chalfin will graduate from Boston University in June with a B.S. degree in elementary, education. While in college she has been particularly active in music circles and has done a great deal of choral singing. Mrs. Chalfin's student teaching was done at the Peirce School in Newton.

Returning In July for That Snow Shovel?

Someone in Newton was thinking of nice, lush-green grass even as a blanket of that white stuff left by the winter's worst storm covered every lawn in the city

The someone got so enthralled with the idea that he broke into the Fisher Lawn Mower Service, 15 Border street, West Newton. The loot he carried away included six recoil motors for lawn mowers and two boxes of spark plugs.

Action Now on Freeway to Hub Urged at State House by Mayor

A battery of speakers headed by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., appeared before the committee on highways and motor vehicles at the State House to urge swift action on a proposal to halt the East-West toll road at or near Route 128 and construct a free-way to Boston.

Indecision as to where and when the limited access road will go is holding up metropolitan planning, Mayor Whitmore told the committee. He favors a free-way on the north side of the Charles River.

Toll roads are on their way out, Senator Donald L. Gibbs of Newton told the committee in urging favorable action on his bill for action on a freeway access to Boston.

Gibbs protested that nothing has been done in the past year while traffic conditions in Newton have become progressively worse. Newton, he declared, has had an increase of 33⅓ percent in its traffic volume, due, he believes, to the East-West toll road.

A highway can be built quickly from the present terminus of the East-West road in Weston to Boston as a freeway, Gibbs argued, adding that funds can be obtained.

"I don't think that the bond market will permit it to be built as a toll road," Gibbs declared, referring to the access route to Boston.

"Toll roads are on their way

Valued Painting Of Washington Local Man's Gift

A head-and-shoulders portrait of George Washington painted in the mid-19th Century by Chester Harding, is in possession of the B.U. Cenery Library.

The painting was presented to the library by Mark Bortman of Newton, who made the presentation in memory of his late brother, Samuel Bortman. It is believed to be the only portrait done by Harding of Washington.

Graphic Poll-

Three possible choices concerning a leash law are listed on The Graphic ballot for Newton residents, who may indicate their preference simply by marking a cross or a check mark. The possible choices are:

1. A full-time leash law which would prevent dogs from running loose in Newton at any time.

2. A part-time leash law which would require that dogs be restrained at certain designated periods of the day.

3. No leash law at all.

If you desire to record yourself in support of one of those three possibilities, cut the ballot form out of this edition of The Graphic, mark your vote, sign your name and address and mail the ballot to:

Leash Law Poll, The Newton Graphic, Box 102, Newtonville 60, Mass.

In order to be counted in next week's straw vote, the ballots must be received not later than 5 p.m. next Monday. Ballots received after that time will be included in the final report to be made the following week.

Judging from the telephone calls and letters received at The Graphic, there is no hall in Newton large enough to accommodate all the people who wisn to record themselves either for or against a leash law.

In addition, of course, many persons who feel strongly on the matter may find it impossible to attend the hearing to be held by the Board of Aldermen on the night of March 17.

But one way you can record your feeling on the matter—whatever it may be—is by clipping the ballot from this week's Graphic and using it to cast your vote on the question.

A petition for the adoption of a leash law, which would prohibit dogs from running loose in the city, has been filed with the Board of Aldermen by the Newton P.-T.A. Council. That has forced a showdown on a matter which has been the subject of debate for months.

Members of the School Committee have gone on record as favoring some form of leash law but have not specified exactly what action they feel should be taken.

Some dog-lovers have strenuously opposed the idea; some have supported it.

Advocates of the leash law claim that the meandering canines wander into schools, disrupt the classroom decorum and interfere with activities on playgrounds and in school yards.

Opponents of the move maintain that the trouble is caused by a few undisciplined dogs that it would not be sensible to adopt a law restraining all the dogs in Newton merely because of the actions of an unruly few canines.

Do you want to add your voice to one side or the other of the argument?

If you do, please clip out the ballot printed in this issue of The Graphic, cast your vote, sign your name and address and mail it in promptly.

7 Called for Induction by Local Boards

Seven young men were called up for military service in the most recent drafts of Newton Local Boards 115, 116 and 117.

Called for induction were Allan G. Bickum, 529 California street, Newtonville; Peter L. Goldthwaite, formerly of 36 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, now of Nashua, N. H.; Benjamin R. Greene, formerly of 300 Highland street, West Newton, now of Wellesley; and Carl A. Nelson, Jr., of 22 Kensington avenue, West Newton, all by Local Board 116; William G. Newton of 54 Gammons road, Waban; and Silvio Vespa of 19 Gasparri avenue, Newton Centre, by Local Board 116; and Anthony E. DiClemente of 409 Langley road, Newton Centre by Local Board 117.

The inductees entrained at 7:44 a.m. for the Army Base and then transferred to Fort Dix, N. J.

The February call is slightly larger than usual. The original call was for only four, but three young men had left school after being deferred and were added to the list.

The next call is for two men for March 14.

Religious Bigotry is Ending Councillor Herter Tells JWV

"It is becoming increasingly apparent each year that the day of the racial and religious bigot is drawing to a close," Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., of Newton told a breakfast meeting sponsored by the Brookline Post of the Jewish War Veterans.

Councillor Herter, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, declared: "The American way of life has been the trail blazer in defining society's purposes to increase man's opportunities without subverting anyone's freedom.

"The foundation of this ideal is the degree of equal opportunity for personal development provided by society. When one group, whether racial, political or social, can set itself apart with special privileges for its members, resulting in a deprivation of opportunities for other members of society, the chances for the personal growth of all citizens are endangered," Herter asserted.

"Firstly, an undemocratic precedent is established; and, secondly, a group awarded special privileges jeopardizes the opportunities of all citizens for personal growth, because creativeness is in the individual and not in man collectively," the Councillor stated.

"We may not be able to hope that all intolerance will disappear from the face of the earth. The millenium is not yet here, but each year it grows more difficult for the bigoted person to enforce his harm on others.

"Bigotry and intolerance are as old as the human race. Ever since man noted that his neighbor across the river acted just a little bit—or a lot—differently than he did, intolerance flourished.

"Ever since men noticed the 'stranger in their midst', was, indeed, to their way of thinking, strange in his ways, bigotry arose time and time again.

"All of us are human and, being human, subject to sin. No one of us can live our own lives, entirely free of prejudices—for prejudice is subtle, often unconscious, yet, nevertheless, deadly. We must ever guard against its seeds," Hereter told his audience.

"Yet faith and reason are conquering centuries of hatred. The words of the world's great religious leaders are being heard as never before—Pope Pius XII an outstanding leader in the fight against religious prejudices; the Protestant leaders of the World Council of Churches; the Jewish leaders in the religious orders and in B'nai B'rith and in other organizations.

"Today one takes Negro major league ball players for granted and some of the world's greatest scholars and statesmen are Negro men and women, including those who are brilliant participants in United Nations' conclaves.

"Today the ideals of Jesus of Nazareth, who drew no distinction between Jew and Samaritan; of Moses who counseled love for the Egyptian stranger dwelling in Israel—today, I say, the words of faith and reason are ever clearer, ever stronger in matters of bigotry and religious intolerance," Herter said.

Councillor Herter shared the speakers' platform with Rabbi Manuel Saltzman, new rabbi at Temple Kehillath Israel; Abraham Zimmerman, president of the Brookline veterans' organization and Gov. Foster Furcolo at the Rabbi Epstein Memorial Auditorium that drew Jewish war veterans from all areas of Massachusetts.

and usefulness of good books.

It is planned to reach every phase of Newton's residential, industrial, educational, civic and commercial activity. Serving with Chairman Sholkin will be Miss Adelaide Ball, former member of the Board of Aldermen; George F. Brewer of the Newton Library Board; Executive Director Justin Horan of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; City Librarian Harold A. Wooster; President Joseph E. Perry of the Newton Savings Bank, and President John Rubenstein of Security Mills.

Newton now has 10 library branches, including one in a shopping center and another in a firehouse. These are in addition to the main library; the Boys' and Girls' service and a hospital service.

The combined circulation is reaching the one million mark.

Your Dog May Lose His Freedom . . .

IF YOU DO NOT ACT RIGHT NOW!

Your dog can guard your person, your home and your property but he can not guard his own freedom. It is the duty of every Newton dog owner and dog lover to safeguard this most cherished possession of man's best friend.

The petition requesting the adoption of a full time leash law to prohibit dogs from running loose anywhere in the City, and scheduled to be heard soon before the Board of Aldermen, was proposed by a mere handful of Newton residents. The School Board, contrary to many news reports, has not come out in favor of this full time leash law. The Newton PTA Council, in sponsoring the petition, expressed the wishes of only five of twenty-nine PTA Executive Boards in the City. Most Executive Boards reporting did not favor a full time leash law. To my knowledge, no PTA has polled its general membership to determine the majority viewpoint on an action that can confine 5000 harmless and unsuspecting canines.

In spite of these facts, your dog can lose his freedom if you do not join with others in an organized movement to oppose the full time leash law.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . The biggest news to reach the ears of Newton High students in many months came as an announcement from Mr. Howe, the principal. A new greatly-changed daily schedule will go into effect next fall. The main features of the new school day will be six class periods, the addition of another complete block to the week's schedule to make a new week of six blocks A, 1—4—G, 1—4, and two homeroom periods. Presently there are five class periods with a five block schedule. The seniors do not feel that this is one of the reasons they are regretting leaving Newton High.

Another Newton High principal made the news recently, but in a more sombre manner. Dr. Francis Macon, the principal who united the three separate units of Newton High School, died. In appreciation of all he did for Newton High, an oil painting of him was hung in Building Three.

Each home-room recently elected a girl whom they thought was the most all-around. From this large list, 12 or 13 girls were chosen to represent each class. The sophomores were Martha Beggs, Margie Casselman, Ann Davison, Sandra Gould, Barbara Hunter, Mary Jo Jepsen, Nancy Jordan, Nancy McDonald, Betsy Meirick, Eleanor Muth, Eleanor Osterberg, Sally Remley and Janet Robbins; the juniors — Judy Banister, Joanne Berest, Katy Carleton, Judy Dean, Carolyn Gagin, Wilma Joos, Karin Franseen, Nancy Lillis, Jane Potter, Mag Rapp, Eveline Sabatini, and Beverly Vaccarello; the seniors — Barbara Bruce, Ruth Butterfield, Sandi Douglas, Sally Flowers, Judy Gladstone, Dorothy Gurevich, Patty Howard, Pauline DePasquale, Patricia Pierce, Vicky Pratt, Sally Roy, Martha Soule, and Janet White.

These girls attended a recent meeting and were informed that each class would vote for its "Class Queen" during S-Block.

The class winners were Margie Casselman, Bev Vaccarello, and Sandi Douglas. At "Broadway Beat", the all-school dance held in the gym, Margie Casselman, a sophomore, was elected "Miss Newton High," as the girl who best typifies the ideal high school student as far as personality, popularity, looks, and contribution to class projects are concerned.

Washington is seeing much of Newton High as the 30 members of the exchange flew to Wilson High School for a six day visit. The students came back today and the happy faces and gay spirits were proofs of a very succesful trip.

Another activity in Washington recently was the national convention about the identification and education of the academically talented pupil in America. Mr. Howe, Mr. Batchelder, and Dr. Gores were among the select 200 educators who were invited to attend this conference sponsored by the National Education Association, and financed by the Carnegie Corporation of America.

Working as assistants to the secretaries in the Building Two office are Judi Klein, Harriet Stetson, Arlene Goldstein, Martha Shapiro, Barbara Klein, Priscilla Hopkins, Katy Carleton, Doris Thurston, and Jerry Berest. Helping out in Building Three's office are Judy Stit, Harriet Stetson, and Nancy Benedetto.

Peter Derow and Bobby Calvert attended a recent meeting of the Rotary Club. Newton High teenagers are invited to these meetings so that the future businessmen of our city may become acquainted with the Club and promote mutual understanding.

After numerous preliminary interviews, Mary Small, Jan Lee Clement, Gerry Rogell, and Jane Gilbern were chosen as the four finalists in the American Field Service Exchange Program. These students sent applications to New York, where a final decision will be made as to the student who will travel to Europe and represent Newton High this summer. The final contestants are being considered on the basis of physical fitness, academic standing, and the opinions of the teachers at Newton.

THE MARQUEE . . . Winner of The 1958 Drama Festival was the Negro fantasy, "Green Pastures." The three plays were presented to the first full house audience Newton High's Drama Festival has ever had. The cast members are still holding daily rehearsals as the play will be in competition against plays from eight other high schools on March 8 at South Hadley High in South Hadley, Mass. The program committee for the evening of Feb. 14 was Pauline Bilizekian, Diane Cabitt, Elizabeth Plotkin, Martha Bilizekian, and Judy Fox. In charge of tickets were Barbara Fleischer, Ellen Hartstone, Bunny Pludo, Barbara Fair, Judy Laurie, Jane Resnick, Donna Richmond, Sue Tucker, Ellen Roberts, Carol Sudhalter, Louisa Schell, and Ruth Shepard.

John Kattwinkel, James Burdick, Dick Boardman, Ed Needell, Robert Rigoli, John Brockman, Carol Bean, Ruth Butterfield, Ann Holmes, Emily Macmillan, Diane Marquis, Nancy Oncley, Claire Tevekelian, Elaine Remley, Jean Winer, Connie Worther, and Katy O'Donnell are the very talented members of the Madrigal Singing Group. The students practice often after school and perform at several school functions.

At the third meeting of the music club, a panel consisting of Malcolm Bessom, Doris Axelrod, Dave Hazelton, and Lou Carter, (pianist, composer, and comedian), was the main feature. Mr. Carter, the guest for the afternoon, answered questions submitted by students of the music classes and presented by the panel members.

A movie on typing skills was shown in the auditorium during an S-Block recently to all pupils who take the typing course.

THE GREAT BIG WONDERFUL WHIRL . . . Roddy Pratt and Emily Newton, chairmen of the publicity committee, and the committee members, Faith Copeland, Amy McAuliffe, Carolyn Gagin, Judy Winograd, Mary Hote, Janet Doyle, Cathy Dines, and Glenda Green were responsible for the extensive publicity devoted to this year's Junior Prom. Battling a severe snowstorm at 8:30 on a Saturday morning, to put up decorations in the high school gym were Carol Ruggiero, Lorraine Trifero, Sue McClosky, Sue Williams, Joanne Berest, Bev Vaccarello, Cathy Ryan, Katy Carleton, Sally Rhodes, Jimmy Burdick and the chairmen of the committee, Ann Pokorny. Penny Axelrod, and Elaine Oetinger.

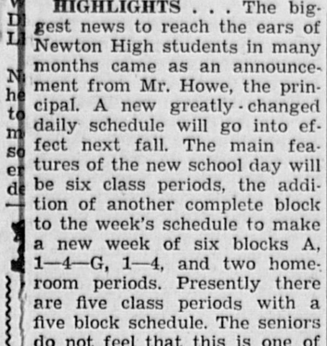

Paul Daly, Jack Fleming, Dick Gagin, and committee heads Diane Fay and Sue Fowler selected the band and entertainment for the evening. Ivy Nesson, Genina Foley, Bob Craig, Bob Kelley, Bob Barter, Jerry Burg, Francis Dahl, and chairmen Jeff Davidson and Fred Posner set aside one part of the gym for refreshments. They also helped serve the punch, cookies, and soda during the evening. Co-chairmen Mary Ellen DeStephano, Genya Currens, and Cindy Rowland, and hospitality committee members, Judy Magner, Neil Driscoll, Meg Rapp, and Cliff Gaysunas, greeted parents and faculty members at the door of the dance.

Rail Transport in '58

In September, 1938, a hurricane hit New England a terrible blow. It was all the more terrible because most people knew nothing about hurricanes except what they had read in dry school books.

The hurricane caused several billions of dollars worth of damage and exacted a large toll of human lives.

Among its other by-products, however, was the ironic fact that practically over night it established a short-hop airline run between Boston and New York as one of the most popular and lucrative transportation businesses in the world.

The hurricane inflicted some of its worst punishment on the poor old New Haven Railroad. People discovered they could reach New York by air in lieu of rail or motor transport. They discovered it in large numbers.

Eventually the New Haven recovered from the blow of the hurricane. It never recovered from the competitive position the hurricane opened up to the airlines. A large percentage of the "regulars" it lost on its Boston-New York run never went back to the New Haven.

That was bad because in the '20s the New Haven, the B. & A. and the B. & M., had lost another bout in their bid to keep their position as top media in the field of transportation.

That bout wasn't a quick knockout such as the airlines delivered via the hurricane punch. That was a long bout stretching through the '20s.

For in the days which followed World War I, people began discovering the automobile wasn't a mere luxury—but a very practical everyday transportation gimmick. The automobile manufacturers made cars which didn't break down every 50 miles or so. The State and nation kept building more and better roads. By the time the depression came in the '20s the railroads were ready to throw in the sponge as far as passenger traffic was concerned.

Their answer to the challenge the automobile presented was often more of surrender than stout, progressive defense. The railroads cut service; they closed down stations; whether they did it purposefully or not, they did everything they could to persuade patrons and potential patrons to find some other mode of transport. They didn't want the passenger business. All they wanted was the freight.

And they succeeded, despite not too effective delaying actions by such public service groups as the I.C.C. and the Public Utilities Commissions, in divesting themselves of responsibilities.

In another era powerful financial groups fought titanic wars to gain those responsibilities. Great fortunes were built by those who won those battles and those wars.

Today not-so-powerful financial groups are battling again. They aren't concerned with the public. They are concerned with responsibilities which they themselves helped to make unprofitable. They want to hand them all back to the public.

The same railroad interests which at the turn of the century were consigning the public to perdition are using more polite language half way through the 20th Century.

Their basic concern remains the same. That concern isn't deeply imbedded in any overwhelming love for the public.

Political Overtones

mass transportation systems, to whose plight they devote so much time and attention.

Unfortunately, no such simple solution can be advanced for the more complicated tax problem.

Two measures now pending before the Senate ways and means committee are intended to give Governor Furcolo the additional money he needs to balance the State budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 and running to June 30, 1959.

One of the bills provides for the adoption of a State income withholding tax, and the second calls for a cent-per-package increase in the State tax on cigarettes.

The House ways and means committee, which is working on the State budget for the next fiscal year, is proceeding on the assumption that both measures will be enacted into law.

What Beacon Hill observers are wondering is what will happen if that assumption proves to be incorrect.

As a matter of fact, Governor Furcolo desired that the penny-per-package boost in the State tax on cigarettes go into effect March 1 (this coming Saturday) in order to provide a little more cash for the current fiscal year.

Obviously, the bill is not going to be passed that quickly, if indeed it is passed at all, so that the Governor and his advisers are going to have to do some recalculating State finances.

Nobody is making any great outcry against the idea of requiring smokers to pay an additional cent a package for their cigarettes; neither is there any wave of enthusiasm for the proposal, which probably will eventually be adopted.

The withholding income tax measure is another matter, however.

A number of Republican Senators take a dim view of it because they regard it as simply a gimmick which the Governor is endeavoring to use to raise enough money in an election year to balance his budget without appearing to enact any new taxes.

They suspect that the Democratic politicos are looking ahead only as far as next November's election and are not too concerned as to what the long range effects of the withholding tax would be.

At the present time the GOP-dominated Senate ways and means committee is holding up the withholding tax bill until the Associated Industries of Massachusetts completes the survey it has been making to ascertain exactly how much it would cost to do the bookkeeping work involved in a withholding State income tax.

State Tax Commissioner Joseph P. Healey stripped supporters of the withholding tax proposal of some of their ammunition when he estimated at a legislative hearing that the suggested law would bring between $1 and $2 million in new revenue into the State treasury.

Up to that time certain of the advocates of the withholding tax had been maintaining that it would yield many times that sum and would be one of the answers to the Commonwealth's financial problems.

Commissioner Healey is in the best position of anyone to estimate what the withholding tax would produce in additional revenue. He is backing the withholding tax measure, but he also is a ruggedly honest individual so his figure of $1 to $2 million is probably as accurate an estimate as could be obtained.

Now the big unanswered question is how much the State withholding tax would cost in added expense for business concerns, and the Associated Industries of Massachusetts shortly will provide the answer based on a painstaking survey.

But the bigger and more pressing question on Beacon Hill is: What's going to happen if the A.I.M. finds that the withholding bill would cost too much money, and it is dropped into the waste basket by the State Senate which gave the same measure the heave-ho a year ago?

Governor Furcolo, of course, isn't thinking in terms of the $1 or $2 million a year which Commissioner Healey says the withholding tax would bring in from people who aren't paying any State income taxes now.

Besides, the Governor knows that it's going to cost the Commonwealth a lot of money to process the withholding tax and that the expense would reduce Healey's estimate substantially.

What Governor Furcolo obviously is most interested in is the $13 million windfall he would get in the early part of next year when the people of Massachusetts would be paying both their 1958 and 1959 taxes at the same time.

The overlapping of the two tax systems which, of course, would occur only once, would produce enough extra money—about $13 million to be exact—to alleviate the Governor's election year financial headaches.

With that windfall, Governor Furcolo would not have to worry about any new taxes until and unless he's reelected next November. Without that windfall he'll either have to slash expenses or come up with another new tax in order to balance his budget.

'Home Work And Study Habits' Is PTA Topic

"Home Work and Study Habits" was the topic under discussion at the recent meeting of the Davis School P.T.A., held at the school in West Newton on Monday evening.

A panel led by Dr. Harry Anderson of the Claflin School, included Mrs. Martin Berriman, a Claflin School parent; Arthur Loughland, sixth grade teacher at the Oak Hill School; Wilson C. Colvin, supervisor of junior high school education; and Mrs. Eleanor Lester, supervisor of elementary school education.

Whether homework should be assigned in the elementary school is a moot question among various authorities. That time for homework is available was evident from graphs showing the allocation of a group of youngsters spare time. It was brought out that television occupied a great portion of the school children's free time, too much perhaps.

Officers of the Davis School P.T.A are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardner, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Rubin, 1st vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, 2nd vice presidents; Dr. and Mrs. Leon M. Ginsburg, 3rd vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Casper A. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. David Railsback, secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Newton Press, treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn, publicity chairman; Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal.

The next meeting of the board will be held Monday evening, March 3, at the school.

Dr. M. W. First Heads Engineer Clerical Group

Dr. Melville W. First of Newton Centre will head the new Civic Affairs Committee of the Metropolitan Chapter of the Massachusetts Society of Professional Engineers.

The committee has been created to offer public assistance in directing the layman to the proper parties in order to obtain solutions or recommendations to his engineering problems. This enginering "clinic" will be made available for consultation to communities, civic groups or individuals with legitamate problems requiring engineering knowledge and experience.

Newton's Population Is Leveling Off, Polls Show

Newton's population is leveling off, or at least this is the indication from the annual poll which was recently completed by police.

The listers completed 65,510 cards during the 46 days of the project, but 474 dwellings, where the occupants were not at home for two calls, are still to be listed. It was estimated that 1,000 additional cards will be filled out when these occupants return the yellow slips to the city clerk's office.

The number of pre-school children listed this year was 7,915, compared with 8,196 in 1957 and 8,007 in 1956. There was no estimate of how many children lived in the 474 homes which could not be contacted by the listers this year.

The pre-school age children listed this year were as follows: Under 1 year, 1,240; 1 year, 1,230; 2 years, 1,425; 3 years, 1,411; 4 years, 1,468, and 5 years, 1,151.

Newton Extends Waterlands Option; Needham and MDC Consider Plans for Future

Elliott Henderson, Boston real estate man, who has bid for $436,000 for the purchase of the so-called Newton Waterlands in Needham from the city of Newton, has been granted a 45-day extension of his option by the Newton Board of Aldermen.

The extension was recommended by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., pending determination by the Metropolitan District Commission of its designs on part or all of the property.

The Waterlands formerly supplied Newton with as much as 4 million gallons of water a day but were abandoned as a source of municipal water some years ago.

Newton decided to get rid of the property—on which it pays taxes to Needham — in the fall of 1955 and called for bids from prospective purchasers. Henderson's bid was the highest received.

He was granted an option for the purchase at the $436,000 price pending the outcome of his own negotiations with the town of Needham.

Henderson offered Needham some of the property for use by that town provided Needham agreed to certain zoning law changes which would enable him to develop the property, mainly as an industrial area.

Needham has been studying the property for two years and has had a committee assigned to draw up plans for its possible use in conjunction with the future needs of the town. The committee reported back to the last Needham town meeting but no definite action was taken either on Henderson's proposal or on earmarking all or any part of the land for definite future use.

The committee is still in being and is under orders to report results of further study at the annual Needham town meeting next month.

Meanwhile, the Metropolitan District Commission came into the picture. It has indicated that it might take over at least part of the area and develop it as a public recreation area in line with its general policy of sprucing up the Charles River; restoring its beauty at run-down spots, and for flood control measures.

However, as originally outlined, the MDC did not indicate any desire for the entire area and its plans generally did not appear to clash with those of Mr. Henderson.

The extension of the option to Mr. Henderson keeps the situation pretty much as it was a year ago on the eve of the Needham town meeting, viz., Newton is willing and anxious to get rid of the property; the MDC continues to eye at least part of it; Needham knows it has something of a tax-producing area as well as one which can also be adapted to its plans for future municipal developments but prefers to go slow before committing itself.

As matters stand now, the action taken by the Needham town meeting in March may well decide the future of the land for a long time to come.

To Direct Reunion Of High School Class

Sylvia Cline Winston, of 415 Ward street, is chairman of the 25th reunion of the Class of 1953 of the Roxbury Memorial High School for Girls, which event will be held in the spring.

Any graduate of the class or those persons knowing the whereabout of members of the class of 1933 are asked to contact Chairman Winston.

New Library-

"One of the very difficult problems which faces the city is the thoughtless abuse by the few of the facilities supplied by the many.

"Nonantum citizens can show their concern and help to control abuses," Mayor Whitmore continued. "It is quite in order for Nonantum to set a fine example to other villages of Newton in this regard.

"The total cost of this branch library, including demolishing the old fire station," the Mayor stated, "buying a strip of adjoining land, black topping the library parking area, and building the building is approximately $150,000.

"This should be regarded as a cultural, educational investment from which substantial dividends will be received from present and future generations."

Mayor Whitmore observed that the growth and development of the Newton library system has been accomplished "with a strong helping hand from interested citizens."

He said the main library, erected by private subscriptions, with three additions built by the city, represents a building value in brick and stone of more than $1 million, the capital cost to the city being under $300,000.

Mayor Whitmore observed that the hall in the new Nonantum library, a handsome, colonial building, is the largest and best equipped room of its kind in any library in the city, and he expressed the hope that a broad and wide use will be made of the hall.

"For years," the Mayor told his listeners, "the citizens of Nonantum have attended meetings in other sections of Newton. Now on occasions citizens of other sections will be making pilgrimages to Nonantum.

"It is going to require wisdom, tact, and cooperation," he said, "to see that this hall is kept available for general use and not limited to a few groups and organizations."

Mayor Whitmore in his address paid warm tribute to public officials and other persons who played a part in promoting the move for the Nonantum Library for which the people of the district had waited for half a century.

New Director Named at W. N. Community Centre

The Board of Directors of the West Newton Community Centre announce the appointment of William E. Byrne as executive director to succeed Mrs. Burton S. Skinner who is now at the new Centre in Lexington.

Mr. Byrne comes to this West Newton Red Feather agency with over 20 years' experience in leadership in the group work field.

Following his early education in the Newton schools he received a BS in SS from Boston College and an MS in SS from Boston University School of Social Work; and during the second World War attended the Army Special Service School.

His background includes working at the Newton playgrounds, the Newton Y.M.C.A., Lincoln House, Norfolk House, Denison House and Christ Child House, where he was Executive Director for over four years. His most recent duties have been as Community Consultant for the Middlesex County Bureau of Delinquency Prevention and Assistant Supervisor of Parole for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, both in the Division of Youth Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrne and their four children make their home in Newton Upper Falls.

Mrs. John W. Hunter was elected president of the Community Centre at its annual meeting. Other officers elected were: first vice president, Mrs. Kenneth A. Henderson; second vice president, George W. Harvey; third vice president, Mrs. Loomis S. Kinney; recording secretary, Mrs. George Sprague; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Ernst O. Seyfarth; treasurer, Robert McArthur; assistant treasurer, Miss Catherine M. Bolster; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Melvin J. Dangel; members-at-large, Mrs. Joseph S Kaufman and Mrs. Samuel Werner.

Miss Knock and Mr. Williamson Exchange Vows

The Rev. Dr. Joseph D. Imler performed the ceremony on February 1 at which Miss Kathryn Sylvia Knock became the bride of George Ernest Williamson. The Belmont Methodist Church was lighted with candles for the four o'clock service and white snapdragons, gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the chancel. A reception at the church parlors followed the service.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson of West Newton and Alton, New Hampshire.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knock, of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, was given in marriage by her uncle, Archibald J. Drady, Jr. of Belmont. Her gown of white lace over satin was fashioned with a portrait neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins. A high folded sash continued down the back of the full-hooped skirt and ended in chapel length train. A matching bouquet of white lilacs and freesia was flown from Holland.

The maid of honor was Miss Donna Leach of Topsfield, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Norman I. Paterson of Waltham and Miss Paula Regan of Newtonville.

Kenneth Hartford of Newtonville was best man, the ushers were James Jenkins, Jr. of Wellesley Hills, Robert Norcross of Wayland, Frank Smith of Auburndale and Carl Whynot of Auburndale.

The bride was graduated from Bryant and Stratton School, and Mr., Williamson is currently attending Boston University Evening School.

Following a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Florida, the couple will make their home in Newton.

Day PTA Sets Up Plans For Coming Year

The Day Junior High School P.-T.A. executive board met recently and plans for the current year were discussed. Leon Huston presided.

An announcement was made by the Ways and Means Committee that flyers were distributed during February to remind the members that P.T.A. contributions are now due. This was in keeping with the vote at the general P.T.A. meeting that an additional contribution was preferrable to fund raising activities.

The flyers state that any money realized by the P.T.A. will be used to enrich the students program by means of the purchase of additional books for the library or for various departments of the school.

A nominating committee to draw up a slate of officers for the 1958-59 school year was named. Members are Mrs. Edward Josephson, Ralph Morse, principal, Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, George Hicks, and Harry Farren.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Mrs. Gilbert Isgur, president and Mrs. Jack Smookler, luncheon chairman, for the Women's Scholarship Association is extended by Governor Foster Furcolo recently on the organizations activities towards a college education for young women. The annual fund raising luncheon will be held at the Sheraton-Plaza on April 23. Seventy-two girls were assisted in furthering their college ambitions last year; a higher goal is hoped to be achieved this year.

Weights and Measures Week Observed In Newton

'Way back on March 2, 1799, a busy Congress, trying to organize the nation, got around to enacting a law that vitally affects the living of each of us today, whether we have ever heard of it or not.

This was the first weights and measures law, adopted under the weights and measures power granted Congress by the U.S. Constitution. Now, 159 years later, "National Weights and Measures Week" is being observed in Newton and in hundreds of other cities throughout the United States.

The local observance will be headed by J. Ellis Bowen, Newton's Sealer of Weights and Measures.

"We all take for granted the accuracy of weighing and measuring that play so large a part in everything we buy and use," Mr. Bowen said. "But making sure that these are really correct is a big job. Thousands of inspections are made of scales and other quantity determining devices such as gasoline and oil meters, etc.

"Prepackaged items packaged in anticipation of sale must be spot checked. Old or inaccurate scales and measuring devices must be repaired or replaced. Losses by weighing errors can easily exceed losses by robbery in our city. Even the Brinks holdup was small compared to possible losses to buyers and sellers through weighing mistakes.

"The public has an enormous investment per family per year in the accuracy of their purchases. Even a tiny amount of shortweight, worth only a few cents per purchase, when multiplied by millions of purchases in this city, would reach a staggering sum.

"The city's merchants have a big stake in weights and measures accuracy, too," Mr. Bowen continued. "Fair dealing merchants can really lose their shirts, literally, if their scales and meters happen to be 'slow' and are giving more than they're getting paid for. The vast majority of merchants are strictly honest and about half the mistakes we discover are against their interests. We protect both buyer and seller alike. Our job is to see that everyone gets as nearly possible as what they pay for, no more and no less."

Sometimes the Weights and Measures Department discovers intentional cheating, Mr. Bowen says. This may be short weighing, giving less than is paid for, or purposely shorting in weight to make up for excessively low price marks. Prompt prosecution usually puts a quick stop to such practices, he declared.

Even more important the actual violators caught is the restraining effect which continous weights and measures enforcement has on the would-be operator, Mr. Bowen said. Enforcement over the years keeps trade clean and competition fair It also keeps tradesmen and producers alert to the necessity of keeping their weighing and measuring up to accuracy reguirements.

Catholic Schools College Night

Mrs. Paul J. Boylan of 142 Pine Grove avenue, Newton Lower Falls, will represent her alma mater, Mt. St. Vincent of Riverdale, N. Y., at a College Night to be held March 10 at 8 p.m. at New England Mutual Hall.

The program, sponsored by nine out-of-state Catholic Women's colleges, is being arranged to stimulate interest in these schools through displays presented by their alumnae chapters.

Colleges participating include Manhattanville, New Rochelle, Mt. St. Vincent and Marymount of N.Y.; Rosemont and Chestnut Hill of Pennsylvania; Georgetown Visitation, Washington, D.C.; Mount Saint Mary, N.H., and Albertus Magnus, Conn.

The Association announced today its support of several bills under consideration by the Mass. General Court. Dr. Sylvester said they have endorsed House Bills 68 and 69 which provide for the admission of chronic disease patients to county tuberculosis sanatoriums because "at present 1000 of 3000 available beds for tuberculosis are vacant, and the number in our state suffering from chronic diseases who cannot get hospitalization is staggering. As the population continues to age, the problem may become insurmountable unless new, expensive facilities are constructed to meet the need."

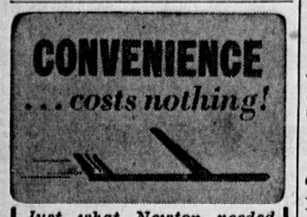

House Bill 741, which seeks to raise the weekly state subsidy to communities providing hospitalization to tuberculosis patients from $5.00 a week to $5.00 a day was also endorsed by the Association.

Dr. Sylvester pointed out that the average weekly cost of such hospitalization is $110., and the cities and towns must bear this load. He reported that House Bill 71, prohibiting the employment of school personnel suffering from TB in a communicable form and providing for periodic examinations for school employees, will become law in May.

Rhoda J. Kaplan Memorial Service Set For Saturday

A memorial service honoring Rhoda J. Kaplan, founder of Newton Chapter No. 226, Order of Eastern Star, will be held at Masonic Hall, Newtonville, Saturday at 7 p.m. Members of the family will be welcomed at the service as well as all those who wish to attend.

Rhoda Kaplan was Post Matron of Germania Chapter and had been a member of Wilena Benton Chapter for many years.

Judge Franklin W. L. Miles, past Most Worthy Grand Patron of General Grand Chapter, will give the eulogy at the service on Saturday. Mabel F. Overheiser, Worthy Grand Matron of Grand Chapter of Massachusetts will be present.

Rhoda Kaplan was a noted concert musician and composer, and for several years was organist at Temple Emanuel and for the Eastern Star of Massachusetts. She founded Newton Chapter in 1950.

Rawson Explains Opposition To Chiropractic Bills

Passage of bills now before the Legislature concerning chiropractors would set up a double standard for medical practice which would be intolerable and a grave danger to public health, State Representative George E. Rawson of Newton declared in opposing the measures.

A single standard is the sole measure of protection to the public—the standard set by the Board of Registration in Medicine—according to existing law," said Representative Rawson.

One of the bills before the Legislature, he said, would exempt chiropractors from being required to obtain registration. The other two bills propose to set up a Chiropractic Board in order, Rawson charged, "to make its own rules and regulations for the practice of this 'so-called' profession."

Fr. M'Elroy Aide To CYO Deanery

The Rev. John W. McElroy of the Sacred Heart parish in Newton Centre has been appointed to assist the Rev. Robert W. McNeill of St. Lawrence Church, Brookline, head of the Newton-Waltham CYO deanery.

Father McElroy will assist in the planning of D-E (Deanery Election Day) on April 15 at Our Lady's High School, Newton. Twenty-six parishes comprise the Newton-Waltham Deanery and will participate in D-E Day.

TV and Taxi Competition Cited in Fare Hike Plea

Stay-at-homes who prefer to watch TV and taxi-cab firms which are making it cheaper to travel by cab than by bus were two of the reasons cited by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co., in its appeal for a fare hike.

The transit firm has asked the State Public Utilities Commission to hike its basic fare from 20 to 25 cents. It likewise proposes that it be permitted to sell four tokens for 90 cents which would make the rate 22½ cents per fare.

The M. & B. serves Newton, Newton Corner, Waltham, Watertown and such towns as Concord, Lexington, Billerica and Hopkinton.

President John H. Walsh declared that back in 1948 the transit firm was carrying 22 million riders a year. Last year the passenger load was cut more than half from that peak figure. Only 10 million riders were carried in '57, he complained.

The reduced passenger load he traced to the automobile—he cited an increase in Massachusetts motor vehicle registrations from 944,000 to 1,474,000 in a ten-year period—and to the increased interest in TV.

"Not to mention," he continued, "the development of the car pool... and the rapid expansion of taxi-cab service with multiple-carry at single-unit rates.."

Walsh figured the fare hike, if granted would increase the company's gross revenue by $165,000.

He said he believed most of the passengers would use tokens in their travel, rather than pay 25 cents per ride.

Among the other financial headaches he cited was the increase in the cost of materials, fuels and labor.

Labor costs alone, according to Walsh, will be $75,000 higher this year than a year ago.

Annual Exhibit of Paintings by Art Assn. on March 6

The eighth annual exhibit of paintings by members of the Newton Art Association opened on February 24 at the R. H. Stearns Co., Chestnut Hill store, and will close on March 6.

Mrs. George W. Palmer III, chairman of exhibitions, has presented to the public an outstanding show of 79 paintings in oil, water color and pastel of New England land and seascapes and still life.

A few of the outstanding pictures are Winter in the Berkshires by James K. Bonnar, Autumn in San Antonio Canyon by Mrs. Dorothy Britt, Mary's Doll by Mrs. Nancy P. Hicks, Market Day at Taxco, Mexico, by Mrs. Marion H. Miller, Pears and the Plant by Mrs. Helen Ritchie Hegnauer, and Forsythia by Mrs. Grace Stone.

At the February 20 meeting of the Newton Art Association, Miss Helen Cleaves, former Director of Art for the City of Boston, very interestingly presented a lecture and demonstration on the science in art.

Mr. Roy Randall, chairman of the exhibits in the local banks will present during March a very fine selection of paintings many of which will be exhibited in summer galleries during next July and August.

Nonantum's New Library Opened

The new $150,000 Nonantum Library was dedicated with the heads of various Nonantum organizations serving as hosts and hostesses.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., presided at the exercises. The Rev. George E. Hartigan gave the invocation and James P. Gallagher, a member of the library trustee board welcomed the gathering.

The list of gifts and contributions were read by Librarian Harold A. Wooster. The Rev. J. Donald Johnson gave the benediction.

Gilbert Merrill Will Entertain

Gilbert Merrill of the Science Museum, Boston, will entertain the the children of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children Monday, March 3, at 2:30 p.m. at a party sponsored by the Newell Club.

Each year Mr. Merrill pleases the children with stories about the live animals he brings from the Museum.

The trees are naked and we are still sloshing around in dirty snow . . . but "Mr. Sun" is getting real warm and friendly and it is time to tear another page from the calendar . . . Speaking of calendars, I saw a very interesting comparison made of two pictures from the TWA calendar . . . The folks from the Sumner Frame Shop used two beautiful scenes to demonstrate the amazing difference in ordinary glass and the new . . . non-glare . . . glass . . . Honestly, you wouldn't believe it unless you saw it yourself . . . There are no annoying reflections to distract you, and the colors seem to come alive with warm and rich tones . . . You really should see this display for yourself . . . at the Sumner Frame Shop, opposite the Newton Centre Post Office.

Allets Gift Shop is boasting of some beautiful oil paintings this week . . . See the well known coast line masterpieces by Lowry in the window display, and be sure to notice the miniatures . . . They make a wonderful collection item . . . You can almost smell the salt air and feel the ocean spray as it dashes against the rocks . . . They would make an ideal gift for any occasion.

Dropping in at Clapper's will really put you into the mood . . . It is like stepping into spring for a brief moment . . . The counters have garden magazines on display and the racks are filled with bright colored packets of seeds . . . Everything for your flower and vegetable garden . . . Oh, I must tell you about the "fire red" Amarylis Bulb that is blooming at the Shop . . . It must have at least eight blossoms that are breath-taking . . .

Walking through the Edward Store in West Newton, I came upon a counter that was as pretty as a summer flower garden . . . The artificial flowers are in bloom, and they are lovelier than ever . . . Try pinning a nosegay to your dress or hat . . . You will feel so gay and lighthearted, you will be sure that spring is coming . . . The colors are particularly beautiful this year . . . and . . . luscious pink . . . is in the limelight . . . Buy yourself a little bunch of Spring flowers.

2 Newton Girls Placed On Wheaton Honor Roll

Wendy Fox of 31 Lancaster rd., Newton, and Judith Arnold of 20 Kewadin rd., Waban, have been named to the freshman roll at Wheaton College because of their scholastic accomplishments during the first semester of the academic year.

Wendy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Fox, and Judith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berel A. Arnold.

Tax Rate Jump-

tions of his department heads, and the proposed expenditures reportedly are in for still another trimming from the Aldermen.

In its exchange of checks with the State government, Newton this year will have to pay $360,000 more than it did last year.

That is equivalent to about $1.25 in the tax rate and will be just about offset by the fact that the valuation of taxable property in the city this year will be approximately $7 million greater than in 1957.

One of the factors responsible for boosting the amount Newton must pay the State, incidentally, was that the city's share of the MTA deficit was boosted about $31,000, rising from $65,000 to $96,000.

Standing out among the reasons for the tax rate headaches confronting the Mayor and the Aldermen is the steady climb in school expenditures.

The school budget is up 14.1 per cent over what was spent last year for school purposes, while the municipal budget has risen 8.7 per cent over 1957 expenditures, $200,000 of the increase resulting from salary adjustments.

Technically, Mayor Whitmore and the Board of Aldermen have no authority to curb school expenditures other than for capital improvements.

While Newton is acknowledged to have one of the best public school systems of any community in Massachusetts, it also is believed to be among the most expensive in per pupil costs.

Mayor Whitmore is not yet ready to concede that a tax rate hike of $5 or $6 is inevitable in Newton this year and is still seeking the means of preventing a jump of that amount in the rate.

A few factors which will play a part in determining the exact tax rate figure also have not yet been determined. One of them is the amount of revenue the city will receive in automobile excise taxes.

If the excise taxes paid by car-owners increase appreciably over last year, that will help in holding down the city's tax rate.

However, the figures and factors which are already known definitely threaten Newton with a $5 or $6 tax rate rise.

Municipal officials concede that is a distinct possibility but express the hope that they will me able to keep the rate below the $55 or $54 mark before they complete their work on all the factors which go to make up the rate.

Festival of Purim to Be Held Wed. at Temple Emanuel

The Festival of Purim will be celebrated at the Temple Emanuel at 7 o'clock next Wednesday night, with services conducted simultaneously in the Temple Sanctuary and in the Community Hall.

In the Temple the service will be conducted by Dr. Albert I. Gordan and Cantor Hochberg; in the Community Hall by Dr. Martin Goldstein, assisted by the teachers.

Students of the Beth through Vov classes, their parents and other worshippers will meet in th Temple. Students of the Aleph classes and the Sunday School department and their parents will meet in the Community Hall.

Students of the Dalet classes will read the Megillah at both Services. In the Temple the readers will be:

David Sandler, Don Kaplan, Nancy Weiner, Judy Cohen, Neal Shapiro, Mitchell Glassman, Jody Rosenberg, Linda Klein, Martin Gilman, Nancy Postar, Dana Freedman, Susan Books, Richard Sorota, Carolyn Sadow and Sandy Blank.

The readers in the Community Hall will be:

Sidney Rosen, Robert Goldman, Andrea Sherman, Betty Miller, Glenn Garber, Larry Reisman, Paula Jacobson, Linda Litvin, Mark Botzin, Carol Brecher, Steven Brecher, Beverly Cogan, Betsy Saltzer, Danny Brass and Trudy Shore.

In the Community Hall, the Maariv Services will be conducted by:

Susan Berkowitz, Penny Garfinkle, Steven Helman, Judith Hindman, Amy Jacobson, Mark Kane, Steven Katz, Eleanor Klein, Barbara Resnick, Sheryl Ross, Joan Schwartz, Zella Silverman, Laura Stone and Kenneth Werner.

One hundred and seventy students of the Aleph classes will celebrate the completion of their study of the Aleph primer with a cermony which will take place on Sunday, March 9, at 11 a.m. in the Temple sanctuary. The program will be designed to demonstrate the nature of the instruction in the Aleph classes and will include narration, Hebrew conversation, prayers and other forms of study.

The Aleph Teachers are: Mrs. Benjamin Boyer, Mrs. Marvin Cohen, Mrs. Isador Fischer, Miss Tamar Katz and Miss Shirley Weiner.

Awards Presented At Cub Pack 73 Blue-Gold Dinner

Cubs, den mothers and fathers turned out in force recently for the annual Fathers and Sons Blue and Gold Banquet of Cub Pack 73 in Newton.

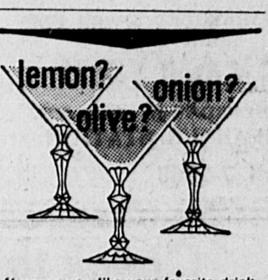

The program, under the direction of chairman Leslie Sweetnam, opened with the salute to the flag, following which Dr. Ross Cannon gave the invocation. Pack committee chairman Dr. John Worcester, pinch hitting for Cubmaster Milton Goldberg who is still recovering from an accident, presented the head table guests.

They included Miss Ann Caldwell, principal of the Peirce School, Scoutmaster Kenneth Anderson, Asst. Scoutmaster Gordon Garrow and District Commissioner William Mark. Mr. Mark spoke mainly to the fathers, urging upon them the importance of taking an active part in scouting with their sons. He then presented to Dr. Worcester the Pack 73 Charter for 1958.

Awards Chairman Rodney MacPhie then presented rank badges and arrows to the following Cubs:

George Nee, Paul Kaitz, Marcombe Brown, William Price, John Conant, Howard Hayes, Peter Wheelock, Kevin Hines, Ronald Mertons, Gene Abelson, Mark Levinson, Steven Pearlmutter, Steven Paul, Tommy Powers, and Danny McCartin.

Golden Text To Keynote Scientist Services Sunday

The meaning today of Christ Jesus' healing mission will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" is the Golden Text from John (18:37): "To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (131:26-29): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood."

The following will be included in the Scriptural readings (Matthew 4:24): "And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them."

Honored for College Work

Joyce Spencer, a senior at Connecticut College for Women and formerly of 84 Walker St., Newtonville, was recently awarded a year's membership in the American Chemical Society, and a year's subscription to the society's journal, for outstanding work in chemistry. The ceremonies were held in Springfield.

Q. If a mother plays a musical instrument or sings before her child is born will it help to make the youngster musical?
A. No, you can't give music lessons to an unborn child.
Q. Are some children just born stealers?
A. No. To the average youngster the easiest way to get something is to take it. Any other process seems to him a lot of nonsense. He just picks it up and walks away. Children must be taught to respect the property rights of others. Get the idea across by explanations and rewards for good behavior. Continued misbehavior may be a sign of emotional problems that should be dealt with promptly.

Wants Cheaper Cars

Editor
Newton Graphic

American auto manufacturers are wailing about low sales. The reason is obvious, but why don't they do something about it. Lowering prices $100 or so is not going to stimulate sales.

The average American today does not want a big $5000 car that gets 10 miles on a gallon of gasoline. At that price one can make a very substantial payment on a new home.

America is changing; the people are becoming more practical minded. That is why sales on foreign autos are increasing so sharply. Perhaps if American car manufacturers put their heads together and built a smaller, inexpensive, economical automobile, sales would increase considerably.

Newton's Dog Problem

Editor,
Newton Graphic.

I feel compelled to add my one small voice to the dog controversy now raging. The bone of contention seems to be their activity on the school grounds. What I consider a far more important and serious issue is their destructiveness and nuisance value on the home front.

We have never before lived in a community where dogs are permitted the complete freedom they now enjoy in this thickly populated city. They roam Newton in packs, often as many as 4 to 6 in a pack; scatter trash and garbage daily; trample down flower beds; engage in snarling, and frequently disturb small children playing in their own back yards. In the summertime, we eat most of our meals on our outdoor terrace. We are constantly harassed by dogs begging for handouts, or snatching food from the table whenever the opportunity presents itself.

We love animals, and have owned many doge and cats of our own, with never a serious mishap. Yet, within the past year, I have had the sad task of rescuing two of our cats, mangled and dying, from neighborhood dogs; the first was killed by a dog who had, known to his owner, killed other pets, and was still permitted to wander freely; the second was killed by six enraged and snapping dags, while my three year old daughter stood inches away, in imminent danger of being drawn into the melee.

It is not necessary to tolerate these conditions in deference to the few who are more interested in the dogs' rights. There is no need for the innocent to suffer through the indifference of existing city laws to the rights of all of us, who like dogs, but in their own place, their owners' yards. There is nothing in the Bible that says, "The dogs shall inherit the earth."

Mrs. Thomas S. Williams

Against Leash Law

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

The following letter was sent to the Board of Aldermen.

It has come to my attention that a leash law for the City of Newton is under consideration.

Please note for the record and for all those in favor of such an ordinance the reasons for my strong objection:

1. Rather than penalize all dog owners is it not logical to punish those owners whose dogs are abusive.

2. If a dog is annoying to others after following its child owner to school would it not be proper to have the teacher instruct that pupil to leave the classroom or playground to take the dog home. I'm sure the parents would soon restrict their dog from following their children to school or going to the school grounds. The dogs of people who do not have children in school could be picked up and the charge for same levied on the owner.

3. We have adequate laws today and certainly enough of them both civil and criminal to cope with nuisances, disturbance of the peace, and any damage or injury that may be done.

4. Dogs are a domestic animal and to leash them would be to jail them which I'm sure was not God's intent in putting them on this earth.

5. People who no not own dogs should not be allowed to participate in this question as they cannot appreciate the feelings of owners whose dog is a member of the family.

6. Such an ordinance would be discriminatory and would certainly serve as a basis for other discriminatory laws.

7. Dogs besides being pets have many other uses and wouldn't it be ironical to learn that a child was attacked or a house burned or burglarized while the faithful dog stood by helplessly chained or leashed.

8. Do not punish the dog for being a dog, but reprimand by inconveniencing and punishing the guilty ones who allow their dogs by improper training and care to be annoying to others.

9. Cruelty to dogs or any other species cannot be condoned by lack of annoyance to a few.

10. There are certainly many more personel and individual reasons that could be noted along with other measures such as restricting certain areas, restrictive times, classes of dogs, size of dogs, other animals, even restrictions to certain categories of children, but I'm sure these by-products of the matter will be fairly considered.

Lastly, we have long boasted of being a freedom loving country; lets not go backwards and start with the dogs.

Very sincerely,
Leonard Fisher

Winter Perils

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

After reading the news story in regards to children I could not help thinking how dangerous it is to have our children (and adults also!) walk on the streets during winter when snow and ice are on the roads.

It is time main roads are cleared but sidewalks are not on the side streets. Children walking are in danger of cars skidding and hitting them. It should be made compulsory that some sort of a path be shoveled on all streets within 24 hours after a storm.

The condition of sidewalks over by the Underwood School was a disgrace after the first big snow storm.

After all, we don't want to ride all the time and some have to walk.

Now referring to dogs, I do think a person having animals or children should take care of them at all times and see that they do not molest others that do not want them in their yards or dogs around their children.

Mrs. C. E. Hilton

For Sensible Dog Law

Editor
Newton Graphic
Dear Sirs:

As a dog owner for thirty years, I hope some sensible law for the restraint of dogs is passed in the city of Newton.

Most dogs near here which are not under restraint have been killed or maimed by turnpike traffic. Dogs, unless well trained run many miles from their homes. Then too often we hear the screech of brakes, see the pile up of autos and a terrified pup is struck, to die in the gutter or streak for home, howling.

Others will plead for the safety of small children or the preservations of gardens. I ask that anyone who has the privilege of owning a dog, take the responsibility of keeping it healthy and alive in modern traffic which means either good dog training or some kind of restraint.

Sincerely yours,
Margaret Vignoles

Speaks For Dogs

Editor
Newton Graphic
Dear Sir,

I am a twelve year old schoolboy who is undertaking to speak for all the dogs of Newton. Suppose you were put in the place of a dog for a day or two. You might be out for a walk on some hot summer day and someone might start to tease you. Naturally you would want to bite him! So you did bite him, not very hard, but just enough so that he would stop bothering you. Two seconds later you would be proclaimed a "Mad Dog" and be lucky to escape with your life. On top of all that, your master and mistress would most likely be sued for a great deal of money. In almost every case it is the humans fault if a dog biting incident occurs. If everyone would go by the one rule, stay away from all dogs unless you know they are friendly, there would be no sense in worrying the slightest bit about any dogs biting anyone.

Sincerely,
The Dogs of Newton

Thanks Graphic

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association wishes to take this opportunity to thank The Newton Graphic for its assistance in the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale.

The year round program of Health Education, Case Finding, Rehabilitation and Medical Research are financed solely through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Your assistance in our continued effort to bring this appeal to the general public will help make it possible for us to carry on our program.

We, at this time, wish to say that the historical data obtained regarding the "Newton Federation of Women's Club TB Seal" issued in 1909 was used in our 1957 Christmas Seal letter.

From the Graphic — December 3, 1909 — The Christmas Stamps issued by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the continuance of Tuberculosis work . . . They are very attractive in design with a wreath enclosing a double cross and bear the words 'Newton Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.' They are presented in three colors, red, green, and gilt. Their use is not confined to members of the Federation, but for everyone interested in the object they represent. Let every foman support this endeavor" . . . .

We are very grateful to The Graphic that we were able to secure the history of the Seal issued in 1909 and again express our thanks for the Graphic's interest in the fight against TB since the early 1900's and the continued coverage of the Association's activities.

We wish you a very successful 1958.

Very sincerely yours,
Ethel M. Kempf

Auto Accidents-

Police said that Feingold was driving west on Ward street and that Helen Primavera was driving north on Centre street when the accident occurred. The Feingold car struck a utility pole after the collision.

Twin sisters, Ina and Mascia Pearlman of 26 Ivanhoe street, Newton, were injured when their automobile skidded into a tree on Commonwealth avenue in Chestnut Hill.

Ina, who was driving at the time, was hurt on the arm. Her sister suffered leg injuries. Their mother, Mrs. Huma S. Pearlman, who was riding with them at the time, was injured on both the side and the legs.

Two persons were hurt in another accident at North street and Albemarle road. They were Francis A. Proia of 6 Emmons street, West Newton, operator of one of the automobiles, and Domenick Proia Jr. of 25 Joseph road, Newtonville, who was riding with him.

The car driven by Francis Proia was in a collision at North street and Albemarle road, Newtonville, with a machine operated by George H. Hayes Jr. of 27 North Gate park, West Newton.

The Marine Corps insignia, substantially the same as that now in use, was adapted in 1868.

Music Club Of High School In Student Concert

The Newton High School Music Club, at its fourth meeting on Thursday, February 20, presented a student concert in the high school music hall. John Kattwinkel, president, opened the meeting and, after the reports of secretary Joan Lewis and treasurer Carol Bean, turned it over to Mr. Henry Lasker, faculty adviser of the Music Club.

Mr. Lasker introduced Mr. George Doren, conductor of the Newton High School Concert Band, first on the afternoon's program. The Concert Band performed Prokofieff's "Troika," Rossini's "Overture to Semiramide," and Handel's "Song of Jupiter," the latter featuring Carole Berberian as trumpet soloist. Following the Concert Band, there was a change of mood as Nancy DiBenedetto, accompanied by Nancy Lurham at the piano, sang the popular song "April Love." Next on the program was Martha Bilezikian, pianist, who performed Debussy's "General Lavine Eccentric."

A vocal quartet, the Newtones, consisting of John Kattwinkel, Paul Atkinson, John Brockman, and Jim Burdick, and accompanied by Jean Winer, sang "Standing on the Corner," from Frank Loesser's Broadway show "The Most Happy Fella," and concluded with Duke Ellington's famous "Mood Indigo."

A high spot on the program was the performance of Larry Yeo, a clarinetist, who played Jeanjean's "Arabesques," accompanied by pianist Joan Lewis. Karen Franseen followed with a piano rendition of Lecuona's "Malaguena." Miss Franseen remained to accompany Carol Bean, who sang "Habanera" from Bizet's "Carmen."

Mr. George Doren returned to direct the Newton High School Dance Band in the final spot on the program. The Dance Band performed the popular tunes "Love Letters in the Sand," "Lullaby of Birdland," and "Shorty's Horn," the latter featuring Charles Stewart as trumpet soloist.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Music Club will be held on March 27.

Marty Beckwith Rates An Assist In Great Jump

John Thomas, 16-year-old phenomenon from Ringe Tech just about stole the show at the 24th annual A.A.U. Interscholastic Championship at New York's Madison Square Garden, with his high jump of 6 feet, 7⅝ inches.

The astounding leap set a world indoor scholastic high jump record but Newton High School had a chance to do some cheering when that event was being decided. Second only to the incomparable Ringe boy was Newton's Martin Beckwith. In a way Martin helped Thomas to create the new mark by staying in the competition right up to the six-foot-five mark.

At the end of the two legs in the two-mile relay at the big AAU meet Newton High and Watertown teams were out in front. They faded, however, as Roman Catholic High of Philadelphia roared to a tremendous win. Watertown finally finished in fourth place. Newton wound up eighth.

Honored at Brown

Stephen Murray Seltzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seltzer of 990 Centre St., Newton Centre, has been elected Treasurer of Bronson House at Brown University. A graduate of Newton High School, he is a member of the sophomore class and is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Talented Newton Pair At Capitol

Dushan Mitrovich and Reinier Beeuwkes, Newton High School students who were among the winners of the annual Science Talent Search, are in Washington, D. C., attending a five-day Westinghouse Science Institute that will include talks by outstanding scientists, exhibits of winners' projects, and visits to points of historic interest.

The pair are among 40 winners who will strive for $34,250 in scholarships to be awarded at a banquet on the final evening of the Institute, March 3, at which Dr. James R. Killian Jr., special assistant to the President for science and technology, will be the major speaker.

Winter Weather Cancels Meeting

Due to the severe cold spell, the Feb. 18 meeting of the Naval Surburbanites of Boston No. 132 was cancelled.

Captain Ralph Brooks, MC., who was to address the group on the Dependents Medical Care Bill, will do so at a later date.

The next business meeting of the group will take place at the Recreation Hall, Building 42, Fargo Building, Summer Street, Boston, on Tuesday, March 4.

Following the meeting, the group will visit the Navy Relief Thrift Shop at the Fargo Building. This will be for the benefit of the new members who have never visited the thrift shop.

Wives of active or retired members of the Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard are invited to join the Naval Surburbanites. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Marie Dorca at DEcatur 2-1958.

Attention Kiddie Kampers - You're Invited to Join!

Boys who have attended any of the Kiddie Kamps sponsored by the Knights of Pythias in past years are invited to join an Alumni Association being formed for ex-campers and ex-councillors. The Association is seeking the names and addresses of any former camper or councillor from this area who might be interested.

This is the 20th year of the Kiddie Kamps. The first years saw them located in Plymouth. They have been in Sharon since 1945. If you have been a camper or a councillor get in touch with Ken Kandler, c/o Kiddie Kamp, Office, 294 Washington street, Boston.

PETITION FOR DISSOLUTION OF RICHARD E. RICE CO., INC. UNDER GENERAL LAWS, (TER. ED.), CHAPTER 155, SECTION 50, BY A MAJORITY OF ITS STOCKHOLDERS.

ALLEGATIONS

1. Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. is a business corporation organized on January 4, 1954, under and by virtue of Chapter 156 (Ter. Ed.) of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

2. The capital stock of said corporation is divided into one hundred (100) Common shares of no par value.

3. That on the first day of February 1958 Richard E. Rice, President, Richard E. Parmenter, Treasurer, and Charles King, Clerk, were present at a meeting of all of the stock holders of the corporation, duly held at 425 Waltham Street, Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, at which meeting all waived notice in writing; and it was duly moved and seconded and VOTED: "That Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. be dissolved as of December 31, 1957, as moved and seconded and voted by all of its stockholders because all of said stockholders of said corporation and all of said officers of said corporation desire to withdraw from the fields of the business of this corporation as traders and dealers in glassware, china, household furnishings and as wholesalers, retailers, exporters, importers of such merchandise and as manufacturers sales agent under said corporate name."

4. That on the said first day of February, 1958 at said meeting, it was further moved, seconded and voted by all the said stockholders that

VOTED: "We, as all the stockholders of Richard E. Rice Co., Inc. hereby authorize that a petition to dissolve said corporation be filed to request the Superior Court of Massachusetts to dissolve the corporation under the provisions of General Laws (Tercentenary Edition) Chapter 155, Section 50."

5. That Richard E. Rice of 425 Waltham Street, West Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and Richard E. Parmenter of 284 Concord Street, Framingham, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and Charles King of 19 Brae Burn Road, East Milton, Norfolk County, Massachusetts, hereby join and assent to this petition in their full capacities as being a majority of and all of the holders of the Common stock of the corporation and as President, Treasurer and Clerk respectively of the said corporation.

6. Petitioners state that said corporation has paid all its debts and has no liabilities and that it has no assets.

WHEREFORE, they for themselves as owners of all the Common stock and as said officers pray:

1. That a decree be entered dissolving said corporation in accordance with the provisions of General Laws, (Tercentenary Edition) Chapter 155, Section 50.
2. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem meet, just and proper.

Does Your Son Own A BB Rifle? Better Take It Away

Fernando Torte of Woodrow ave., Newton, recently added his name to complainants who've found their automobiles made targets of BB shots.

The windshield of his car was struck as he drove along Watertown street, near Eliot avenue, West Newton.

Previously police had received reports from three motorists whose cars were damaged in the Walnut street, Newton Highlands area.

Police officials indicated that parents of minors who own or have access to BB rifles might be saving themselves some unpleasantries by confiscating the weapons.

They point to recent laws which make it illegal to make gifts of firearms to under-agers.

On Dean's List

Miss Martha Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Willis, 19 Francis Street, is been named to the Dean's List for scholastic excellence at Mount Ida. Miss Willis is taking a two-year course to prepare stewardess.

Dr. Warren Honored

Dr. Shields Warren of Newton was honored by friends and associates from the Atomic Energy Commission, the armed forces, the medical profession, Boston University and business circles on the occasion of his 60th birthday last night (Wednesday) at Hotel Statler.

Principal speaker was Admiral Lewis Strauss, chairman of the AEC. Chairman of the dinner committee was Michael T. Kelliher. He was assisted by Dr. Charles C. Lund, Dr. Sidney Farber, Ralph Lowell, and Dr. John W. Spellman.

Primary purpose of the dinner was to raise funds to endow a "Shields Warren Professorship" at Boston University, of which the world-famous pathologist and radiation expert is an alumnus.

Miss Susan Lee Ziman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ziman of 110 Mandalay road, Newton Centre, is a member of the Bryn Mawr College chorus which recently joined with choral groups of Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges for a concert on the Swarthmore campus.

Newton Add Scouts

Dr. Worcester then presented Richard Kleber of the Museum of Science who with his lecture "A Giant Step Into Space" and several working models fascinated Cubs and dads alike. A reading in unison by all assembled of a Scouting Pledge brought the evening to a close.

Achieve Dean's List At Pembroke College

To the long list of Newton young men and women who are establishing fine collegiate records for themeselves these days the names of Abbe B. Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Robinson of 61 Prentice road, Newton Centre, and Sheilamae Sandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sandler of 170 Country Club road, Newton Centre, must be added. They were on the dean's list at Pembroke College at the end of the first semester.

Congregational Women Meet Next Wednesday

The regular meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church in Newtonville will be held next Wednesday. Sewing and surgical dressing groups will meet at 10 a.m.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30, and will be prepared by Mrs. H. C. Ranbenheimer and her committee. The dining room will be under the direction of Mrs. B. R. Andrews, Jr., and Miss Helen Cotton will decorate the tables.

Following the luncheon, there will be a dedication of the "Second Mile" gift with Mrs. Theodore Clark acting as leader. The speaker of the day, John Fairfield, will speak on "Living in Japan." Mr. Fairfield is on furlough from Japan, where he is treasurer of the Japan Mission, and is living with his family at the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale while studying at Harvard.

An informal tea and reception at 3:00 has been planned, with Mrs. Austin Decatur acting as hostess.

Newton Highlands Cubs Hold Dinner

Cub Pack 43 of the Hyde School held its Blue and Gold Banquet at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on February 21.

Seated at the head table were Herbert Thurston, Cub chairman, Henry Sollogub, former chairman, Cubmaster Hollis Hunt, Alan Failky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Ward, and Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Fultz.

Den 2 supplied the honor guard and the following new Bobcats were inducted: Larry Marcy, Stephen Gilbert, and Robert Powell.

Sacred Heart Eliminated in 'B' Semi-Final

Sacred Heart of Newton gamely fought off a determined bid by Immaculate of Newburyport to win in its first-round bid for Class B honors in the New England Catholic Basketball Tournament at Lawrence, but the effort was costly. The Newton boys proved unable to match the superior strength of St. Mary's of Waltham in the semi-finals the following day and were eliminated.

Sacred Heart won its opener against the Newburyport team, 71-64. It lost to St. Mary's (W.). 53-35.

After leading at the end of the first half, the Newton team was hard pressed in the third and fourth periods against Immaculate but finally emerged a comfortable winner, mainly on the work of Jim Buckley and Bob Nangle.

St. Mary's of Waltham carried too many guns for the Newton team to match in the semi-finals, and it trailed practically from start to finish.

Newton Youth Is Impressive In Red Sox Rookie Workouts

Even with Norm Zauchin traded to Washington and Billy Goodman due to report to another club for spring training for the first time in his major league career, the Boston Red Sox probably have the longest list of first basemen under their control of any club in organized baseball.

That might serve to discourage a first base candidate for a regular job at Fenway Park. If you know Bill Hamill of Newton, however, you'd realize that he isn't easily disconraged. It's easy to understand that Bill is reported among the most zealous workers at the Red Sox school for young hopefuls at Ocala, Fla.

Frankly, Bill needs a job. He is pretty well convinced that eventually that job will be in the big leagues. He was a sophomore at Holy Cross College a short while back and didn't expect to embark on any professional career until after his degree. Then death struck family twice within a period of a month and Bill who was a better than average ball player at Newton High signed a contract with the Red Sox.

He spent last year with the Red Sox farm team at Corning, N.Y. He hit .315, belted 11 home runs and was something of a Fancy Dan in the field. This year he's expected to move up a few notches in the Red Sox system. He'll go to Memphis, most likely, but there's a chance he'll land with the top Sox farm team at Minneapolis.

The ex-Tiger star has a lot of baseball promise, according to such judges as Bobby Doerr and Coach Jack Burns.

"I remember that kid here last spring," said Burns at Ocala. 'He was really green. I can't get over how much he's improved in a year. I can still see he's making a few mistakes in the field, but those are something I can help him straighten out in five minutes.

"One thing I like about him is the way he can rip that ball. He stepped into that batting cage the first time he showed up this year and started banging the ball all over the lot. He looks to me like a real fine hitter," declared Burns.

Toastmistress Club Speech Contest 25th

The annual speech contest of the Toastmistress Club will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., in the Civic Room of the NEA Building, Newton Highlands. Winner of the evening will compete in the area contest scheduled to be held in March.

Newton High Rifle Team Will Compete

Newton High School will enter teams in the Invitation High School Rifle Matches sponsored by Boston University, March 29, at the B. U. rifle range, 320 Bay State rd., Boston.

Nine Massachusetts high schools and one from Rhode Island have accepted invitations. The winning team will receive a trophy with medals going to the individual team members. High individual scorers will also be awarded medals.

Highlands Girl Norwich Queen

Miss Andrea Wragg, a blue-eyed blonde and a junior at Newton High School, was chosen from a field of 400 pretty aspirants to be the reigning queen of the winter carnival at Norwich University over the last weekend. Her escort was Norwich student, Reuel J. Smith of Needham.

The Newton Highlands girl received her crown at one of the climatic moments of the Vermont university's big carnival from Major General Ernest J. Harmon, president of Norwich.

out. They were a good phase but they are on their way out. They are passe. We're very foolish if we wait. We can't block progress. We need the road. L t's get on with it. But let's build a freeway."

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton said that he does not beleive the Turnpike Authority will be able to finance an extension into Boston. Toll road revenue, said Rawson, is 66 per cent off estimates thus far in the East-West operation.

Richard W. Hoover of Lexington told the committee that he had received a letter from the Federal Bureau of Roads declaring this is a federal aid route and that the project is eligible for aid. He said that the money could be immediately available under the matching fund plan.

"This is getting to be like the Common Garage," said Robert W. Kretschmar of the American Automobile Association. "Each year some one is granted the exclusive right to build and each year nothing happens."

Kretschmar protested against what he termed the "monopoly" granted the Turnpike Authority to build the extension. "Let the agency that can best do the job do it," he urged.

President Dwight Coburn of the Newton Chamber of Commerce told the committee that the road "has to go through Newton but he declared the "adamant feeling" that it will have to go down the railroad tracks "does not make sense."

Coburn said that the road blocks were being put in by East-West Toll Authority Chairman Callahan by not putting in the road. "The so-called master plan could be developed and give Newton some more industrial areas," he said.

A tollroad extension, Colburn said, would give Newton tremendous protection problems Among them would be the relation of fire stations. Route 20, he said, is still carrying trucking.

"We know we've got to have the road in Newton," he said, "but if we can get it on the Northside it will be a tremendous relief.

Richard Ely, general counsel for the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, quoted an article from a technical magazine which said that in 1959 Massachusetts will receive $40,476,000 from the federal government for road building; in 1960, $44,560,000, and in 1961, $83,420,000.

He estimated the cost of the limited access highway from Weston to Boston at from $125 million to $175 million no matter who builds it. That, he said would take the entire three years of federal funds allocated, with the result that other State road programs would have to be abandoned.

Ely expressed the belief the East-West Authority can raise the money before it can be appropriated or allocated from federal funds.
